USDC – SDNY Case No. 08-2804

Dear Sir or Madam:

On behalf of our client, Aaron Howard, participant in The Bear Stearns Companies, Inc. Employee Stock Ownership Plan and The Bear Stearns Companies Inc. Cash or Deferred Compensation Plan (collectively, the "Plans"), I am requesting copies of the following documents regarding each of the Plans: the most recent master Plan Document, Summary Plan Descriptions, Summaries of Material Modification created since the Plans most recent operative versions became effective; IRS/DOL Form 5500s and SEC Form 11(k)s during the same time period; annual reports; and any other bargaining agreement, trust agreement, contract or other instrument under which the Plans and/or any related defined contribution plan are established or operated. See ERISA § 104(b)(4). Additionally, this request includes any contract or instrument describing the composition and/or role of any person(s) charged with administering the Plans, including, but not limited to The Compensation, Management, Development and Successor Committee, The Investment Committee, The Administrative Committee (collectively the "Committees"), and any entity or committee of The Bear Stearns Companies Inc. ("Bear Stearns") with oversight/appointment authority over the Committees, including any of the above named Committees or the Board of Directors of Bear Stearns.

As you are aware, our client is entitled to these documents under ERISA § 104(b)(4). Please send the requested documents and any invoice for copying charges to me at the above address within thirty (30) days of receipt of this letter.

Re: Howard, et al. v. The Bear Stearns Companies Inc., et al.,

Dear Sir or Madam:

As you may be aware, on December 1, 2006, an amended version of Fed. R. Civ. P. 26 went into effect. The new rules make it clear that potentially all electronically stored data is discoverable. This includes relevant e-mails sent or received by any employee, other information stored on servers, or information stored on backup tapes or other media that are capable of restoration, even if the information was deleted at some prior time.

In light of JP Morgan Chase & Co.'s pending acquisition of The Bear Stearns Companies, Inc. ("Bear Stearns"), Plaintiff in the above-captioned matter formally requests that, during the pendency of this litigation, JP Morgan Chase & Co., as well as their respective officers, agents, employees or other third party custodians (together, "JP Morgan"), will preserve all accessible or inaccessible information, documents, as defined in Fed. R. Civ. P. 34(a), and other tangible objects in their custody or control which are potentially relevant to this matter (together, "documents"). See generally Quinby v. WestLB AG, 245 F.R.D. 94, 103 (S.D.N.Y. 2006) (citing Zubulake v. UBS Warburg LLC, 229 F.R.D. 422, 432 (S.D.N.Y. 2004)).

Plaintiff requests, inter alia, that JP Morgan retain all relevant documents regarding JP Morgan's evaluation, negotiation and communication (internal and external -- including communication with Bear Stearns, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and the U.S. Treasury Department) concerning JP Morgan's acquisition of Bear Stearns. For the purposes of Plaintiff's request, "communication" includes, in addition to any written "hard copy" document, any electronic utterance, notation, or statement of any nature whatsoever, draft or final, potential or actual, by and to whomever made or attempted to be made, including, but not limited to, correspondence, memoranda, conversations, dialogues, discussions, interviews, consultations, agreements, messages (including electronic-mail, text messages, instant messages, Company intranet, electronic bulletin board or internet site posting) and other understandings between two or more persons.

All documents should be maintained in their original tangible or electronic formats, including native file formats and associated metadata, without alteration, transfer or destruction. Specifically, Plaintiff requests that all routine destruction of electronically stored information ("ESI"), including but not limited to periodic purges of e-mail or e-mail accounts and destruction or overwriting of back-up data, cease during the pendency of this litigation or until all documents, including native file formats and associated metadata, can be copied and preserved as a complete and forensically verified copy of the files on CD/DVD-ROM, external hard drive, or other sustainable media. If potentially relevant ESI or other documents are currently held or managed by a third party on behalf of JP Morgan, the third party shall be instructed to maintain and preserve that data in accordance with this request. Third parties include, but are not limited to: Outside Counsel, Accountants, Data/Application Service or Storage Providers, Consultants, and Contractors.

Documents that should be maintained in an electronic format, as described above, include but are not limited to the following:

1. Writings created using word-processing applications, such as Microsoft Word, Word Perfect, Adobe Acrobat, or other proprietary or open-source applications;

Re: Howard v. The Bear Stearns Companies Inc., et al.,
No. 08-2804 (S.D. N.Y.)

Dear Sir or Madam:

As you are aware, at least two class action complaints have been filed by shareholders of The Bear Stearns Companies Inc. ("Bear Stearns") challenging the proposed purchase of Bear Stearns by JP Morgan Chase & Co. ("JP Morgan").¹ As you know, these types of actions tend to move at a significantly faster pace, for obvious reasons, than litigation such as the above-captioned action. Plaintiff, on behalf of himself, The Bear Stearns Companies Inc. Employee Stock Ownership Plan (the "Plan"), and the proposed class of Plan participants, requests that all documents/communications produced to the plaintiffs in the "acquisition cases" are contemporaneously produced to Plaintiff in the above-referenced matter, as well as copies of any/all expert reports and deposition transcripts.

Legal Department of Bear Stearns

Documents and communications regarding or implicating the acquisition's due diligence, valuation of Bear Stearns and the negotiation of the proposed transaction's terms are undeniably relevant to the instant action – which is premised, at its core, on the imprudent management/investment of Plan assets in Bear Stearns stock through the present. Aside from the undeniable relevance of any documents or communications produced in the acquisition cases to the instant matter, as well as any deposition or expert testimony, Plaintiff is concerned that (1) he and the proposed class not be foreclosed from real time access to information directly affecting the ongoing valuation of Bear Stearns viz a viz the acquisition² and (2) that Bear Stearns' electronic document and/or communication (e.g. electronic mail) destruction/retention procedures do not, inadvertently, eliminate relevant evidence from existence.³ Further, simultaneous production to Plaintiff and plaintiffs in the acquisition case will eliminate duplicative costs regarding search, review and copying of relevant materials at a later date.

Plaintiff is, of course, amenable to suggestions/requests from Bear Stearns regarding the issues raised herein. Please feel free to contact either of us should you wish to discuss these issues in further detail.

Sincerely,

Milo Silberstein

UBS Warburg LLC*, 229 F.R.D. 422 (S.D.N.Y. 2004), defendants must preserve all accessible or inaccessible information and documents, as defined in FED. R. CIV. P. 34(a). Plaintiff reiterates that all relevant electronic documents/communications must be retained and all routine destruction of electronically stored information, e.g. periodic purges of e-mail or e-mail accounts, deletion of intranet/Internet pages and destruction or overwriting of back-up data, should be placed in abeyance during the pendency of this litigation.

Schiffrein Barroway Topaz & Kessler, LLP ("SBTK"), comprised of over sixty attorneys, has specialized in prosecuting complex class action litigation and protecting and recovering assets for twenty years. During this time, SBTK has recovered billions of dollars on behalf of our clients and the classes they represent, and has been a leader in implementing corporate governance reforms designed to protect shareholder rights, improve shareholder value and prevent corporate mismanagement. SBTK has developed a worldwide reputation for excellence, focusing primarily on the prosecution of securities fraud, derivative, transactional and ERISA/401K litigation brought against public companies, their officers and directors, and advisors. In addition, SBTK has represented institutional and individual consumers in antitrust and consumer fraud actions as well as in mass tort and product liability actions.

Since the passage of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, which specifically encouraged large investors, especially institutional investors, to participate as lead plaintiffs in securities class actions, SBTK has actively and successfully represented public and multi-employer pension funds, mutual fund managers, investment advisors, insurance companies, hedge funds and individual investors from around the world in this important role. SBTK currently works with institutional investors from the United States, Canada, United Kingdom, Netherlands, Ireland, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Finland, Germany, Austria, Italy, and France.

OUR BACKGROUND

Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler, headquartered just outside of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, with an office in Walnut Creek, California, specializes in representing shareholders and consumers in complex class action litigation in state and federal courts throughout the United States. Since our inception, SBTK has recovered billions of dollars on behalf of defrauded shareholders and aggrieved consumers. The firm is led by its senior partners, Richard S. Schiffman, Andrew L. Barroway, Marc A. Topaz, and David Kessler, with assistance from partners Stuart L. Berman, Katharine M. Ryan, Gregory M. Castaldo, Michael K. Yarnoff, Joseph H. Meltzer, Darren J. Check, Tobias L. Millrood, Andrew L. Zivitz, Sean M. Handler, John A. Kehoe, Lee D. Rudy, Kay E. Sickles and Eric L. Zagar, and numerous experienced associates and staff.

SBTK focuses on the prosecution of securities fraud actions and derivative and transactional litigation brought against public companies, their officers and directors, and their auditors and investment banking firms. In addition, SBTK represents employees in ERISA/401K actions. Institutional and individual consumers are represented in antitrust and consumer fraud actions as well as mass tort and product liability actions.

Throughout our history, SBTK has represented all types of institutional investors, including public and multi-employer pension funds, mutual fund managers, hedge funds, insurance companies, investment advisors, as well as thousands of individual investors in securities fraud, derivative and transactional class actions. Currently, SBTK is serving as Lead or Co-Lead Counsel in several high profile securities class actions against companies such as Tyco, Tenet Healthcare, Sprint and Delphi. In addition, SBTK has played a prominent role in the following precedent-setting actions:

In re Initial Public Offering Securities Litigation,
(S.D.N.Y. Dec. 12, 2002):

SBTK is one of only six law firms comprising Plaintiffs' Counsel's Executive Committee, and was selected from over sixty law firms which had brought such actions. This litigation challenges the legality of the IPO allocations practices of virtually all of the major investment banking firms from 1998 through 2000, and encompasses over 300 coordinated actions.

In re AremisSoft Corp. Securities Litigation,
C.A. No. 01-CV-2486 (D.N.J. 2002):

SBTK is Lead Counsel in this extraordinarily complex securities fraud class action involving the embezzlement of hundreds of millions of dollars by former officers of the Company who are now fugitives. SBTK is particularly proud of a settlement it helped to craft with the Company. The Settlement allowed for the Company to be reorganized as a new Company so it could continue operations, while establishing a litigation trust to pursue claims against the Company's auditors and its counsel, as well as those individuals who looted the Company. The Settlement further provides the harmed shareholders with a majority of the equity in the new company, as well as their pro rata share of all monies recovered by the litigation trust. The Court-appointed co-trustees of the litigation trust have retained SBTK to continue prosecuting the actions on behalf of the litigation trust. SBTK currently is litigating this action in the Isle of Man, where it has successfully frozen more than $200 million of stolen funds from one of the fugitives, and is working hard to recover this money on behalf of all beneficiaries of the litigation trust. The litigation also is continuing with respect to the remaining fugitive.

MONITORING YOUR PORTFOLIO

Securities Tracker Portfolio Monitoring Program

Institutional fiduciaries are charged with the important responsibility of protecting their investments. This responsibility takes on even greater importance considering today's well-publicized growing trend of corporate fraud and malfeasance.

SBTK offers institutional investors its valuable portfolio monitoring services at no charge. This comprehensive service is intended to allow our clients to more effectively fulfill their fiduciary obligations and efficiently track all class actions in which they have a financial interest.

SBTK requests a five-year history of securities transactions from the client or its custodial bank, preferably in electronic format, and immediately integrates that information into its proprietary database. SBTK then seeks to obtain quarterly updates to transaction information. Of course, SBTK will work with the client and its custodial bank to obtain this information in the easiest and most expeditious manner.

Our Proprietary Tracking System

Working with database experts, SBTK has developed a proprietary monitoring system which has been dubbed "Securities Tracker." This system allows for quick and easy integration of a client's transactions. In addition, Securities Tracker allows for quick access and accurate sorting of a client's transactional history to easily identify a client's potential losses in new cases and to assist in determining if the client has a financial interest in a case in which there is a recovery on behalf of the plaintiff class.

Securities Tracker provides a complete solution to tracking class actions which affect your investments and ensuring the recovery of all settlement monies to which you are entitled.

Benefits to the Client

New Cases: Whenever a new class action is filed and it is determined that a client may have suffered losses in that action, a brief, yet concise report which details the relevant facts, class period, jurisdiction, deadlines, and strengths and weaknesses of the case is provided to the client. In addition, this report contains the estimated losses suffered by the client and damages suffered by the class (when available at this early stage), and a recommendation for how the client should proceed.

Quarterly Reports: SBTK will also issue to its clients for whom it monitors a quarterly report which details the status of each class action in which a client has a financial interest regardless of whether the client is a lead plaintiff. The report further provides updates on all settled cases as well as cases which have been dismissed.

Claims Administration: Institutional investors do not always prepare and file Proof of Claim forms which are required to participate in recoveries. In fact, a recent study determined that only 28% of institutional investors are filing class action claim forms and are thus potentially leaving billions of dollars unclaimed. As a result, many institutions are not maximizing recoveries on behalf of their investors. The most common reason institutions fail to file claims is that the fiduciaries are not aware that a lawsuit was filed or that there was a recovery. Through SBTK's monitoring service, we assist our institutional clients with fulfilling their fiduciary responsibilities by identifying when lawsuits have been filed and resolved. In addition, upon request, SBTK will assist with completing and filing the necessary claim forms.

WHY SHOULD INSTITUTIONS GET INVOLVED?

1. Institutional fiduciaries oversee the financial security of their funds. As such, they must take reasonable steps to monitor all real and potential claims arising from fraud and malfeasance by corporate wrongdoers.
2. Since the passage of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 — which specifically encouraged institutional investors to participate as lead plaintiffs in securities class actions — settlement recoveries have increased dramatically. In fact, a recent study by NERA Economic Consulting revealed that securities class actions with institutional investors as lead plaintiff settled for one-third more than those with individual investors serving as lead plaintiff.
3. Institutions typically are able to negotiate larger settlements while simultaneously lowering legal fee rates, both of which increase recoveries for investors.
4. Institutions frequently bring a certain level of sophistication and experience to each case which often proves to be an asset in developing litigation and trial strategy or negotiating a settlement.
5. Litigation has emerged as an important vehicle available to institutional investors to obtain extensive and significant corporate governance changes, such as:
 - Mandate annually elected Boards controlled by independent directors;
 - Separate Chairman of the Board and CEO offices;
 - Require that at least two-thirds of the Board shall be independent directors;
 - Require immediate public disclosure of all sales or purchases of a company's stock by any corporate officer or director;
 - Establish director term limits;
 - Limit the number of boards a director may sit on;
 - Eliminate "super-voting" classes of stock;
 - Restrict/limit stock options;
 - Rotate outside auditors; and
 - Limit executive compensation.

How Can Institutions Get Involved?

The best way for institutional fiduciaries to protect their investments and to maximize the recovery of lost assets is to actively monitor market developments. Recognizing that this is a time-consuming and expensive process, SBTK offers a monitoring service designed to enable institutions to identify important events in the marketplace and discuss what effect, if any, those events have on their investments. SBTK will discuss the merits of claims filed as well as potential claims, and evaluate all legal rights and options recovery. This service allows institutional investors to efficiently assess all claims and to take any steps necessary to protect assets, without disrupting their business.

There is no cost or obligation for this service and SBTK handles all class actions on a fully contingent basis. SBTK is only paid if the litigation is successful and, win or lose, Pennsylvania law allows for the responsibility for all costs and expenses to rest with us.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

What Is Corporate Governance?

The term "corporate governance" refers to the policies, procedures, systems and structures by which the board of directors of a corporation oversees and manages the activities of the company for the benefit of its shareholders. Corporate governance is the instrument that defines and makes effective the relationship between the directors and managers of a company and the shareholders whom they serve. Thus, corporate governance encompasses such matters as:

- The size, structure, and membership of the board of directors and its committees
- The manner in which directors and committee members are nominated and elected
- The rights and responsibilities of directors and management
- The rights and responsibilities of shareholders
- Policies and procedures relating to accounting, auditing, and financial reporting
- Policies and procedures relating to executive compensation

Why Is Corporate Governance Important to Shareholders?

Strong and effective corporate governance serves as a system of checks and balances that takes account of the interests of shareholders without unduly constraining the functioning of management. Ultimately, the goal of corporate governance is to maximize the long-term value of the corporation for the benefit of its shareholders. Numerous academic studies have demonstrated a strong correlation between corporate governance and company performance, and, in particular, have shown that companies with strong corporate governance produce better long-term returns for shareholders, are more profitable and less volatile, and are less likely to commit fraud or other corporate wrongdoing. Improving a company's corporate governance is one of the most effective means for institutional investors and other long-term shareholders to make their voices heard in the board room, and thereby protect and advance their long-term interests.

What Corporate Governance Principles Are Most Important to Shareholders?

Independence and Autonomy

The foundation for all good corporate governance is a board of directors that is not merely independent on its face, but is also willing and able to act independently of management. This means, among other things, that the vast majority of board members, including the chairperson of the board, should be "outside" directors who have no substantial personal, financial, business, or employment connections with management. Indeed, the surest way to ensure that the board of directors functions in a truly independent fashion is for directors to be nominated by shareholders rather than by management. Simply put, directors nominated and/or selected by shareholders are the only directors who have a real economic incentive to act in the best interests of shareholders rather than the interests of management. Thus, measures that expand shareholders' access to and influence on the director nomination process should be highly sought.

Diligence and Proactivity

The interests of shareholders are best served by directors who not only diligently monitor the conduct of management with appropriate objectivity and skepticism, but who also proactively guide and oversee the activities of the corporation with an eye towards creating and preserving long-term value. Corporate governance measures designed to achieve these goals, such as limiting the number of corporate boards and committees on which directors serve, adopting reforms to strengthen internal and external auditing functions, and planning for succession of key executives and board members, all inure to the benefit of shareholders.

Openness and Accountability

Directors are more likely to fulfill their duty to represent the interests of shareholders when the board functions in an open and accessible manner and shareholders have the means to hold directors accountable if they fail to perform. For example, corporate governance measures that require the Board to disclose the background and rationale for decisions on director nominations, executive compensation, and other matters that affect the interests of shareholders, should be pursued. To hold directors accountable, director and committee-person term limits, annual election of all directors, and other measures are each designed to ensure that directors remain responsive to shareholders.

How Does Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler Assist Shareholders in Improving Corporate Governance?

SBTK advances the corporate governance agenda on behalf of shareholders through both litigation and direct action. As one of the leading firms in the nation representing shareholders in securities class action and shareholder derivative litigation, SBTK believes that litigation can be used not only as a means to recover monetary losses, but also as a vehicle to implement corporate governance reform in appropriate cases.

In addition to its successful litigation practice, SBTK assists shareholders in improving corporate governance through direct action, including bylaw amendments, director nominations, and other means by which shareholders can assert direct and substantial influence on the composition and functioning of boards of directors. SBTK also works closely with leading corporate governance experts, organized labor, and other shareholder advocates to promote public policies that compel or encourage corporations to adopt corporate governance measures that serve the interests of shareholders.

ANNUAL RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF INSTITUTIONAL INVESTORS SEMINAR

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler serves as the exclusive sponsor of the annual Rights and Responsibilities of Institutional Investors seminar. The seminar is presented by Institutional Investor Conferences in Amsterdam, Netherlands, and is dedicated to educating investors about their legal rights and responsibilities with respect to their investments, particularly those investments on U.S. exchanges. This annual meeting provides a forum for leaders in the investment and legal community to explore the role that active ownership and shareholder rights can play in better serving their funds and their beneficiaries.

Each year over 100 senior executives and legal and compliance professionals from public pension plans, mutual fund companies, hedge funds, insurance companies, and other institutional investors and their advisors from around the globe come together to share experiences and learn more about approaches to active ownership and what they can do to protect and enhance their assets. Speakers have included Vice President Al Gore, United States Securities and Exchange Commission Chairman Harvey L. Pitt, as well as representatives from many of the world's largest institutional investors and the academic community.

The seminar is a reflection of SBTK's commitment to not only serving as legal counsel to its clients, but also as an educator on all issues related to shareholder activism and asset protection and recovery. The firm's philosophy is that an educated client not only serves itself better, but under the right circumstances serves the interests of others as well.

PRACTICE AREAS

Securities Class Actions

The federal securities laws were designed to promote honesty and integrity within the securities markets, which depend on full and fair disclosure of all material facts regarding public companies. Only when public companies adhere to this standard will there be a "level playing field" for investors. However, when full and fair disclosure of all material facts is not made, one or more of the public company, its officers and directors, as well as certain of the company's advisors may be in violation of the federal securities laws. In such instances, a securities class action may be initiated by one or more investors on behalf of all investors who are similarly situated, who suffered damages as a result of purchasing the company's securities at artificially inflated prices.

SBTK is currently prosecuting numerous securities class action lawsuits as the court-appointed lead or co-lead counsel in federal courts throughout the country. Several of these cases are against high-profile companies such as Tyco, Tenet Healthcare, Sprint, Delphi, and PNC Bank, to name a few. For a more comprehensive review of the various cases in which SBTK has prosecuted in its twenty-year history, please refer to the "Noteworthy Recoveries" section of this booklet.

Shareholder Derivative Actions

A shareholder derivative action is a lawsuit brought by a shareholder of a public company, on behalf of, and for the benefit of, the company. In essence, the shareholder is bringing an action that the company has a right to and should bring, but it does not, due to the improper influence an officer and/or director is exercising over the company's affairs. Derivative actions are usually litigated under state corporation laws.

For example, a derivative class action may be appropriate where the company's officers and/or directors are engaged in self-dealing, where the company is selling a corporate asset to an officer and/or director of the company at a price below fair market value. Because the company is being harmed, this is a legal right that the company should enforce, but sometimes does not. Based on this example, a plaintiff shareholder of the company could allege that the company breached fiduciary duties (a legal concept which usually includes ideas of "fair dealing," "good faith" and "loyalty") owed to company shareholders and the company itself. If a derivative action is favorably resolved for the plaintiffs, the officer and/or director who was harming the company may be required to make monetary payments to the company. In addition, a successful derivative action may also include important corporate governance changes, so that the type of conduct complained of in the derivative action will not occur again. If either one (or both) of these forms of relief is accomplished, all current shareholders will benefit and it may have a positive effect on the company's stock price.

Mergers and Acquisitions

These class actions are brought to protect and defend the rights and privileges of public shareholders whose companies have entered into management-led buyouts, mergers, or other similar business combinations. Directors of a publicly traded company owe the company's public shareholders the tripartite fiduciary duties of due care, loyalty, and full and fair disclosure. Unfortunately, in the merger context, directors often fail to fulfill these duties as a result of material conflicts of interest. Shareholder interests are commonly overlooked and/or disregarded entirely in favor of the interests of directors, management, or a company's majority shareholder. SBTK has prosecuted numerous class actions on behalf of shareholders who have been unfairly or inadequately treated in a merger or business combination. SBTK has achieved substantial recoveries in many of these cases, including: (1) millions of dollars in increased consideration for shareholders' shares; (2) the disclosure of material information which enables a shareholder to better judge the fairness of a proposed transaction; and (3) other types of therapeutic relief designed to protect and maximize shareholder value.

ERISA Litigation

SBTK is also at the forefront of protecting the rights of employees. The firm's ERISA Litigation Department specializes in breach of fiduciary duty actions brought pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Many of these suits involve fiduciary breaches by a company in the administration of an employee benefit plan. For example, a company sponsoring and administering a defined contribution 401(k) plan for the benefit of its employees, has a fiduciary duty to ensure that plan assets (including employer securities) are directed to appropriate and prudent investment vehicles.

This duty is sometimes breached, particularly where a company deems investment in its own equities appropriate despite having access to information that clearly indicates otherwise. This conflict of interest and the resultant losses can be devastating to employees who often depend on their 401(k) accounts as a principal source of retirement income.

SBTK commits considerable resources to litigating claims on behalf of pension plan participants and is currently prosecuting more than two dozen ERISA actions nationwide as lead or co-lead counsel against companies including El Paso, Northwest, Polaroid, JDS Uniphase, and Schering-Plough. In addition, the firm has served as lead or co-lead counsel in cases against AOL Time Warner, Honeywell, and Bristol-Myers, which have resulted in recovery of well over $250 million for pension plan participants.

Antitrust/Consumer Litigation

Antitrust Litigation: Antitrust class actions brought pursuant to federal and state antitrust laws, are initiated by claimants injured by anti-competitive conduct of suppliers, purchasers, competitors and others. This includes anti-competitive conduct occurring abroad which affects United States markets. Violations of the antitrust laws include price-fixing, bid-rigging, monopolization, resale price maintenance and price discrimination. The antitrust laws also prohibit corporate mergers and acquisitions so large and encompassing that, if consummated, would likely inhibit competition and other corporate conduct designed with the intention to be predatory or to monopolize. Recently, drug manufacturers have been the focus of many high profile antitrust actions as a result of their efforts to maintain their monopoly of certain drugs following the expiration of their patent. In an effort to extend the patents on their products manufacturers have gone so far as to initiate patent infringement suits against generic brand drug manufacturers and entered into collusive licensing arrangements with generic manufacturers.

SBTK combats this anti-competitive conduct through class action litigation and has been appointed by courts to leadership positions in several important antitrust actions filed in courts throughout the country. SBTK represents many third-party payors in these cases, including public entities and Taft-Hartley Health & Welfare funds.

Consumer Litigation: SBTK also specializes in litigation on behalf of consumers. More broadly, consumer fraud describes a wide range of improper practices that may involve advertising, marketing and/or the sale of goods or services. Consumer fraud class actions are initiated, for example, when a company overcharges or improperly charges consumers for goods or services, or runs deceptive or misleading ads for its products. Companies also commit consumer fraud when they interpret a contract or agreement in a manner that unfairly disadvantages consumers.

SBTK has taken a prominent role in prosecuting claims against pharmaceutical companies, medical device manufacturers, life insurance companies, private mortgage insurers, and credit card companies which have resulted in significant monetary recovery and changes in corporate policies on a class-wide basis.

Mass Tort Litigation

SBTK's Mass Tort Department is a powerful force for consumers and victims harmed by pharmaceutical drugs and medical device products. Over the years, pharmaceutical companies have made increasingly significant efforts to receive quicker approval for new drug applications. A natural result of the shortened time period is that the rush to approval sacrifices the careful scrutiny over safety that a drug must have before being approved. As a result, many drugs that received approval in the late 1990's, have either been withdrawn or are being petitioned for removal from the market. Additionally, the number of consumers injured by pharmaceutical products has risen since the change to fast tracking drugs. The attorneys in our Mass Tort Department work diligently to represent individuals harmed by the pharmaceutical and medical device industry, and in being among a small group of trial lawyers who are willing to fight big pharmaceutical companies. To successfully pursue such cases, the firm has brought together a team of experienced and dedicated trial attorneys. Currently, we are litigating cases involving Vioxx® (and Cox-2 Inhibitor Drugs), Hormone Replacement Therapy (Prempro/Premarin), Fen Phen, Ephedra and Baycol. Additionally, our Mass Tort attorneys continue to keep a vigilant eye on the actions of the pharmaceutical industry and its interaction with the Food and Drug Administration. All too often, pharmaceutical companies continue to fail to comply with FDA requirements to investigate or warn about drug problems. Until satisfactory regulation of this industry is once again imposed, the only corrective deterrent for this industry's behavior will come at the hands of the individuals and attorneys who are willing to stand up to big pharmaceutical companies and hold them accountable.

NOTEWORTHY RECOVERIES

During the firm's successful history, SBTK has recovered billions of dollars for defrauded stockholders and consumers. The following are among the firm's notable achievements:

In re Tenet Healthcare Corp. Securities Litigation, No. CV-02-8462-RSWL (Rx) (C.D. Cal. 2002):

SBTK serves as co-lead counsel on behalf of the State of New Jersey and its Division of Investment against Tenet Healthcare Corp. and certain of its former officers and directors. Among other things, the Lead Plaintiff alleges that defendants made a series of materially false or misleading statements and omissions concerning Tenet's business model and financial health from January 11, 2000 through November 7, 2002. After defeating defendants' motions to dismiss and performing substantial document and deposition discovery, a partial settlement has been reached in the amount of $216.5 million in cash which will be submitted for preliminary approval by the Court in the coming weeks. The Partial Settlement is being funded primarily by Tenet and its insurance carriers ($215 million), with personal contributions in the aggregate amount of $1.5 million being made by two of Tenet's former officers, Jeffrey Barbakow and Thomas Mackey. In addition to the substantial cash recovery, the prosecution of this action has played a prominent role in Tenet's initiation of sweeping corporate governance reforms which have led to Tenet being ranked by various institutional rating entities as among the best corporations in America for its corporate governance. The case will continue against KPMG as the Court denied KPMG's motion to dismiss the action in its entirety in December, 2005.

In re AremisSoft Corp. Securities Litigation, C.A. No. 01-CV-2486 (D.N.J. 2002):

SBTK is particularly proud of the results recently achieved in this case before the Honorable Joel A. Pisano. This case was exceedingly complicated, as it involved the embezzlement of hundreds of millions of dollars by former officers of the Company, who are now fugitives. In settling the action, SBTK, as sole Lead Counsel, assisted in reorganizing the Company as a new Company to allow for it to continue operations, while successfully separating out the securities fraud claims and the bankrupt Company's claims into a litigation trust. The Settlement, which was recently approved, calls for the class to receive the majority of the equity in the new Company, as well as their pro rata share of any amounts recovered by the litigation trust. The Court-appointed co-trustees, Joseph P. LaSala, Esq. and Fred S. Zeidman, have retained SBTK to continue prosecuting the actions on behalf of the litigation trust. In this capacity, we have filed an action in the Isle of Man, and have successfully frozen more than $200 million of stolen funds from one of the fugitives, and are in the process of attempting to recover the money on behalf of the trust. In addition, we are continuing to litigate the trust's claims against the remaining fugitive.

In re The Interpublic Group of Companies Securities Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 6527 (S.D.N.Y. 2002):

SBTK served as sole Lead Counsel in this action on behalf of an institutional investor and recently received final approval of a settlement consisting of $20 million in cash and 6,551,725 shares of IPG common stock with expected distribution by early summer 2005. As of February 2005, the stock had an approximate value of $87 million, resulting in a total settlement value of approximately $107 million. In granting its approval, the Court praised SBTK for acting responsibly and noted the firm's professionalism, competence and contribution to achieving such a favorable result.

In re Digital Lightwave, Inc. Securities Litigation, Consolidated Case No. 98-152-CIV-T-24E (M.D. Fla. 1999):

The firm served as Co-Lead Counsel in one of the nation's most successful securities class actions. After extensive litigation and negotiations, a settlement consisting primarily of stock ultimately grew to a value of over $170 million between the time in which the settlement was negotiated and the time at which it was distributed. SBTK took on the primary role in negotiating the terms of the equity component, insisting that the class have the right to share in any upward appreciation in the value of the stock after the settlement was reached. This recovery represented an astounding approximately two hundred percent (200%) of class members' losses. We believe that this represents the largest percentage recovery for shareholders in securities class action history.

SBTK holds a prominent position as an Executive Committee member in this action. Of the sixty plaintiffs firms which originally filed actions in these coordinated proceedings, SBTK was one of only six selected to serve on the Executive Committee. The coordinated actions, which have been filed against 309 separate issuers of publicly traded securities, challenge the legality of the practices which accompany the allocations of shares in initial public offerings. In addition to suing the issuers of such securities, the 309 coordinated actions also name as defendants the primary investment banking firms which underwrote the offerings. This case, which has received a great deal of national and international media attention, is widely considered the largest securities class action litigation in history. At the present time, the Court has preliminarily approved a $1 billion settlement with the insurers and their officers and directors. The case is proceeding against the underwriting defendants.

In re Global Crossing, Ltd. ERISA Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 7453 (S.D.N.Y. 2004):

SBTK served as Co-Lead Counsel in this complex and high-profile action which alleged that certain directors and officers of Global Crossing, a former high-flier of the late 1990's tech stock boom, breached their fiduciary duties under the Employee retirement Income Security Act of 1974 to certain company-provided 401(k) plans and their participants. These breaches surrounded the plans' alleged imprudent investment in Global Crossing stock during a time when defendants knew, or should have known, that the company was facing imminent bankruptcy. A settlement of plaintiffs' claims restoring $79 million to the Plans and their participants was approved in November 2004. At the time, this represented the largest recovery received in a company stock ERISA class action.

In re Honeywell International ERISA Litigation, No. 03-1214 (DRD) (D.N.J. 2004):

SBTK is serving as Lead Counsel in a breach of fiduciary duty case under ERISA against Honeywell International, Inc. and certain fiduciaries of Honeywell pension plans. The suit alleges that Honeywell and the individual fiduciary defendants, allowed Honeywell's 401(k) plans and their participants to imprudently invest significant assets in company stock, despite that defendants knew, or should have known, that Honeywell's stock was an imprudent investment due to undisclosed, wide-ranging problems stemming from a consummated merger with Allied Signal and a failed merger with General Electric. A settlement of plaintiffs' claims, which includes a $14 million payment to the plans and their affected participants, and significant structural relief affording participants much greater leeway in diversifying their retirement savings portfolios, is currently pending court approval.

In re Remeron Antitrust Litigation, No. 02-CV-2007 (D.N.J. 2004):

SBTK is Co-Lead Counsel in an action challenging Organon, Inc.'s filing of certain patents and patent infringement lawsuits as an abuse of the Hatch-Waxman Act, and an effort to unlawfully extend their monopoly in the market for Remeron. Specifically, the lawsuit alleges that defendants violated state and federal antitrust laws in their efforts to keep competing products from entering the market, and seeks damages sustained by consumers and third-party payors. After lengthy litigation, including numerous motions and over 50 depositions, the matter settled for $36 million. The settlement is pending final approval by the court.

Henry v. Sears, et al., Case No. 98 C 4110 (N.D. Ill. 1999):

The firm served as Co-Lead Counsel for one of the largest consumer class actions in history, consisting of approximately 11 million Sears credit card holders whose interest rates were improperly increased in connection with the transfer of the credit card accounts to a national bank. SBTK successfully negotiated a settlement representing approximately 66% of all class members' damages, thereby providing a total benefit exceeding $156 million. All $156 million was distributed automatically to the Class members, without the filing of a single proof of claim form. In approving the settlement, the District Court stated: "... I am pleased to approve the settlement. I think it does the best that could be done under the circumstances on behalf of the class. ... The litigation was complex in both liability and damages and required both professional skill and standing which class counsel demonstrated in abundance."

Jordan v. State Farm Insurance Company, Case No. 97 CH 11 (Cir. Ct., McLean County, Ill. 1998):

Plaintiffs alleged that State Farm had engaged in fraudulent sales practices known as "churning," and marketing and selling "vanishing premium" policies that do not actually "vanish." After several years of discovery, motion practice and settlement negotiations, SBTK, as Liaison Counsel, successfully resolved the action for $225 million in cash, dividend enhancements and other monetary benefits for current and former State Farm policyholders.

In re Liberate Technologies Securities Litigation, No. C-02-5017 (MJJ) (N.D. Cal. 2005):

Plaintiffs alleged that Liberate engaged in fraudulent revenue recognition practices to artificially inflate the price of its stock, ultimately forcing it to restate its earnings. As sole Lead Counsel, SBTK successfully negotiated a $13.8 million settlement, which represents almost 40% of the damages suffered by the class. In approving the settlement, the district court complimented Lead Counsel for its "extremely credible and competent job."

In re InfoSpace, Inc. Securities Litigation, Master File No. C-01-0913-Z (D. Wash. 2001):

SBTK served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that InfoSpace and certain of its officers and directors overstated revenues by using improper accounting methods, overstated the demand for InfoSpace's wireless services, misstated InfoSpace's financial relationships with major customers, and falsely represented that InfoSpace would receive subscription fees from users of web-enabled cell phones. After two years of hard-fought litigation and complex mediation, a settlement of $34.3 million was obtained for members of the class.

In re Riverstone Networks, Inc. Securities Litigation, Case No. CV-02-3581 (N.D. Cal. 2002):

SBTK served as sole lead counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that Riverstone and certain of its officers and directors sought to create the impression that the Company, despite the industry-wide downturn in the telecom sector, had the ability to prosper and succeed and was actually prospering. In that regard, plaintiffs alleged that defendants issued a series of false and misleading statements concerning the Company's financial condition, sales and prospects, and used inside information to personally profit. After extensive litigation, the parties entered into formal mediation with the Honorable Charles Legge (Ret.). Following five months of mediation, the parties reached a settlement of $18.5 million which has been preliminarily approved by the Court.

In re Assisted Living Concepts, Inc. Securities Litigation, Lead Case No. 99-167-AA (D. Or. 1999):

SBTK served as Co-Lead Counsel and was instrumental in obtaining a $30 million recovery for class members from the Company, its executive officers and directors, and several underwriters for their role in an alleged complex accounting fraud involving the use of a purportedly independent joint venture to absorb the Company's start-up losses. Even after this $30 million recovery, through counsel's efforts, an additional $12.5 million was obtained from the auditors providing for a total recovery of $42.5 million.

SBTK served as Lead Counsel in a derivative action filed against the officers and directors of Prison Realty Trust, Inc., challenging the transfer of assets from the Company to a private entity owned by several of the Company's top insiders. Numerous federal securities class actions were pending against the Company at this time. Through the derivative litigation, the Company's top management was ousted, the composition of the Board of Directors was significantly improved, and important corporate governance provisions were put in place to prevent future abuse. Mr. Schiffman, in addition to achieving these desirable results, was able to personally effectuate a global settlement of all pending litigation against the backdrop of an almost certain bankruptcy. The case was resolved in conjunction with the federal securities cases for the payment of approximately $50 million by the Company's insurers and the issuance of over 46 million shares to the class members.

In re Cumulus Media Inc. Securities Litigation, Lead Case No. 00-C-391 E.D. Wis. 2000):

SBTK served as Lead Counsel and successfully litigated the action and negotiated a settlement of $13 million in cash and 240,000 shares of freely tradable stock in Cumulus Media, which traded for approximately $19 per share, for a total settlement value of $17.5 million at the time the settlement was approved by the Court.

"I know you know that I take this responsibility seriously and try to think hard about these issues. And I do want to compliment class counsel. I think that you behaved responsibly here and gave very good service to the class. They were well served by you."

— The Honorable Denise Cote of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York addressing SBTK in the context of approving the settlement of In re The Interpublic Group of Companies Securities Litigation.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT CLASS ACTIONS

1. What is a class action?

A class action is a representative lawsuit which allows an individual or entity to initiate a lawsuit on behalf of other individuals or entities that are in the same or similar circumstances with respect to a given defendant. A class action is appropriate when many people have been affected by a company's course of conduct in a similar fashion.

2. What is a class period?

A class period is a range of dates within which a company is alleged to have been engaged in improper conduct. The attorneys investigating and prosecuting a case will review the facts of the case, and along with the court-appointed Lead Plaintiff, determine the appropriate beginning and end of a class period. Sometimes, after an initial complaint is filed, a class period will be lengthened or shortened as an investigation continues. If you purchased the securities of a company during a class period, you are automatically a class member, regardless of whether you specifically retain a law firm to prosecute claims on your behalf. This "class membership" concept is also true with respect to consumer fraud class actions and antitrust class actions. For example, if you purchased goods from a company that was accused of improper marketing practices during the relevant period of time (the class period), you would be a member of the class for a consumer fraud class action, even if you did not personally retain an attorney.

3. What is a lead plaintiff?

A lead plaintiff in a class action brought pursuant to the federal securities laws, sometimes referred to as a named plaintiff or representative party, is typically appointed by the court within 90 days of the publication of a notice of the pendency of the class action. In these types of actions, the court selects the class member or members most capable of representing the interests of the "absent" class members. There is a statutory presumption that the class period investor or investors with the largest financial losses, who are otherwise typical of the "absent" class members and are adequate to represent those class members, are considered the "most adequate" plaintiff.

Courts have appointed individuals, groups of individuals, institutional investors, groups of institutions, or even combinations of both as lead plaintiff as the circumstances of each case may dictate. The lead plaintiff selects counsel to represent the lead plaintiff and the class, and these attorneys if approved by the court are lead counsel or class counsel.

4. How long does it take to prosecute a class action?

The time to prosecute each class action varies based on the facts, parties, and jurisdiction of a particular case. It is not unusual for a class action to take up to 3 years to complete.

5. What is contingency fee litigation?

Contingency fee litigation refers to situations where attorneys get paid only if they win the case at trial or if the action settles. Attorneys who practice on a contingent fee arrangement typically do not receive any form of monetary payment from a client at the outset of a litigation. Rather, the attorneys' fees are paid only once there is a successful resolution from any settlement or judgment that is achieved. There are no out-of-pocket expenses for the plaintiffs as Pennsylvania law allows SBTK to advance all such costs on behalf of its clients. SBTK handles virtually all of its cases on a contingency fee basis.

6. What will it cost to be involved in a class action?

Because SBTK prosecutes class actions on a contingency fee basis, there are no out-of-pocket fees or expenses paid by the client, regardless of the outcome of the case. If we are successful in obtaining a recovery for the class, we will apply to the court for a fee that fairly represents the work performed and risk assumed by SBTK. In securities class actions, attorneys' fees typically are awarded as a percentage of the relief achieved by the attorneys for the class. These percentages vary considerably based on the size of the recovery for the class, the length and complexity of the litigation, and several other factors.

7. Will my out-of-pocket loss equal my damages?

Damages are a complex legal calculation that may or may not equal your out-of-pocket loss, which is a purely economic calculation. To establish damages in securities class actions, lead counsel typically hires experts to determine the extent by which a company's stock is artificially inflated during the relevant class period. Because there are often other factors which contribute to stock movement, factors which experts readily assess, one's damages are not necessarily the equivalent of out-of-pocket loss.

8. Do I have to keep my stock to participate in a securities class action?

No. As long as you purchased during the class period, you are eligible to participate in any recovery that the class enjoys regardless of your current holdings.

9. Why should I sign up with Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler?

SBTK has specialized in class action litigation for nearly twenty years, and has represented all types of investors in recovering financial losses caused by fraud or other misconduct. SBTK has developed a nationwide reputation for excellence and has recovered over one billion dollars for victims of fraud and other corporate misconduct.

"Now this goes back to the original approval of the securities fraud settlement because I found in my opinion approving the settlement that counsel for the class were to be commended because they cast their lot along with their clients. That is to say that counsel's fees were to be determined and paid in accordance with the way the class members were going to be paid; that this was, in my view, a creative and unique approach to the problem of paying fees to class counsel in a securities fraud case."

— The Honorable Joel A. Pisano of the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey approving the settlement in In re AramisSoft Corporation Securities Litigation.

EUROPEAN, ASIAN AND OTHER NON-U.S. INVESTORS

Historically, institutional investors based outside the United States have refrained from seeking leadership roles in securities fraud class actions brought in United States courts. The simple reason is that many of these institutional investors are not aware that they may assert claims in the United States. Recently, however, courts in the United States have appointed a growing number of foreign institutional investors as lead plaintiffs in class actions on behalf of both United States and foreign investors. As such, there is an increased incentive for foreign investors, especially foreign institutional investors which have suffered substantial losses, to step forward to lead securities fraud and derivative class actions in the United States.

Despite the fact that many foreign institutional investors lose many millions of dollars as a result of corporate fraud, frequently these investors are not aware that they may pursue claims based on these losses. In fact, some foreign institutions are not even aware that certain actions were filed until after the deadline for filing a lead plaintiff application has passed. Similarly, foreign institutions often miss out on recovering some or all of their financial losses when a lawsuit settles or a judgment is reached, if the proper claim form is not submitted in a timely fashion.

SBTK has extensive experience working with investors worldwide, including institutions located outside the United States, such as in Europe, Asia, Canada, Australia and South America. The firm offers the same professional services to all of its institutional clients, including those located outside the United States. One valuable service the firm provides is regularly monitoring our institutional clients' investment portfolios so that we can properly advise our clients as to potential securities claims and whether our clients had financial losses as a result. At no cost to our clients, we investigate all potential claims and cross-reference those claims against our clients' trading histories. We personally discuss all pertinent facts and legal options with our clients so that they can properly evaluate if and how they will seek to recover losses. Additionally, regardless of whether our clients decide to pursue formal legal action, we provide our clients with detailed updates on the progress of all litigation which impact our clients' interests. As a result, our clients are best positioned to protect their rights and interests at all stages of litigation.

SBTK's website is available in seventeen different languages so that our clients around the world can easily access information about the firm and the cases we are litigating. For more information about the firm or references from our institutional clients, please contact Darren J. Check, Esq. at (610) 822-2235 or via e-mail at dcheck@sbtklaw.com.

STUDY PRAISES THE DISTRIBUTION AND VALUE OF SECURITIES CLASS ACTIONS

By Daniel J. Cheek, Esquire

A Johns Hopkins School of Law Professor and noted scholar on securities class action litigation, Michael A. Peters, recently published a study which found that the performance of well-administered securities and public pension funds in particular is best planned in securities class actions. The nation's significant value in the context of these cases, Peters found, is that the pension funds serve as best plaintiffs, the plans achieved larger settlements, recovered a higher percentage of the potential fund damages, provided greater relief to their investors and achieved a lower attorney fee, expenses and awards. The study further demonstrates that the pension funds' success in obtaining the payment of the Public Securities Litigation Reform Act ("PSLRA") of 1995, in effect, is evidence whether the highest standard in class actions is the "best plaintiff" standard. The study also found that the PSLRA, for a full range of reasons, including the fact that the PSLRA's provisions are designed to

PARTNERS

Richard S. Schiffrin

Richard S. Schiffrin, founding partner of the firm, is licensed to practice law in Illinois and Pennsylvania, and has been admitted to practice before numerous United States District Courts. In his seven years of practice with the Office of the Public Defender of Cook County, Illinois, Mr. Schiffrin represented hundreds of clients in both bench and jury trials, as well as appeals. Mr. Schiffrin has also taught legal writing and appellate advocacy at John Marshall Law School and has served as a faculty member at numerous legal seminars, including the Annual Institute on Securities Regulation, NERA: Finance, Law & Economics — Securities Litigation Seminar, the Tulane Corporate Law Institute, and the CityBar Center for CLE (NYC): Ethical Issues in the Practice of Securities Law.

Most recently, Mr. Schiffrin spoke at the MultiPensions 2005 Conference in Amsterdam, Netherlands; the Public Funds Symposium 2005 in Washington, D.C.; the European Pension Symposium in Florence, Italy; and the Pennsylvania Public Employees Retirement Summit (PAPERS) in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Mr. Schiffrin oversees all aspects of litigation on behalf of the firm. Mr. Schiffrin has been recognized for his expertise in numerous cases, including most prominently:

In re AremisSoft Corp. Securities Litigation, C.A. No. 01-CV-2486 (D.N.J. 2002):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler is particularly proud of the results achieved in this case before the Honorable Joel A. Pisano. This case was exceedingly complicated, as it involved the embezzlement of hundreds of millions of dollars by former officers of the Company, some of whom remain fugitives. In settling the action, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler, as sole Lead Counsel, assisted in reorganizing the Company as a new Company which allowed for it to continue operations, while successfully separating out the securities fraud claims and the bankrupt Company's claims into a litigation trust. The Settlement, approved by the court, enabled the class to receive the majority of the equity in the new Company, as well as their pro rata share of all amounts recovered by the litigation trust. The court-appointed co-trustees, Joseph P. LaSala, Esq. and Fred S. Zeidman, retained Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler to further assist with prosecuting the actions on behalf of the litigation trust.

After filing an action in the Isle of Man, where the trust successfully froze more than $200 million of stolen funds from one of the fugitives, the trust achieved a settlement of this action for $200 million, which was returned to the United States and paid to the trust. Recently, the trust commenced another action in Cyprus, where it obtained a Mareva injunction and interim ancillary relief against bank accounts and assets owned and/or controlled by the other principal wrongdoer.

Thus far, counsel on behalf of the trust and its beneficiaries have achieved settlements with the Company and certain of its directors and officers as well as the Company's auditors, lawyer and underwriters, for a total of more than $250 million. The beneficiaries of the trust have already received in excess of 28% of their recognized losses.

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel on behalf of the largest class of credit card holders in history. At stake was the right of Sears and its newly formed affiliate, Sears National Bank ("SNB"), to retroactively increase the interest rates on eleven million credit card accounts with outstanding balances resulting from purchases made prior to the accounts being transferred to SNB. Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler alleged that such conduct violated the Truth-in-Lending Act, the National Banking Act and state consumer fraud statutes. After extensively litigating various aspects of liability, an additional nine months were then spent determining damages. The extraordinary complexity of the damage calculations required Mr. Schiffrin and experts from both parties to develop, test and utilize a novel computer model to ascertain total damages for the class and individualized damages for each class member. Ultimately, Mr. Schiffrin and his partner, Mr. Kessler, were able to negotiate a $156 million settlement, which represented approximately 66% of total damages. In approving the settlement, District Court Judge Leinenwebber of the Northern District of Illinois stated:

... I am pleased to approve the settlement. I think it does the best that could be done under the circumstances on behalf of the class. ... The litigation was complex in both liability and damages and required both professional skill and standing which class counsel demonstrated in abundance.

The entire settlement fund of $156 million was distributed without the filing of a single proof of claim form by any class member.

Wanstrath v. Doctor R. Crants, et al., C.A. No. 99-1719-III (Tenn. Chan. Ct., 20th Judicial District, 1999):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel in a derivative action filed against the officers and directors of Prison Realty Trust, Inc., challenging the transfer of assets from the Company to a private entity owned by several of the Company's top insiders. Numerous federal securities class actions were pending against the Company at this time. Through the derivative litigation, the Company's top management was ousted, the composition of the Board of Directors was significantly improved and important corporate governance provisions were put in place to prevent future abuse. Mr. Schiffrin, in addition to achieving these desirable results, was able to personally effectuate a global settlement of all pending litigation against the backdrop of an almost certain bankruptcy. The case was resolved in conjunction with the federal securities cases for the payment of approximately $50 million by the Company's insurers and the issuance of over 46 million shares to the class members.

Jordan v. State Farm Insurance Company, Case No. 97 CH 11 (Cir. Ct., McLean County, Ill. 1998): Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler brought a claim on behalf of multiple plaintiffs alleging that State Farm had engaged in fraudulent sales practices by "churning" policies and marketing and selling "vanishing premium" policies that never "vanished." After several years of discovery, motion practice and settlement negotiations, Mr. Schiffrin played a critical role in resolving the action for $225 million in cash, dividend enhancements and other monetary benefits for current and former State Farm policyholders. Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler also has achieved substantial settlements in 20 additional cases alleging fraudulent sales practices by various insurance companies.

Mr. Schiffrin has also represented defrauded shareholders and companies in complex class and derivative actions, including the following:

Huscher v. Curley, et al., No. 00 Civ. 21379 (Mich. Cir. Ct., 2000) (In re Sotheby's Holdings, Inc. Derivative Litigation):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel in a derivative action arising out of Sotheby's alleged antitrust price fixing conspiracy with auction house rival Christie's International PLC. A multi-million dollar settlement was negotiated by Mr. Schiffrin whereby Diana Brooks (Sotheby's President at the time of the alleged wrongdoing) agreed to relinquish all of her Sotheby's stock options, and the Company's insurance carrier made a substantial monetary payment to the Company. In addition, significant changes in the Company's top management and Board of Directors were achieved in conjunction with the settlement of the litigation.

Andrew L. Barroway

Andrew L. Barroway, managing partner of the firm, received his law degree from the University of Pennsylvania Law School, where he was a member of the ABA Negotiation team. He is licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Mr. Barroway frequently lectures on securities class action and lead plaintiff issues, and recently spoke at the 2005 Institutional Investor Hedge Fund Workshop in New York City and the Public Funds Summit 2005 in Phoenix, Arizona. Mr. Barroway has been actively involved in all aspects of litigation on behalf of the firm, and co-manages the firm's securities department. Of his numerous successful representations of shareholders, the following stand out as exceptional:

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as sole Lead Counsel in this action on behalf of an institutional investor and recently received final approval of a settlement consisting of $20 million in cash and 6,551,725 shares of IPG common stock. As of February 2005, the stock had an approximate value of $87 million, resulting in a total settlement value of approximately $107 million. In granting its approval, the Court praised Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler for acting responsibly and noted the firm's professionalism, competence and contribution to achieving such a favorable result.

The firm served as Co-Lead Counsel in one of the nation's most successful securities class actions. After extensive litigation and negotiations, a settlement consisting primarily of stock ultimately grew to a value of over $170 million between the time in which the settlement was negotiated and the time at which it was distributed. Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler took on the primary role in negotiating the terms of the equity component, insisting that the class have the right to share in any upward appreciation in the value of the stock after the settlement was reached. This recovery represented an astounding approximately two hundred percent (200%) of class members' losses. Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler believes that this represents the largest percentage recovery for shareholders in securities class action history.

Mr. Barroway, along with his partner, Mr. Kessler, has also negotiated substantial settlements of securities class actions in which Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler was Lead or Co-Lead Counsel against Pinnacle Holdings, Cell Pathways, Gateway, Mercator and NetSolve. Mr. Barroway currently represents numerous public pension funds, private investment funds, money management firms, and individuals in securities fraud litigation as Lead or Co-Lead Counsel.

Marc A. Topaz

Marc A. Topaz, a senior partner of the firm, received his law degree from Temple University School of Law, where he was an editor of the Temple Law Review and a member of the Moot Court Honor Society. He also received his Master of Law (L.L.M.) in taxation from the New York University School of Law, where he served as an editor of the New York University Tax Law

Review. He is licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Mr. Topaz manages the firm's derivative, transactional and antitrust departments. In this regard, Mr. Topaz has been actively involved in litigating the following prominent cases:

In re MTC Electronic Shareholder Litigation,*
No. CV-93-0876 (E.D.N.Y. 1993):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Counsel in a case involving securities fraud by MTC, its officers and directors, underwriters and accountants. The case presented novel issues of Chinese law, and required the construction of a database of hundreds of thousands of documents utilized in numerous party and non-party depositions. A $72 million settlement was achieved on the eve of trial.

In re Oppenheimer Capital, L.P., Unitholders Litigation,*
Consolidated No. 16022NC (Del. Ch. 1997):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that a merger proposed by Pimco Advisors benefitted certain Pimco insiders by disproportionately allocating tax benefits achieved from the restructuring of a limited partnership, and failing to provide adequate compensation to the Oppenheimer shareholders. Plaintiffs moved to enjoin the transaction and a settlement was reached whereby defendants agreed to pay a special dividend to Oppenheimer limited partners of approximately $16 million.

David Kessler

David Kessler, a senior partner of the firm, graduated with distinction from the Emory School of Law. He is licensed to practice in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey. Prior to practicing law,

Mr. Kessler was a Certified Public Accountant in Pennsylvania. Mr. Kessler is the co-managing partner of the firm along with Mr. Barroway and manages the firm's nationally recognized securities department. In addition, Mr. Kessler lectures on securities litigation and was a featured speaker on hot topics in securities litigation in a seminar entitled "The Explosion and Evolution of Class Action Law" in December 2004 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and the Corporate Governance Summit on Corporate Accountability in July 2003 in New York City. Mr. Kessler has achieved the following outstanding results in federal securities cases:

Mr. Kessler, along with Mr. Schiffrin, is presently heading up the firm's litigation efforts in its prominent position as an Executive Committee member in this action. Of the sixty plaintiffs firms which originally filed actions in these coordinated proceedings, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler was one of only six selected to serve on the Executive Committee. The coordinated actions, which have been filed against 309 separate issuers of publicly traded securities, challenge the legality of the practices which accompany the allocations of shares in initial public offerings. In addition to suing the issuers of such securities, the 309 coordinated actions also name as defendants the primary investment banking firms which underwrote the offerings. This case, which has received a great deal of national and international media attention, is widely considered the largest securities class action litigation in history. At the present time, the court has preliminarily approved a $1 billion settlement with the issuers and their officers and directors. The class has also reached an agreement in principle to resolve the action against JP Morgan for $425 million, which is in the process of being memorialized and submitted to the Court for approval. The case is proceeding against the remaining underwriting defendants.

In re PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. Litigation, Case No. 02-CV-271 (W.D. Pa. 2002):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel and was instrumental in obtaining a $30 million recovery for class members from PNC and the assignment of certain claims it may have had against its audit and other third party law firms and insurance companies, with respect to an alleged fraudulent scheme wherein non-performing assets were removed from PNC's books and transferred to special purpose entities that PNC allegedly still controlled. An additional $6.6 million was recovered from the insurance company and the law firms and an agreement in principle has now been reached with the audit to resolve all claims for another $9.075 million, providing for a total recovery from the securities litigation of $45.675 million upon approval of the auditor settlement. When coupled with the $156 million restitution fund established through government actions against some of the same defendants and third parties, the total recovery for class members exceeds $200 million.

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel and was instrumental in obtaining a $30 million recovery for class members from the Company, its executive officers and directors, and several underwriters for their role in an alleged complex accounting fraud involving the use of a purportedly independent joint venture to absorb the Company's startup losses. Even after this $30 million recovery, through counsel's efforts, an additional $12.5 million was obtained from the auditors providing for a total recovery of $42.5 million.

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel and successfully litigated the action and negotiated a settlement of $13 million in cash and 240,000 shares of freely tradable stock in Cumulus Media, which traded for approximately $19 per share, for a total settlement value of $17.5 million at the time the settlement was approved by the Court.

Katharine M. Ryan

Katharine M. Ryan, a partner of the firm, graduated cum laude from Villanova University School of Law in May 1984. Ms. Ryan is admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, the Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit and the United States Supreme Court. Ms. Ryan recently participated as a speaker in a legal teleconference entitled "Is the PSLRA's Safe Harbor Provision Safe?" Ms. Ryan is actively involved in litigating several of the firm's most prominent cases and was integral in the excellent results achieved in the following cases:

In re The Interpublic Group of Companies Securities Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 6527 (S.D.N.Y. 2002):

Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as sole Lead Counsel in this action on behalf of an institutional investor and recently received final approval of a settlement consisting of $20 million in cash and 6,551,725 shares of IPG common stock. As of February 2005, the stock had an approximate value of $87 million, resulting in a total settlement value of approximately $107 million. In granting its approval, the Court praised Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler for acting responsibly and noted the firm's professionalism, competence and contribution to achieving such a favorable result.

In re New Power Holdings, Inc. Securities Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 1550 (S.D.N.Y. 2002):

Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel and was instrumental in obtaining a recovery of $41 million in cash for class members against a bankrupt company, certain of its officers and directors and the underwriters of the Company's offering. Claims involved New Power, an offshoot of Enron, that was formed to re-enter the deregulated energy market and pursued an IPO with no viable plan to hedge against volatile energy prices.

Stuart L. Berman

Stuart L. Berman, a partner of the firm, received his law degree from George Washington University National Law Center, and his undergraduate degree from Brandeis University. He is licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the United States District Court for the District of

New Jersey. Mr. Berman manages the firm's lead plaintiff department and has been instrumental in courts appointing many of the firm's institutional and individual clients as lead plaintiffs in important cases, such as:

In re Tenet Healthcare Corp. Securities Litigation, No. CV-02-8462- RSWL (C.D. Cal. 2002),

State of New Jersey and its Division of Investment v. Sprint Corporation, et al., No. 2:03-CV-02071-JWL (D. Kan. 2003),

In re The Interpublic Group of Companies Securities Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 6527 (S.D.N.Y. 2002), State of New Jersey and its Division of Investment v. Sprint Corporation, et al., No. 03-2071-JWL (D. Kan. 2003),

In re Delphi Corp. Sec. Litig., 1:05-CV-2637 (NRB) (S.D.N.Y. 2005),

In re Vaxgen Inc. Securities Litigation, No. C 03-01129 JSW (N.D. Cal. 2003),

In re American Business Financial Services, Inc., No. 04- 0265 (E.D. Pa. 2004) and

In re Autobytel, Inc. Securities Litigation, No. CV04-8987 MMM (JWJx) (C.D. Cal. 2004).

Mr. Berman represents institutional investors worldwide in securities litigation and other related matters. In addition, Mr. Berman is a frequent speaker on securities issues, especially as they relate to institutional investors, at The European Pension Symposium in Florence, Italy; the Public Funds Symposium 2005 in Washington, D.C.; the Pennsylvania Public Employees Retirement (PAPERS) Summit in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; the New England Pension Summit in Newport, Rhode Island; the Rights & Responsibilities of Institutional Investors 2006 in Amsterdam, Netherlands; and the European Investment Roundtable 2006 in Barcelona, Spain. He speaks with institutional investors located around the world regarding their rights and obligations associated with securities fraud class actions and individual actions. Mr. Berman works closely with the firm's institutional investors and counsels them on fulfilling their fiduciary obligations and exercising their rights in all types of securities related actions.

Mr. Berman has specialized in the area of securities litigation for the past nine years. He is particularly proud of the results achieved in In re AremisSoft Corp. Sec. Litig., C.A. No. 01-CV-2486 (D.N.J. 2002), a case on which Mr. Berman and his partner, Richard Schiffman, have worked extensively. This case was exceedingly complicated, as it involved the embezzlement of hundreds of millions of dollars by former officers of the Company, some of whom are now fugitives. In settling the action, Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler, as sole Lead Counsel, assisted in reorganizing AremisSoft as a new Company which allowed for it to continue operations, while successfully separating out the securities fraud claims and the bankrupt Company's claims into a litigation trust. The Settlement, which was approved by the Court, called for the class to receive the majority of the equity in the new Company, as well as their pro rata share of all amounts recovered by the litigation.

tion trust. The Court-appointed co-trustees, Joseph P. LaSala, Esq. and Fred S. Zeidman, retained Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler to continue prosecuting the actions on behalf of the litigation trust. After extensive litigation in the Isle of Man, including the successful freezing of more than $200 million of stolen funds, the trust recently settled its action against one of the principal wrongdoers and recovered approximately $200 million. Thus far, the trust has distributed to beneficiaries of the trust more than 28% of their recognized losses (excluding the value of the equity of the new Company), and is poised to recover even more. Recently, the trust commenced further litigation in Cyprus, where it obtained a Mareva injunction and interim ancillary relief against bank accounts and assets owned and/or controlled by the other principal wrongdoer.

Gregory M. Castaldo

Gregory M. Castaldo, a partner of the firm, received his law degree from Loyola Law School, where he received the American Jurisprudence award in legal writing. He received his undergraduate degree from the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania. He is licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Mr. Castaldo has been actively involved in litigation the following cases:

In re Tenet Healthcare Corp., 02-CV-8462 (C.D.Cal.):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs, alleging that Tenet Healthcare and certain of its officers and directors defrauded Medicare out of hundreds of millions of dollars, materially overstated Tenet's revenues, and performed unnecessary cardiac surgeries to increase the Company's earnings. After three years of hard-fought litigation and complex mediation, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler helped obtain a settlement involving a $216.5 million payment from Tenet and the Company's former CEO and COO, and specific corporate governance improvements.

In re Liberate Technologies Securities Litigation, No. C-02-5017 (MJJ) (N.D. Cal. 2005):

Plaintiffs alleged that Liberate engaged in fraudulent revenue recognition practices to artificially inflate the price of its stock, ultimately forcing it to restate its earnings. As sole Lead Counsel, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler successfully negotiated a $13.8 million settlement, which represents almost 40% of the damages suffered by the class. In approving the settlement, the district court complimented Lead Counsel for its "extremely credible and competent job."

In re Sodexo Marriott Shareholders Litigation,

Consol. C.A. No. 18640-NC, Delaware Chancery Court, in which Class Counsel was partially responsible for creating an aggregate financial benefit of approximately $166 million for members of the class.

Mr. Castaldo is also presently litigating State of New Jersey and Its Division of Investment v. Sprint Corporation, et al., No. 03-2071-JWL (D. Kan. 2003) among other actions.

Michael K. Yarnoff

Michael K. Yarnoff, a partner of the firm, received his law degree from Widener University School of Law. Mr. Yarnoff is licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Courts for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the District of New Jersey. He serves in the firm's securities litigation department and has been actively involved in a number of federal securities cases in which outstanding results were achieved, including the following:

In re CVS Corporation Securities Litigation, C.A. No. 01-11464 JLT (D.Mass.):

After more than three years of contentious litigation and a series of protracted mediation sessions, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler, serving as co-lead counsel, secured a $110 million recovery for class members in the CVS Securities Litigation. Specifically, the suit alleged that CVS violated accounting practices by delaying discounts on merchandise in an effort to prop up its earnings. In addition, the suit charged that in 2001, the Company and its Chief Executive Officer, Thomas M. Ryan, improperly delayed announcement of its intention to close approximately 200 underperforming stores, and that an industry-wide pharmacist shortage would have a materially negative impact on the Company's performance. Settlement was reached just days prior to the commencement of trial, and shortly after the district court had denied the defendants' motions for summary judgment. This substantial recovery, which represents the third-largest settlement in a securities class action case in the First Circuit, received final approval from District Judge Joseph Tauro on September 27, 2004.

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that InfoSpace and certain of its officers and directors overstated revenues by using improper accounting methods, overstated the demand for InfoSpace's wireless services, misstated InfoSpace's financial relationships with major customers, and falsely represented that InfoSpace would receive subscription fees from users of web-enabled cell phones. After two years of hard-fought litigation and complex mediation, a settlement of $34.3 million was obtained for members of the class.

In re Riverstone Networks, Inc. Securities Litigation,*
Case No. CV-02-3581 (N.D. Cal. 2002):

Schiffrein Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs alleging that Riverstone and certain of its officers and directors sought to create the impression that the Company, despite the industry-wide downturn in the telecom sector, had the ability to prosper and succeed and was actually prospering. In that regard, plaintiffs alleged that defendants issued a series of false and misleading statements concerning the Company's financial condition, sales and prospects, and used inside information to personally profit. After extensive litigation, the parties entered into formal mediation with the Honorable Charles Legge (Ret.). Following five-months of mediation, the parties reached a settlement of $18.5 million.

Joseph H. Meltzer

Joseph H. Meltzer, a partner of the firm, received his law degree, with honors, from Temple University School of Law. He is licensed to practice law in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey and the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

Mr. Meltzer concentrates his practice in the areas of ERISA and antitrust complex litigation, and manages the firm's ERISA litigation department, which has excelled in the highly specialized area of prosecuting claims on behalf of retirement savings plans. Mr. Meltzer is Lead Counsel in several pending nationwide class actions brought under ERISA.

Mr. Meltzer has helped obtain several multi-million dollar settlements on behalf of class members, including the recent settlements in In re Global Crossing ERISA Litigation, No. 02 Civ. 7453 (S.D.N.Y.) ($79 million settlement) and In re Augmentin Antitrust Litigation, No. 02-442 (E.D. Va.) ($29 million settlement). Mr. Meltzer also prosecutes claims on behalf of third-party payors and consumers and is currently serving as Lead Counsel in In re Remeron Antitrust Litigation, No. 02-CV-2007 (D.N.J.) and In re Wellbutrin SR/Zyban Antitrust Litigation (E.D. Pa.).

Prior to joining Schiffrein Barroway Topaz & Kessler, Mr. Meltzer practiced at Barrack, Rodos & Bacine in Philadelphia, where he had prominent roles in prosecuting several complex class actions to successful conclusions, including In re Sorbates Direct Purchaser Antitrust Litigation, No. C 98-4886 (N.D. Cal. 2001) ($92 million settlement) and also defended clients in antitrust and commercial litigation.

Darren J. Check

Darren J. Check, a partner of the firm, concentrates his practice in the area of securities litigation and institutional investor relations. He is a graduate of Franklin & Marshall College where he received a degree in History, with honors. Andrew L. Zivitz

Andrew L. Zivitz, a partner of the firm, received his law degree from Duke University School of Law, and received a Bachelor of Arts degree, with distinction, from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Prior to joining Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler, Mr. Zivitz practiced with the Philadelphia law firms of Klehr, Harrison, Harvey, Branzburg & Ellers, LLP and Drinker Biddle & Reath, where he litigated complex commercial and environmental matters.

Mr. Zivitz is admitted to practice law in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey. Mr. Zivitz concentrates his practice in the area of securities litigation, and is Lead or Co-Lead Counsel in several of the largest class action securities cases currently pending nationwide. In addition, Mr. Zivitz has been actively involved in a number of federal securities cases in which outstanding results were achieved, including the following:

In re Tenet Healthcare Corp., 02-CV-8462 (C.D.Cal.):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs, alleging that Tenet Healthcare and certain of its officers and directors defrauded Medicare out of hundreds of millions of dollars, materially overstated Tenet's revenues, and performed unnecessary cardiac surgeries to increase the Company's earnings. After three years of hard-fought litigation and complex mediation, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler helped obtain a settlement involving a $216.5 million payment from Tenet and the Company's former CEO and COO, and specific corporate governance improvements.

In re Computer Associates, No. 02-CV-1226 (E.D.N.Y.):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs, alleging that Computer Associates and certain of its officers misrepresented the health of the company's business, materially overstated the company's revenues, and engaged in illegal insider selling. After nearly two years of litigation, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler helped obtain a settlement of $150 million from the company.

In re McLeod USA Inc., No. C02-0001-MWB (N.D. Iowa):

Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Co-Lead Counsel on behalf of plaintiffs, alleging that McLeod USA and certain of its officers misrepresented the health and prospects of the company's business. After more than three years of litigation, Schiffrin Barroway Topaz & Kessler helped obtain a settlement of $30 million from the defendants.

In re Ligand Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 04-CV-1620-DMS
(S.D. Cal.):

Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel and was instrumental in obtaining a recovery of $8.0 million for class members against Ligand Pharmaceuticals and certain of its officers. Plaintiffs brought claims against the defendants on the grounds that they touted the financial condition of the company and their ability to predict and monitor inventory returns when, in fact, the Company's revenues and earnings were artificially inflated and defendants had no ability to meaningfully predict or gauge inventory returns.

In re Aon Corp., No. 02-CV-5631 (N.D. Ill.):

Schiffman Barroway Topaz & Kessler served as Lead Counsel and was instrumental in obtaining a recovery of $7.25 million for class members against Aon Corp. and certain of its officers. Plaintiffs brought claims against the defendants on the grounds that they touted the prospects and successes of the company's multi-million dollar "Business Transformation Plan," when in fact they knew that the plan was damaging the company's business.

BEFORE THE COURT

THE CLERK: Court is now in session and has for consideration today a fairness hearing in Case No. 02-MD-1335-PB, In Re: Tyco Securities litigation.

THE COURT: On Wednesday I held a telephone conference with the parties to the proposed settlement and those objectors who indicated a desire to speak today. It appears that two objectors wish to speak challenging only the attorneys' fee issue. So I propose to proceed by first taking presentations from plaintiffs and Tyco regarding the adequacy of the settlement, to deal separately with the attorneys' fee question, give the objectors an opportunity to make their presentations and give the plaintiffs an opportunity to respond. Anybody have any different idea about how we should proceed?

All right. Why don't we go ahead. Before -- and I think Mr. Schiffrin should have an opportunity to make his presentation, and then I understand someone from Tyco would wish to speak as well. I will hear Tyco.

Before I do, Mr. Schiffrin, at the telephone conference you informed me that there are certain minor mistakes in your pleading that you wanted to correct, and this is a good time to do that. So why don't you do

1 the dollar, and I understand how individual shareholders
2 might feel that way, but it's simply not the reality in 3 something this complex. So I don't think you need to 4 comment more than to say I am completely satisfied that
5 the amount of this settlement is an outstanding result
6 for this class. I have no question about it, that it's 7 an outstanding amount for the class. This is real
8 money, a significant percentage of what might be 9 recovered. There were and are real risks to the class
10 in this case. This is not a slam-dunk case for the 11 reasons I've identified, and do we have to come back to 12 the fact that your original effort to plead an 13 acquisition accounting fraud case, I threw out at the 14 12(b)(6) stage. And the connection -- the problems of 15 connecting the corrective -- the looting claims with the 16 acquisition accounting fraud remain significant. There
17 are a whole host of other risks. So by any measure,
18 this is an outstanding result for the class.

19 MR. SCHIFFRIN: I appreciate that, Judge,
20 obviously and share those sentiments.

21 What I was going to cover next, and you can
22 tell me if you'd like me to do this, is the objections
23 to the settlement. There are a group of resolved and 24 then unresolved. It's pretty short; so with the Court's 25 permission --

1 and I am uncomfortable being so complimentary. That's
2 not like me. It's out of character. I'm usually 3 critical. But I also want to say there's no doubt in my 4 mind about the quality of the legal work that the 5 plaintiffs have done here. It has been of 6 extraordinarily high quality, equal to the high quality
7 work that Tyco has done. The case -- and I'm sure
8 Maryanne shares this view. That we want nothing to do
9 with this case is not because of the lawyers involved.
10 It's because we all have other things that we have to 11 do, and this is just a very big burden to take on. It's 12 very hard in this world of ours to balance appropriately
13 the duty of zealous advocate and the duty of officer of 14 the Court. When the stakes are as high as this, it
15 becomes even harder to do that, and one of the things I
16 know to be true is that the quality of the advocacy has 17 been very, very high and the civility of the lawyers has 18 been very, very high. It hasn't been perfect. We've 19 had a few minor problems, but it's a good thing for me
20 that in the most difficult case I've had, I've had some 21 of the best lawyering done in front of me, and I
22 appreciate that, and that extends to plaintiffs'
23 counsel, it extends to Tyco, it extends to PwC, and the 24 individual lawyers representing the individual

(Case called)

THE COURT: We're here in the matter of Citigroup litigation. For a conclusion of plaintiff's hearing on approval of the settlement and related applications. Counsel would be good enough to introduce yourselves again to me.

MR. TRINKO: Curtis Trinko for the plaintiff and with me are Edward Ciolko, Mark Gyandoh, both from the Schiffrin & Barroway firm in Philadelphia.

MR. CLAYTON: Lew Clayton, your Honor, from Paul Weiss for the defendants. I am here with John Hurwitz of Paul Weiss and also Michael Heyrich of the Citigroup.

THE COURT: Good afternoon.

I have received your supplemental submission which I've reviewed carefully and for which I thank you.

Do you wish to make statements at this point?

MR. TRINKO: I believe that Mr. Ciolko will be

17 addressing the points for supplemental memorandum and any 18 questions that your Honor may have.

19 THE COURT: Thank you.

20 MR. CIOLKO: Good after, your Honor.

21 Thank you for giving us the opportunity for providing 22 the supplemental memorandum, the additional report by Professor
23 Ramaswamy. I'll dispense with going over what was, I think,
24 laid out in maybe painstaking detail in our 140 pages of 25 briefing and maybe just concentrate on the supplemental filing

1 and then, of course, I will be very brief and any questions
2 your Honor might have.

3 So I know, to be frank, Professor Ramaswamy in his
4 analysis is complex, so it took me a bit of time to make sure I
5 understand stood every nook and cranny. I think our 6 supplemental memorandum sets out both the supplemental filing
7 done by Professor Ramaswamy as well as any potential impact of 8 the pension -- on the settlement itself.

9 If it please your Honor just as a quick review, the 10 settlement negotiated by the parties essentially or structural 11 changes to the plan and educational opportunities to be being 12 afforded to plan participants under the Citigroup 401 K plan,
13 formerly, there was two forms, for want of a better term, lot
14 Citigroup or company stock that was held by the plan. One
15 originated from predecessor plan, The Travellers' had a 401 K
16 plan which came from a predecessor company that Citicorp became 17 Citigroup, and the plans merged to be become the Citigroup 401
18 K plan. That lock stock under the terms of the plan generally 19 had to stay invested in company stock until a participant from 20 that 401 plan was aged 55. A second source of locked
21 investment of company stock in the plan was from ongoing
22 Citigroup matching contributions under the plan which formerly 23 had to stay invested in Citigroup stock, generally, again, for 24 five years.

25 The parties engaged in a lengthy and detailed and

1 spirited negotiations. We tried to come to a meeting of the 2 minds on the case that provided particular challenges on both
3 sides, I believe, because of both the recovery of Citigroup
4 stock during the relevant time period, the novel area of the 5 case law, the large scale investment of the company stock in 6 the plan. I think the parties wanted to reach an amicable 7 settlement that would both address some of the issues that 8 plaintiffs had raised and protect the participants going
9 forward. I think that's what we did.

10 Essentially, under the original terms of the 11 settlement The Traveller's plan stock was immediately to be -- 12 from the predecessor plan and the previous, the prior stock in 13 the plan that originated from Citigroup matching contributions
14 that had to be invested in company stock for five years would 15 only have to remain in investment in Citigroup for one year
16 after, essentially, for one year after grant.

17 In addition to that, Citigroup had agreed to provide 18 financial advice and financial investment educational services
19 to active participants in the plan and as well as provided
20 educational materials on the benefits of diversification,
21 retirement plan investments to class members who are no longer

6BFAACITC.txt

22 participants in the plan or employees in the Citigroup. They 23 provided access to that material through their web site to the 24 people that wanted to gain insight on the advantages of 25 diversification of retirement assets which is at the heart of

1 what that settlement case is.
 2 As parties brought to your attention at our last final
 3 fairness hearing, in our view Congress had kind of caught up
 4 with what was forward thinking on our part, I think, and 5 thought that it would be a good thing to eliminate any mandated
 6 investment in company stock in these type of defined
 7 contribution plans.
 8 In general, the Pension Protection Act which was 9 signed into law after the final -- the relevant portions to a
 10 settlement here are -- and I am sure my colleagues either next
 11 door or behind me will correct me if I get it wrong but I am
 12 trying to present it as simply as possible as I understand it.
 13 Under the law any plan holdings that previously were locked in 14 the company stock that were generated from company matching
 15 contributions before December 31, 2006, have to be allowed to 16 be unlocked or diversified on other plan investments on a
 17 graduated scale. At least a third of these assets have to be 18 divested by the end of 2007, a third by 2008 and the remaining
 19 third by 2009. And that for stock that had been in the plan
 20 subject to restriction or lock employer's qualifying, employer
 21 security such as the one at issue in this case.
 22 So at your Honor's behest we went back to our 23 Professor Ramaswamy and asked him to take a look at the numbers
 24 he had already created and if your Honor would remember I think
 25 he initially had estimated the value of the unlocks negotiated
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

6BFAACITC

Conference

1 by the parties was somewhere between $23 and $43 million. He
 2 took a look at those numbers again and ran those numbers under 3 a number of different scenarios. One of which I believe my 4 colleagues behind me at the defense table are better able to 5 discuss, but under three scenarios, one, under the original --
 6 I know the terminology in the report is a little confusing, at 7 least was for me at first -- but under the proposed settlement
 8 he reran numbers that he had run before trying to be even more
 9 conservative than before and came out to essentially the same,
 10 21 to 41 million dollar valuation.
 11 Then he ran the numbers with the assumption that the 12 parties knew the act would be passed which it did with the 13 mandated divestment of company security -- He ran those numbers
 14 and came to the conclusion that the negotiated settlement still 15 worked between, I believe, it's eight and $15 million -- eight
 16 and $16 million.
 17 Then after the independent fiduciary who had done an 18 11 month investigation into the original set of terms to the 19 original settlement said it would pass muster in their view
 20 also took a look at Professor Ramaswamy's new numbers and had 21 asked that he also run additional calculations that -- I have 22 to back up a second. I apologize. Since our final fairness
 23 hearing Citigroup has sua sponte, not as part of the 24 settlement, changed the 401 K plan where the Citigroup matching 25 contributions that were formally locked for five years and that
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

0 6BFAACITC Conference 7
1 unlocked was moved to one year under the settlement, now is
2 subject to immediate diversification. That is so that the 3 independent fiduciary wanted Professor Ramaswamy to also run
4 some calculations to take into account that change in the plan
5 that's not part of the settlement.
6 And you know while I think informative, I'm not sure
7 it actually has any bearing one way or another on whether or 8 not the settlement was beneficial to the classes. We believe 9 it is. In Professor Ramaswamy's final conclusion, even in his 10 supplemental report, is that given that the parties had reached 11 this agreement I believe in the fall of 2004 the better view of 12 the value of the unlocking under the original settlement is 13 that it was worth conservatively $25 million given the amount 14 of lock stock that was then owned by the plan and that would 15 have been added to the plan, the five years come enhanced after 16 the settlement.
17 So the independent fiduciary has reviewed the new 18 numbers that Professor Ramaswamy has put forth and continues to 19 believe that the settlement is fair and the result and 20 beneficial to the class and the result in arms length
21 negotiation.
22 THE COURT: The independent fiduciary is who?
23 MR. CIOLKO: Great Bank Trust.
24 THE COURT: OK. Thank you.
25 MR. CLAYTON: And their counsel, your Honor, is Hogan
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

0 6BFAACITC Conference 8
1 and Hartsen --
2 MR. CIOLKO: Yes.
3 THE COURT: Now, the one sort of premise or structural 4 element of the Ramaswamy supplemental report that I'm not quite 5 sure I followed to my complete satisfaction was his pegging of 6 the valuations to a December 31, 2004 date. It wasn't clear to 7 me whether in running the numbers on the diversification as 8 against risk value of unlocking stock he was making some sort 9 of, including some sort of assumption as to the opportunity for 10 additional, capturing of additional market value in some 11 retroactive period that isn't applying here.
12 MR. CIOLKO: Do you mean -- and I actually had a 13 similar question, your Honor. I think the assumptions that 14 Professor Ramaswamy made when starting in 2004 he was working 15 on the assumption, one, that the one year lock would be in 16 place going forward for five years, and, two, that he estimated 17 the amount of matching contributions that would be made in 18 those five years and took the value of the additional monies
19 that would be unlocked versus the five year unlock. I don't 20 think he was taking any additional figures in a pretty 21 retroactive manner. Maybe the easiest way to say this I think 22 he utilized the same assumptions in his first calculations as 23 in his second. If anything his numbers are conservative
24 because he would not take into account either the immediate 25 unlock that was negotiated after the settlement or the fact
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

0 6BFAACITC Conference 9
1 that the -- I think the simply answer is that that was the 2 numbers that he has given, the latest numbers that we had for the plan that he could define what future contributions would be compared to what past contributions were.

THE COURT: So as far as you know none of the numbers that go into his new eight to 16 or 17 million dollar range assume that a participant would have been able to reinvest at some point between December 31, 2004 and today stock that actually remained locked up during all or part of that period that could not physically have been taken to the bank as it were and actually diversified.

MR. CIOLKO: I think that's right. I think that's exactly right under both. I don't think he could. I think in his mind he did -- I think I understand your question and I apologize, your Honor. He wanted to, in order to do that he would have made the calculations more complicated. I think he wanted a more conservative approach. He assumed that the value of the stock that was unlocked could be diversified, but that was it. There was no additional -- in his supplemental analysis there was no additional stock he said would be able to be unlocked even though effectively it couldn't have been cause it wasn't unlocked.

THE COURT: All right. Just another question. Where does the implementation of the unlocking provisions stand as of today when I haven't yet signed the final order approving?

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

6BFAACITC Conference

Have accounts actually been unlocked or accounts still unlocked and awaiting the great release as it were?

MR. CIOLKO: That might be a question better answered by Mr. Clayton.

MR. CLAYTON: Yes, your Honor. We have not yet implemented that as the papers indicate under the stipulation in part of the settlement in part of the New Pension Act and some other factors Citi decided, not as matter of compulsion under the settlement but as a matter of administration, completely to unlock these shares to go beyond even the one year restriction and that is, we believe, scheduled to happen at the start of the new year '07.

THE COURT: 1/1/07?

MR. CLAYTON: Maybe a few days after 1/1/07 but it's January '07.

THE COURT: Thank you. Now, that gives me the predicate for asking one more time the question that I was trying to formulate.

Does any of the numbers, to counsel's knowledge, in the Ramaswamy report assume that participants could have at any point prior to today invested stock that is in Citigroup stock and locked under the current terms of the plan in some other investment that would match their assumed risk and target return profile?

(212) 805-0300

6BFAACITC Conference

MR. CIOLKO: No, your Honor. What I think the assumption was that once your Honor signed the settlement and the -- were put into effect certain previously locked stock would be available for divestment at that date, and that number was included in Professor Ramaswamy's calculations because it would be. Formerly, there had been stock that say was, granted in 2003, subject to a five year lock, that assuming that the

8 defendants had not, Citigroup had not changed their locking
 9 provision it would be subject to one year locking and 10 effectively would have been immediately available for 11 investment. So he took that into account, but immediately
 12 available for investment upon the date of the change.
 13 THE COURT: Yes. Prospectively.
 14 MR. CIOLKO: Prospectively.
 15 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. Is that it? That 16 was my one question.
 17 MR. CIOLKO: That's it. One other thing.
 18 I know we had given your Honor a modified final 19 order --
 20 THE COURT: Yes.
 21 MR. CIOLKO: -- for your review. And thank you for 22 the suggested revision. Mr. Trinko also has a modified fee
 23 award quarter which we have shown to defendants and they're 24 fine with the substance of it. But we literally had just 25 finalized this today.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

12

1 THE COURT: It's been modified proposed fee order
 2 accompanied by an affidavit that lays out whatever additional 3 work you want me to factor into the Loadstar calculation on the 4 supplemental analysis?
 5 MR. CIOLKO: To be honest with you, your Honor, we 6 didn't actually include that. Because the Loadstar number was 7 so close to one effectively we're asking for our fees which in 8 this type of case we think it's reasonable in this situation,
 9 in fact, the defendants had agreed to a fee request up to a
 10 million dollars. We thought that given the tally and the 11 circumstances that what we were asking for was essentially what 12 our fees would be with no multiplier. So any additional work
 13 that we put in would just be clarifying something that came 14 along out of the blue. We could put the additional hours in 15 and it would actually be a fractional multiplier.
 16 THE COURT: Let me put it this way, if you are asking 17 me to award a greater amount of dollars then you asked me the 18 last time on account of what you had done have you documented
 19 that if you are asking me the same number?
 20 MR. CIOLKO: Same number.
 21 MR. TRINKO: The only revision that was made to our 22 fee order, your Honor, was just to note that we're having the 23 supplemental hearing and just to indicate just as to why.
 24 THE COURT: Thank you.
 25 MR. TRINKO: If I could approach, your Honor, I'll 1 hand it up.

 2 THE COURT: Yes.
 3 (Pause)
 4 THE COURT: Mr. Clayton, did you or any of your 5 colleagues wish to be heard?
 6 MR. CLAYTON: Very little to say, your Honor.
 7 We appreciate the Court's time and the fact that we 8 have been able to make some supplemental submissions so that 9 the Court has a full record before it. We think this is a 10 quite reasonable settlement. We did make it sufficient, as 11 your Honor knows, concerning some recent changes to the Citi
 12 plans. We wanted that to be on the record here, but we do not

6BFAACITC.txt

13 believe that those changes have any effect on this settlement.
14 Thank you, your Honor.

15 MR. CIOLKO: Your Honor, one more thing.
16 You asked at the previous hearing that we also answer
17 a question whether any portion or provision of Pension
18 Protection Act was violated by term of settlement or was in 19 conflict with and we've reviewed it and it is not.

20 THE COURT: Thank you. And I think you also made that 21 representation in the written submission.

22 Well, I do thank you for your extensive original and 23 supplemental submissions in support of this proposed 24 settlement. The proposed orders cover much, if not all, of the 25 technical ground that I need to cover in terms of approving the

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

6BFAACITC Conference

1 settlement. I will make a few further remarks on the record
2 and these remarks and the orders that I will sign will
3 constitute the Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law
4 for purposes of Rule 52.

5 I note that the Court has jurisdiction of these 6 matters pursuant to Section 1132 of Title 29 of ARISSA as well
7 as Section 1331 of Title 28 of the U.S.C.

8 I find for the reasons documented at some length in 9 the submissions that these were arms length negotiations.

10 I also find that the parties and their attorneys were 11 creative in approaching the legal issues presented and the 12 challenge of coming up with meaningful and constructive relief
13 for plan members in the context of a settlement and that it was 14 the product of arms length bargaining.

15 I have considered the requisite Agran nel factors in 16 relation to the substantive terms of the settlement. Just to 17 remark with respect to the reaction of the class as documented, 18 again, at some length in the original submissions there were 19 very few objections filed, a fraction of one percent of the 20 class and only eight of those, something like 11 objections
21 made specific comment on features of the settlement.

22 At least one of those letters requested that there be 23 no lock up at all, as I recall, and I note that the ultimate 24 result here including the voluntary plan changes eliminating 25 the lock up provisions address or would moot even that

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

15

1 objection.

2 The Court has taken seriously its obligation to 3 consider the propriety and fairness of the settlement even as 4 to non objecting class members and finds that the requisite
5 factors are well and properly addressed here, that the risks of 6 litigation are well responded to and balanced in this
7 settlement. It is a non monetary settlement.

8 I find that it is reasonable under the circumstances,
9 given the nature of the litigation and the legal risks and 10 novel issues presented here, I do find based on the analyses by 11 Professor Ramaswamy that there is real monetary value going to 12 class members in connection with the settlement by virtue of 13 the elimination of what we had been calling the lock up
14 provisions in the plan, that the settlement provisions for 15 elimination and or carve back of the lock up provisions are 16 more generous than those now mandated by law under the Pension
17 Protection Act of 2006. And that the additionally voluntary

6BFAACITC.txt

18 step taken by Citigroup improves that benefit to plan
 19 participants even more.
 20 I also find that the educational investment -- I'm 21 going to say advisory but not necessarily in the technical 22 sense of word -- provisions of the settlement are also 23 beneficial to and meaningful for class members.
 24 I also find that final certification of the class in 25 connection with this settlement is appropriate and that the
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

6BFAACITC

Conference

1 requisite factors are met pursuant to Rules 23(A) and 23 (B)
 2 (1) and (2) of the Federal Rules of Civil procedure.
 3 I further find having considered the Loadstar
 4 calculations with respect to the fee application and the 5 Goldberger factors that the fees request is both reasonable and 6 appropriate in relation to the work performed in risks faced by 7 class counsel here, and, therefore, I find that it's 8 appropriate to approve the proposed settlement, certify in 9 connection with that settlement the class and award the 10 requested attorney's fees and expenses.
 11 Is there anything further that counsel feel I should 12 address orally on the record in addition to the matters that 13 are covered in the proposed orders?
 14 MR. CIOLKO: Thank you very much, your Honor.
 15 The matter of the case contribution award for the 16 individual plaintiffs.
 17 THE COURT: Yes. I have considered carefully as well
 18 the proposed case contribution award and I find that it is 19 reasonable and appropriate in structure and amount and so that 20 application is approved as well.
 21 Now, that is not covered in these revised orders that 22 you gave me, is it? I don't remember it being covered in the 23 revised orders, the final judgment order dismissal.
 24 MR. CIOLKO: It maybe in the separate proposed fee
 25 order. That's right.

1 THE COURT: It's in the --
 2 MR. TRINKO: Paragraph five, your Honor.
 3 THE COURT: Yes. Thank you.
 4 All right, then, give me just one moment.
 5 Let's see. And the request I have to confess that 6 that was an aspect of it that I focused on at least one hearing
 7 ago. So the specific request for the case contribution award
 8 the amount requested was what?
 9 MR. CIOLKO: It was $2500 per plaintiff.
 10 THE COURT: Yes. And I had considered that and had 11 concluded that it was an appropriate amount. So I will fill
 12 that in. And the figure that you were seeking in attorney's
 13 fees and expenses.
 14 MR. CIOLKO: The attorney's fees I believe were 15 $750,000.
 16 THE COURT: And the expenses number is what?
 17 MR. CIOLKO: 31,921.
 18 THE COURT: 31,921?
 19 MR. CIOLKO: That's right.
 20 THE COURT: And on the final judgment and order of 21 dismissal I've crossed out the word "corrected" in the title
 22 since I've never entered one before, so this can be the final

5 judgment and order of dismissal with today's date and signed
6 that as well as the attorney fee and class representative case
7 contribution award order and I wish to thank and congratulate

9 I know it has been a very long road for you and it's 10 got to be fun to work on something that's precedent setting as

THE COURT: We are here for a fairness hearing in this class action and derivative action in the Interpublic Group matter, and I think what I would like to do is divide this into two sections, talk about the approval of the settlements first and then move to a discussion of the attorney's fees request second. And in each case I think what I would like to do is start first with the class action and then move to the derivative action.

I have read everybody's papers. I have thought about these matters. I have a draft opinion. And because of the conferences that we had in the summer and the issues that were discussed at that time, I feel I had an opportunity to ask pertinent questions about the terms of the settlement and, therefore, I don't have a lot of questions about whether or not the settlement should be approved. I have read the objections.

I do have a few questions that I want to pin down with some facts.

I would like the number of opt-outs as we understand it right now because I know that has been a shifting number.

I would like to know the dollar amount or the equivalent dollar amount of what the settlement is worth today to the extent that we can know that, and how that number relates to the second part of what we will do today converts into an attorney's fee in class action.

I may have missed it, but I don't believe I have a submission from the class representative for the True North class opining on the settlement -- at least I didn't see one in the papers most recently submitted, but I would like to read that if I have overlooked it.

So, Mr. Schiffrin, why don't I turn to you.

Final Hearing Trans..txt

7 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Judge, may I use the podium?
 8 THE COURT: Sure.
 9 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Thank you.
 10 Judge, to answer the questions that you asked before I
 11 begin my presentation, the closing price of the stock yesterday
 12 was 11 dollars, I believe, and 73 cents. That would translate
 13 into a total value for the settlement of $96.8 million. I am
 14 not aware of the trading price of the stock today.
 15 THE COURT: So the stock equivalent is something like 16 76.8?
 17 MR. SCHIFFRIN: That's right.
 18 The 10-day average upon which the $8.70 guaranteed
 19 minimum is above $11, so that 8.70 guarantee does not come into 20 play. I mean, it is well above it so, obviously, it does not 21 come into play. The per-share recovery is $24.9 based upon
 22 yesterday's closing price, and I can do the calculation, if you
 23 want, for attorney's fees but it is just multiplying by 24 whatever percent, if the Court is inclined to do that.
 25 THE COURT: So at 17 percent --

1 MR. SCHIFFRIN: -- it would be 16.46 million.
 2 THE COURT: Thank you.
 3 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Judge, you did not miss a submission
 4 by Mr. McClain. We spoke to Mr. McClain about the settlement,
 5 obviously, prior to reaching it. We spoke to him about the 6 settlement after we had reached it and about the submission of 7 papers and attorney's fees and he was content.
 8 I did not tell him that there was a requirement that 9 he file an affidavit or submission, and he asked simply that I
 10 communicate his support of the settlement and the attorney fee
 11 request. I could go back and get a submission from him if the 12 Court required it, but I didn't think that you did, so I didn't 13 ask for that.
 14 Judge, I think that I will skip the preliminaries.
 15 THE COURT: The number of opt-outs?
 16 MR. SCHIFFRIN: The number of opt-outs is 19.
 17 THE COURT: Is that a pretty firm number?
 18 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Well, the opt-out period ended on the 19 27th of September. I am not sure if we are counting any 20 opt-outs received after the 27th.
 21 MS. RYAN: All the ones that we submitted to the Court
 22 were timely.
 23 MR. SCHIFFRIN: So I think that is a firm number.
 24 Judge, I think I will skip the preliminaries, the fact
 25 that notice was sent pursuant to your order.

1 The Court will note that there were a couple of 2 objections to the settlement and a couple of objections to the 3 fee. I think one individual objected to both. Obviously, we 4 laid out in our papers what we thought was pertinent for the 5 Court and for the class.
 6 On the issue of the appropriateness of the settlement,
 7 I would like to simply highlight a few points and make a few
 8 observations.
 9 I think that the settlement is fair, reasonable and 10 adequate. I think it is a very good settlement under the 11 circumstances. We really had a couple of challenges in this

Final Hearing Trans..txt

12 case.
 13 THE COURT: Do you believe that the litigation should 14 have been brought?
 15 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Yes, absolutely.
 16 THE COURT: Do you think a litigation like this should 17 be brought whenever there is a restatement?
 18 MR. SCHIFFRIN: I think it is possible to have a 19 restatement that, perhaps on its face, may seem to be 20 appropriate for a class action suit, but once you get behind
 21 it, you determine that in fact it is not. That is the argument
 22 that the defendants advanced here.
 23 I would say, a restatement does not necessarily equate
 24 to securities fraud.
 25 THE COURT: So what distinguished this restatement
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

1 that made you believe that it was appropriate to sue?
 2 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Well, the restatement involved what I
 3 believe to be a systemic problem. This was not an isolated 4 problem that occurred in one office; it was a problem which the 5 evidence indicates was known to the company for a long period
 6 of time. There are documents --
 7 THE COURT: No. Putting yourself at the point in 8 which you filed the suit.
 9 MR. SCHIFFRIN: At the point that we filed the suit,
 10 we obviously had only the ability to do a minimal
 11 investigation. And what we believed then was that the company
 12 had restated three times before they got the figure right,
 13 which we thought itself was an indicia of some serious problem
 14 and that the problem seemed to be a longstanding one.
 15 We really could not get the kind of detailed 16 information that we subsequently received.
 17 Obviously, that view was shared by others. I think
 18 there were 18 or so lawsuits filed.
 19 I think, it is a legitimate question to be asked: Are 20 we in a position to make the kind of evaluation necessary to 21 determine that a lawsuit is appropriate?
 22 And I will tell you, Judge, that there are times when 23 it is a close question, that you really don't find out the 24 answer to that question until after the fact.
 25 THE COURT: How much did the existence of the
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

1 informant about South American operations affect the decision
 2 to file the lawsuit?
 3 MR. SCHIFFRIN: The information that we got from the 4 informant came at around the time we filed the lawsuit, so most
 5 of the information we received from him was after the lawsuit
 6 was filed. But it was one of those situations where you are 7 told, There is a lot going on here. There is a lot more.
 8 There is a lot that is not yet known.
 9 Actually, the situation with the informant was 10 somewhat interesting because this is an individual who 11 indicated that he could provide documents, witnesses and 12 information that both bolstered our case as well as supported 13 other claims against the company. And it was a person who we 14 sat down with face to face who gave us information, gave us
 15 witness names, dates, times, places -- someone who seemed quite 16 credible. But through the course of the litigation as we

Final Hearing Trans..txt

17 followed up on that information, ultimately, we were unable to 18 substantiate his claims.

19 I don't know if the Court remembers reading this, but 20 in our submission, in my declaration is a statement to the 21 effect that during one of the depositions that was taken, the 22 defendants claim, This is a guy who was committing improper --

23 THE COURT: Right. He was the wrongdoer.

24 MR. SCHIFFRIN: He was not the wrongdoer for the 25 purposes of the case that we are settling.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

1 THE COURT: Even from the motion to dismiss case, it
2 was clear that it was a real disconnect.

3 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Right. I am not willing, obviously,
4 to join in that view. I saw no reason to think that what he 5 was telling us was untrue.

6 I have been around, Judge. I have practiced in the 7 criminal field as a public defender for seven years. I think I
8 have some reasonably good judge of people and their
9 credibility. But at the same time he made a lot of promises
10 that he was not able to substantiate, and that did not advance
11 the course of this case.

12 So while on the one hand I think that when you have a
13 triple restatement, when you have a problem which the evidence 14 demonstrates was known for a long period of time, there are 15 documents indicating that there had been complaints about the 16 internal controls, that there was an inability for the company
17 to act in an appropriate manner in terms of reconciling these 18 accounts and they chose to ignore that problem, and when the 19 restatement was finally announced, there was a significant
20 stock drop. I look at that, Judge, and as far as I am
21 concerned, I see a 10(b)(5) violation that is actionable, and I
22 think that it was appropriate to have brought this case and,
23 ultimately, to have resolved this case.

24 But I am not unmindful of the fact that, on the 25 liability side, we would have to prove intentional conduct or

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

10

1 recklessness, that negligence would not get us there and the 2 defendants would obviously take the position, well, the 3 internal controls were a little weak and there was some sloppy
4 bookkeeping, but that doesn't equate to an intent to defraud.

5 You can read some of these documents and, depending 6 upon your point of view, you can take them one of two ways. I
7 saw documents which said that I have been complaining about 8 this problem for years and nobody is doing anything about it.

9 Now, if I show a document like that to a jury, I would
10 hope that a jury would look at that document and say, OK, well,
11 what more do you want?

12 On the other hand, Mr. Clayton is going to say that 13 these were immaterial amounts of money, that this was a large
14 enterprise spread out over 140 offices, that their controls
15 were imperfect, but nobody was trying to defraud anyone; they 16 were simply trying to operate their business in an efficient
17 manner, and they did it imperfectly. And now they are 18 improving it and individuals were not selling stock. And this 19 is not an Enron or WorldCom, it is not in that league, and it
20 just doesn't pass the level of the kind of intentional reckless 21 conduct necessary for a 10(b)(5). That would be a huge hurdle.

Final Hearing Trans..txt

22 Another hurdle was created by your Honor's opinion in 23 dismissing the individuals in the 10(b)(5) counts. It is 24 unusual to be proceeding in a case where you have no
 25 individuals but, rather, just the corporation that you are
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

 bringing a 10(b)(5) claim against.
 Obviously, I do not think that is an insurmountable hurdle, but I am not unmindful of the fact that it is an atypical situation and gives rise to arguments on the other side: wait a second. Who are the people responsible? Why aren't they here?
 So those are the challenges related to liability.
 There were the challenges related to damages. The defendants took a position that, fundamentally, these amounts were immaterial. And that in fact not only were they immaterial, but we would be unable to connect up the drop in the price in stock to the announcement of this information regarding the restatement.
 And I admit that this was daunting because you had a progression of events where the company announced there was a delay and the stock took a huge drop. Then they announced a restatement and the stock increased. That was the $68 million restatement on August 13.
 Then in October they said, No, it is 120 million, but we have problems this quarter. We have problems going forward.
 And in the overall context of that announcement, it is not clear what was really driving the market when the stock went down 30 percent.
 The final announcement raising the restatement from 120 to 180 caused no discernible move in the market. The stock
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

 dropped 40 cents, which our expert says is not statistically significant.
 We went around and around with the expert trying to
 drop and figure out what portion was due to the restatement, what portion was due to the current quarter negative information and what portion was due to the future outlook, the negative future outlook.
 And they said that it would be difficult because this is forensic economics, and we were dealing with a Ms. Preston who was leading that team. They did an analysis in which they were trying to figure out whether the rise in the price of the stock on August 13 was a measure of determining -- this is a somewhat novel view -- how much the market was in fact reacting to this restatement.
 I imagine that Mr. Clayton, if this case had progressed, would have had a myriad of arguments to make. Our damage analysis, I will tell you, at the time this case was settled, was still a work in progress. That is putting aside the argument advanced by Mr. Clayton at the beginning of this case and throughout, up until today -- and he and I just spoke of it several minutes ago -- that $101 million, which was the amount of the restatement attributable to the fraudulent conduct, was the highest level of damages that plaintiffs could possibly claim.

4AMUINTC

1 Now, I rejected that argument in the beginning. I
2 rejected it in the middle and I reject it today. I think that
3 he is wrong. If the Court were to call me up over the weekend,
4 I would reject it then. I don't buy that argument as a matter
5 of law. But I will say, without revealing what I think is a
6 confidential conversation that when we were in front of 7 Magistrate Judge Gorenstein and that issue came up, his 8 response to me was, well, that is an intriguing argument.

9 Now, I couldn't tell whether Judge Gorenstein, being a 10 very effective mediator, was throwing that out to me because he 11 wanted me to have as many doubts as I could legitimately have 12 about my case and, obviously, I don't know what he was saying
13 to the defendants or whether he was suggesting that in fact
14 there could be a substantial legal basis for that. But if that 15 were the measure of damages in the case, then standing here
16 today, the settlement would represent 95 percent of the value
17 of the damages.

18 So I don't know if it is 95 percent. I don't think it
19 is. I think it is the range we gave, the 400 to 900 range.
20 Difficult as it would be, perhaps, to get a jury to accept 21 those numbers, I think that, ultimately, they would accept the 22 fact that some portion of this $5 drop on October 16 was 23 attributable to the restatement and that the defendants should 24 be compensated in a class for that.

25 THE COURT: The 465 figure and the 909 figure, I am
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

4AMUINTC

1 not sure I captured what the difference was. I thought that 2 the 909 figure was an aggressive damages estimate based on 3 stock price movement over the entire class period.

4 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Yes.

5 THE COURT: And the 465 is an aggressive figure based 6 on stock price movement, perhaps, on August 13 unadjusted for 7 any competing factor that may have affected stock price other
8 than general market movement, is that right?

9 MR. SCHIFFRIN: I guess that the answer is yes and no.
10 Yes, that is one of the ways that the experts looked at it, but 11 they tried to analyze it a number of different ways.

12 Another way that they tried to analyze it was simply 13 to look at the stock drop on October 16 and say, OK, you have a 14 $5 stock drop and you have the announcement of three pieces of 15 information.

16 THE COURT: Yes. You make an analysis of the fairness
17 of the settlement based on these two figures, and I just want
18 to make sure that I have a correct understanding of those two 19 figures.

20 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Yes, you do, Judge.

21 So those were the hurdles that we faced and,
22 ultimately, we ended up resolving this case in a way that I
23 think is creative and appropriate.

24 I will tell you, Judge, I do have a bias in this kind
25 of litigation in favor of a stock component to a securities

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

4AMUINTC

1 class settlement. And that bias is based upon the fact that if
2 one can be persuaded that the company's problems that gave rise

Final Hearing Trans..txt

3 to the fraud are behind them and that the company is 4 fundamentally a sound organization with, if not a prosperous
5 future, with a good future, and that there's no inherent
6 weakness in the company then, I think, to the extent that you
7 can have a stock component to a settlement, you can put
8 adversaries on the same side of the table. I think that you
9 can create a greater value because I think that you can reach a
10 higher number. And I think that everyone then has an interest
11 in the company prospering.

12 Now, we had a problem here, Judge, because there was a
13 limited amount of insurance. And, indeed, there were three $10
14 million insurance policies and one of those insurance policies
15 involved an entity which itself is having financial 16 difficulties. So it was not clear whether they would have an 17 ability to pay. Obviously, there was a resistance by the 18 carriers, as there typically is, towards paying anything. As 19 we began these negotiations it was clear to me that the 20 company's position was, we are not paying any cash. If you can 21 get it out of the carriers, that is fine.

22 Now, that would set 20 million, I suppose, as the 23 limit of a cash recovery if I were to accept the statement that 24 there's no cash beyond whatever you can get out of the 25 carriers. So I don't accept that 20 million as an absolute

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

4AMUINTC

1 number. But, nevertheless, it was clear to me that a 30-, 40-,
2 50-, 60-, 70-million-dollar settlement in cash was not
3 achievable and, in fact, once you reach a certain level in 4 terms of stock consideration, it is not even desirable. So I
5 would rather have a $96 million settlement today with the 6 component of stock that we have than have, for example, a $30
7 million cash settlement or a $40 million cash settlement or a
8 $50 million cash settlement.

9 At somewhere along the way you have to make a
10 judgment. We did spend a good deal of time with investment
11 bankers. We looked at the reports of the company, the 12 investment banking coverage reports, and our client is very 13 sophisticated. Mike Berlin, who is the general counsel and 14 holds a variety of titles at Private Asset Management, they 15 manage a billion dollars worth of securities. He is the one,
16 Judge, I believe, that submitted an affidavit --

17 THE COURT: I read it.

18 MR. SCHIFFRIN: -- a very sophisticated man and was 19 quite bullish --

20 THE COURT: I think it manages half a billion.

21 MR. SCHIFFRIN: You could be right. I am impressed,
22 Judge. I think you are right. I think it is a half a billion.

23 Nevertheless, he is someone that we have known for a
24 few years. He is an impressive guy. As we sat and talked 25 about this case on a number of occasions, he made it clear that

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

4AMUINTC

1 he believed there was a lot of long-term value in this stock
2 and that it would be appropriate and desirable, if we could do
3 it, to get a large stock component.

4 We then had the issue -- I don't know if this goes
5 more to fees than to the fairness of the settlement -- but 6 there was an issue of, at what point do you set the stock price
7 for determining the number of shares. And that became the

Final Hearing Trans..txt

8 subject of several months of negotiation, as well as the issue
 9 of whether you provide a floor.
 10 Now, Mr. Clayton made it clear to me that he did not
 11 want a floor without a ceiling. And that is kind of a standard
 12 answer that I hear from defense counsel, and usually that's 13 what happens. I am unable to achieve getting something without 14 giving something up.
 15 My client, Mike Berlin, said that he would not accept 16 any ceiling in this case and so, therefore, I had to figure out
 17 how I could get some kind of a floor without setting a ceiling.
 18 There were some intense negotiations that went on, the 19 issue of what we set, what stock price we use. I believe that 20 the stock was trading at 14.50 at one point. Then it was up at 21 $16. Mr. Clayton suggested that we set the stock price on the 22 day that we perhaps signed the settlement agreement or we pick
 23 some day in the future.
 24 I was concerned the stock price might be at 17 or 18
 25 or 19 dollars at that point and we would be receiving a lesser

 1 number of shares. Obviously, there is no guarantee. The stock
 2 is below 14.50. That was the subject of negotiation. We
 3 compromised. We chose, I think, a 45-day average that got us
 4 back down to 14.50, and that is the price we agreed on. All of 5 these things were a part of the process of negotiation.
 6 I have been through a lot of these cases. I have 7 negotiated a lot of cases with stock components and, having 8 done that, I felt that I was in a position, rather than 9 starting at the beginning, I could kind of jump more to the end
 10 and cut through a lot and perhaps get a bit more for the class
 11 than I might have been able to if I was litigating a case like 12 this five years ago.
 13 I have not been able to get as large a downside floor
 14 without giving up anything on the upside prior to this case.
 15 So I was very pleased with that. I don't mean in any way to 16 devalue what Mr. Clayton did. He is a very, very fine lawyer.
 17 I have grown fond of him through the course of this litigation,
 18 but I am pleased with the results we achieved and believe that 19 this settlement is certainly fair, reasonable and adequate
 20 under the appropriate legal standards.
 21 THE COURT: Thank you.
 22 There was notice that one of the objectors wanted to 23 be heard at the fairness hearing.

1 this nature focus upon the corporate governance issues at the 2 company that led to the company being sued and accused of 3 securities fraud, and this is a case where the company was 4 accused thereof.
 5 The Court upheld the complaint against the company, at 6 least on the ground that fraud could be pled against them with 7 particularity. Our allegations were not for fraud but, rather,
 8 for gross mismanagement, except for the claim under the 9 Sarbanes-Oxley Act, which was a statutory forfeiture claim.
 10 THE COURT: Mr. Paskowitz, this may seem off the 11 point, but Mr. Jacobs has attended many of the conferences that 12 I have had. I notice that you both have the same address and,
 13 in fact, the same suite number. What is your relationship with 14 Mr. Jacobs's firm.
 15 MR. PASKOWITZ: Mr. Jacobs and I started out at a firm
 16 called Wolf Popper many, many years ago. It is a well-known
 17 securities firm. And at that firm we worked together for many,
 18 many years. We both left the firm at about the same time.
 19 Mr. Jacobs started his own firm. I started my own firm.
 20 We are small practitioners. We each only have one or 21 two lawyers in our office, so in order to handle cases of some 22 size against defense lawyers that are large and deal with 23 matters that involve a lot of documents and issues, Mr. Jacobs
 24 and I often affiliate as co-counsel in these cases and 25 represent the same plaintiff.

1 THE COURT: Thank you.
 2 MR. PASKOWITZ: Again, the allegations in this
 3 derivative action, like many others, look at the corporate
 4 governance, look at the longstanding problems of the company
 5 that were alleged, the items or complaints that were ignored,
 6 the accounting deficiencies that seemed to have gone on for a
 7 long time without being corrected and then, when corrected,
 8 seemed to have been corrected several times over a course of 9 months. The company didn't have a handle on what was going on 10 during the period in which these restatements began, so we had 11 a series of three restatements.
 12 So there were indications that the board, particularly 13 the audit committee of the board, were in dereliction of their 14 duties to oversee this company's affairs as carefully as they 15 should have.
 16 We also brought claims against the accountants based 17 upon the prolonged knowledge of these issues and the inaction

Final Hearing Trans..txt

18 regarding them until the company was in very serious trouble.
 19 we brought claims against the accountant for breach of 20 contract, not performing their accounting duties properly.
 21 Further, since this case did involve restatements, we 22 brought claims under the forfeiture provision, Section 304 of 23 the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 which provides specifically that 24 the CEO and the CFO are to forfeit any compensation received

 1 financial, and that is to prevent unjust enrichment.
 2 Although the statute has not been interpreted by the 3 federal court, the standard there goes beyond, perhaps,
 4 negligence and includes wrongdoing, although Congress has not
 5 provided much guidance on what type of wrongdoing, whether that 6 is wrongdoing in the nature of gross negligence, wrongdoing in 7 the nature of intentional wrongdoing as would be affected by 8 scienter, and even whether it is the wrongdoing of the CEO or 9 the CFO which is the requisite wrongdoing.
 10 Furthermore, Congress has not specifically provided
 11 that a corporation may assert these claims. Defendants on the 12 motion to dismiss said that that power is vested solely in the 13 SEC. We said that that doesn't make any sense because it is 14 forfeiture of these compensation items back to the corporation.
 15 And other sections of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act
 16 prohibited private rights of action, yet Section 304 does not.
 17 So we assert that there is certainly a private right of action
 18 that could be asserted by the corporation. And it follows that 19 if it could be asserted by the corporation, it could be 20 asserted derivatively as well on behalf of the corporation.
 21 THE COURT: Now, I notice that Mr. Karpus, your 22 client, was the plaintiff in the state court action.
 23 MR. PASKOWITZ: Yes, your Honor.
 24 THE COURT: And represented there by Mr. Felgoise.

 1 plaintiff named Eduardo Braia.
 2 THE COURT: Also in the state court action?
 3 MR. PASKOWITZ: Also in the state court action.
 4 THE COURT: But you were in the state court action too
 5 on behalf of Mr. Karpus?
 6 MR. PASKOWITZ: Yes. Mr. Jacobs and I brought an 7 action on behalf of Mr. Karpus, affiliating as we usually do in 8 these cases. Mr. Felgoise brought a separate action on behalf
 9 of a plaintiff called Eduardo Braia.
 10 THE COURT: Also in state court?
 11 MR. PASKOWITZ: Also in state court.
 12 THE COURT: And you both chose to dismiss the state
 13 court action?
 14 MR. PASKOWITZ: Yes, in favor of the federal court
 15 action because the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, in Section 2, said that 16 any Sarbanes-Oxley Act is to be construed as if it is brought 17 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 which vests exclusive 18 jurisdiction in the federal courts. So we did not want to 19 split causes of action.
 20 And once we had officially investigated the various 21 statements made that constitute the legislative history of the 22 Sarbanes-Oxley Act and any cases that we could find, we

Final Hearing Trans..txt

23 determined that there was a viable claim under the 24 Sarbanes-Oxley Act that should be asserted, could only be 25 asserted in the federal court. So another complaint was filed

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

4AMUINTC

1 in the federal court asserting that claim, asserting the state
2 law claims under this Court's supplemental or pendent
3 jurisdiction. And it proceeded in this court from that point
4 on.

5 Mr. Felgoise assisted in the litigation going forward
6 because he had gained familiarity with this entire case, with 7 the process, with the legal issues, so he continued in the 8 case.

9 The main hurdle for plaintiffs in the derivative
10 action is the demand requirement. And since this corporation
11 was incorporated in Delaware, the demand requirement was 12 governed by Delaware law.

13 Ordinarily, a corporation which has a majority of 14 independent directors should proceed with the demand, but there
15 are exceptions. We cited several.

16 One is when a corporation has taken a position on the 17 litigation. And we cited several instances in which a
18 corporation in an answer denied the allegations in publicly
19 filed documents, said that the allegations are without merit
20 and that these are documents filed on behalf of the company
21 and, presumably, on behalf of the board as well.

22 THE COURT: why do you think the Delaware action was 23 voluntarily dismissed after the motion to dismiss had been 24 filed?

25 MR. PASKOWITZ: The Delaware action brought by other

1 firms? I don't really know. I know that the allegations were 2 very different in that action and that motions had been made on 3 demand requirements in that action. And the plaintiffs in that 4 case decided just not to go ahead with the motion. Obviously,
5 it is not a decision that I would have made because we did go
6 ahead with the motion, and it was fully briefed at the time
7 that this case was settled.

8 I thought that we had a fairly good argument,
9 particularly with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act claim because there,
10 if you are going by the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as the 11 governing law of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and if the standard is 12 gross negligence rather than scienter, and it is unclear, all
13 you have is one year to bring the claim.

14 During the years in which this action was pending, the 15 directors never brought the claim. They would have allowed the 16 statute to lapse. We were the only ones who were protecting 17 and preserving that claim.

18 We also felt that the directors, over time, in the 19 their answers and in documents had taken a position regarding 20 this litigation. And anyone that takes a position that there
21 is no wrongdoing is then not the proper party to prosecute this 22 action or even to receive a demand to prosecute this action.

23 I would never want to make a demand on the judge who 24 had already decided the case. That is what these directors
25 would be. And even if they were to receive a demand and to say

4AMUINTC

1 that they would pursue the case, I don't think anyone would say
 2 that they were independent in their pursuit of the case because 3 it would be against themselves. They had taken a position on 4 the case. And certainly they would have had a conflict because 5 I don't see how they could have simultaneously maintained in 6 the action brought by Mr. Schiffrin that certain things didn't 7 happen.

8 It also maintained derivatively that those things did
 9 happen and that the corporation deserves a recovery.

10 THE COURT: Do you want to address the benefit to the 11 shareholders?

12 MR. PASKOWITZ: Yes, your Honor.

13 In my view, derivative actions are most useful where 14 they achieve a corporate governance benefit. And one of the 15 things that we have to look at here is what events led to this 16 lawsuit being brought against IPG. Certainly nothing
 17 beneficial came out of it for IPG who we represent 18 derivatively.

19 It seems that there were weak internal controls, but 20 it also seemed to us that complaints, whistleblowers,
 21 informants were shunted aside, that their concerns were not 22 being heard, that there seemed to be a corporate culture where 23 these things were just not taken seriously, perhaps swept under 24 the carpet, perhaps ignored for too long.

25 And we heard not only what Mr. Schiffrin had to say on
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

4AMUINTC

1 that issue and from the informant in South America, we heard
 2 from at least one other person who said, I complained and I was 3 even fired. When I had my complaints heard, I was fired. And 4 that person is represented by a lawyer in a separate 5 proceeding.

6 So the main issue was: How do we prevent that from 7 happening again so that we don't have In Re IPG Litigation II?
 8 How do we get those these concerns to filter up to the proper
 9 parties to be heard?

10 At the time we negotiated the settlement,
 11 Sarbanes-Oxley Act had been passed. And it did have a
 12 provision for confidential reporting of concerns to management, 13 but that had not been fleshed out. There was no requirement of 14 any sort of independent ombudsman. There was no prescription
 15 as to how confidentiality was to be maintained. There were 16 really no details.

17 What we did, we went to see how various companies,
 18 including some very well known New York Stock Exchange
 19 companies were responding to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. Well,
 20 some of them, you can call up and get a recording, leave a 21 message. Don't have to leave your name, leave a message. That 22 was the concept of confidentiality there -- of course, your 23 voice may be recognized by your superior or somebody answering
 24 the phone. Others were not 24 hours, 7 days a week.

25 We looked at studies regarding confidential reporting
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

4AMUINTC

1 hotlines. And we found that employees who have something
 2 confidential to report or have a concern in their minds or 3 think they know of wrongdoing, often they are nervous about it.

often they are at work during the day. They call in the morning. They call after work. They call in the middle of the night.

So the best type of hotline, according to all of the white papers and the studies that have been rendered on this issue, said that you need a 24 hour a day, 7 day a week hotline.

Many companies were not doing this, are not doing this. So what we insisted upon was 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, confidentiality and, also, someone of a stature of what we eventually selected, Pinkerton, which is an investigative detective agency to handle these matters, in other words, professional investigators.

Other companies we looked at, it wasn't clear who was investigating these matters, whether the complaints were being recorded by anyone, what type of standards were being maintained to keep the confidentiality.

The plan that is in place with Pinkerton, which must be in place for at least five years if this Court approves this settlement, assures the confidentiality of the informant's information. Every call is answered by a professional investigator. It is open 24/7. They have the ability to

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

handle 120 different languages because IPG is an international company. Every call is logged. There is a record. No one can call up, like we saw with some other companies, leave a message and not know whether that message was heard, or erased or ignored. So we thought that was very, very important that be done the right way so that we do not have a recurrence of this problem.

THE COURT: My recollection from the conferences this summer is that IPG had already decided that it would meet its requirements under Sarbanes-Oxley by retaining outside investigative services to function as its ombudsman and that there was very little sort of flesh on the bones until I raised some inquiries at our initial conference and some more details got fleshed out thereafter.

MR. PASKOWITZ: Your Honor, it was my understanding that -- we had very, very early discussions about this. We had meetings right at the beginning of the case about this issue, about corporate governance. And we expressed exactly what we thought had to be done.

If later on, and I was not privy to their internal discussions about this, they decided that Pinkerton's met what we demanded, then that may be the way this evolved.

THE COURT: Mr. Clayton, can you shed some light on this because I don't want to get it wrong?

MR. CLAYTON: Yes, your Honor, we did discuss this.

THE COURT: Who is "we"?

MR. CLAYTON: We discussed this briefly with the Court at the preliminary conference and, yes, there were some very preliminary settlement discussions. I think that we had one meeting very early on with the derivative plaintiffs.

But in response to the Court's question -- I said then and I will say it again now -- the ombudsman that IPG put in was a decision of IPG. I cannot say to the Court that that

Final Hearing Trans..txt

9 decision was made or the details of the program chosen because 10 of this suit.

11 What we are doing here, which is different from what 12 otherwise would have happened, is that we have a five-year
13 commitment to maintain this program. I cannot represent to the 14 Court that anything that happened in settlement discussions or 15 anything in the progress of this derivative case had any 16 significant effect on IPG's choice of Pinkerton or choice of 17 the program.

18 We think it is beyond. It goes beyond Sarb-Ox, so our 19 commitment to do it for five years is not an empty commitment.
20 It is not that we are going to comply with the law for five 21 years. We have decided to go beyond the law because we think 22 it is a good thing to do for corporate governance. And because 23 of this case, if the Court approves the settlement, there will 24 be a written commitment that we don't change that decision for 25 five years.

1 THE COURT: Thank you.
2 MR. PASKOWITZ: Should I resume?
3 THE COURT: Yes. Why don't you say anything more on 4 that topic that you want and move to any other benefit that you
5 can identify.

6 MR. PASKOWITZ: Obviously, I don't disagree with 7 Mr. Clayton. As I said I was not privy to what went on in IPG.
8 I know that we expressed, what we wanted to see. If somehow
9 someone at IPG came to that conclusion, I don't know. The 10 answer was, when it came back to us, and said, This is what we 11 are going to do, that seemed to address the issue.

12 Certainly, it does go beyond Sarbanes-Oxley, and they 13 cannot drop it, change it, take a different course, go to what 14 some other companies do which is certainly less expensive.
15 They are locked in for at least five years, and I would hope
16 that they would do it for many more years than that.

17 On the other issue, which was the repricing of the 18 options, as we said in the motion for preliminary approval, it
19 is no longer commonplace. It still happens.

20 THE COURT: It has never happened at IPG?

21 MR. PASKOWITZ: It has never happened at IPG.

22 THE COURT: And here at IPG, it would require
23 shareholder approval which is, of course, an undertaking.

24 MR. PASKOWITZ: But easy to obtain, surprisingly, even 25 though there is a lot of shareholder dissension. You will find

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

32

1 that very often in a shareholder vote, there is no public
2 viewpoint ever expressed, and it says, In order to incentivize
3 our management, which seems somewhat disincentivized by the 4 drop in the stock price, we must reprice our options. So it is 5 a sword of Damocles over the heads of the shareholders.

6 Some savvy shareholders say, wait a second. That is
7 not right. They directors and officers want to be paid a
8 second time for the same performance, and they want to be 9 rewarded for fixing the damage that they have caused.

10 But when you don't have the type of vote here, the 11 company presents its view and there is an opposing view and 12 then the shareholder votes; very often these things are just 13 approved because shareholders are in the habit of approving

Final Hearing Trans..txt

14 them.

15 Just this week as we were preparing for this argument,
16 Tuesday of this week, there was another lawsuit on this issue,
17 a company called Ladis Semiconductor. We saw the article in a
18 regional newspaper. I can hand it up if the court wishes.
19 There, the plaintiff says, among other things, that the board
20 granted lavish stock option packages to its executives and that 21 option grants and the pricing in 2002 and 2003, not that long 22 ago, would cause potential dilution to existing shareholders of 23 7 percent of the entire value of the company. So when we were 24 preparing preliminary papers, we came up with several very 25 contentious issues this year. And now last Tuesday there is

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

33

1 yet another instance that makes the newspapers where
2 shareholders are complaining -- possibly rightly so, I don't
3 know that much about that case -- that these types of stock
4 options have hurt the company and hurt them.

5 IPG had not done it because, if you look at 6 Interpublic stock charts, it was a straight line up, for the 7 most part. Interpublic has now gone from at one point over $40
8 a share, and they were mainly in the $30 range, down to, as Mr.
9 Schifffrin pointed out, less than $12 today. That creates the 10 optimal conditions and incentive for repricing. And we are 11 talking about 2 million option shares here. If they were 12 repriced to 12 and the stock which arrives back up to where it
13 was and the directors were to exercise these options, they 14 would get tens of millions of dollars for bringing the company
15 right back to where it was before all of this happened, in 16 other words, being paid for the same performance twice or even 17 rewarded for actions taken that harm the company.

18 We felt that we could not live with that possibility,
19 even though we are told it is remote. We don't know that it is 20 remote. It is not so remote to companies that experience
21 cataclysmic stock drops. It is a very tempting thing to do and 22 companies are doing it all the time -- not just small 23 companies, large companies -- and shareholders continue to 24 complain and it continues to be done.

25 Now, it can't be done, except if we had a trigger.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

34

1 And the trigger is, right now, to obtain a price that is two
2 and a half times today's stock price. If this stock were to 3 hit 30, I think that the shareholders would be thrilled to see
4 the executive share in that good fortune. So when we hit the 5 threshold number of $30, the stock options can be repriced.

6 I think that is a real benefit. I have seen companies
7 do it again and again -- not as common as it was, but it does
8 happen. And I don't think that we would have been doing our 9 job if we allowed it to happen and said nothing. That would be 10 adding insult and injury to the shareholders. Our client
11 didn't want to see it. We didn't want to see it. And we got a 12 promise that it would not happen.

13 So taking that together, in addition to what 14 Mr. Clayton said is more than the Sarbanes-Oxley Act would 15 require of the company, keeping this protection in place for 16 five years, no backsliding, no switching to less expensive and 17 less effective methods, we thought was a real benefit to the 18 corporation, and we thought that this settlement was fair,

Final Hearing Trans..txt

19 reasonable, adequate and addressed the issues that bring us
20 here today.

21 THE COURT: Thank you.

22 Anyone else wish to be heard on approval of the 23 derivative action settlement?

24 MR. CLAYTON: May I for a moment, your Honor?

25 I think plaintiffs' counsel has adequately addressed
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

35

1 what the consideration of the class here is. I would just like
2 to say, from our perspective here, I don't pretend that there
3 is a pot of gold for the derivative class. I do think that 4 there are tangible considerations that they get but, on the 5 other hand, as we looked at this and as we negotiated it, we 6 really felt that, in this case, the claim on the merits was 7 perilously weak.

8 We had been looking forward to a decision of the 9 chancellor in Delaware on this claim. The Sarb-Ox claim was 10 not before the chancellor, but everything else was, and it was 11 fully briefed. In fact, it was scheduled for argument and it 12 was withdrawn precipitously two or three days before the 13 argument.

14 Delaware is very clear that you cannot bring a duty of 15 care case against these directors. When you combine that fact 16 with your Honor's ruling about the nature of the involvement of 17 these individuals and the fact that they were buying stock, we 18 felt it was absolutely plain where it was going to go and 19 absolutely plain that the demand requirement was not there.

20 And it may have been possible to argue before all of 21 those cases in the 1970s that a statute that is silent conveys
22 a private right of action, but it is no longer a possibility
23 that this statute is silent. So we think, in comparison to a
24 very, very weak claim, the stockholders do get something here,
25 and perhaps that explains the fact that there is no one that I

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

36

1 know of who is here to argue against the settlement.

2 Thank you, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: This is a much closer question, whether to 4 approve this. The benefits to the shareholders are close to 5 window dressing. But the claim here is, if not frivolous,
6 close to frivolous. So in this context, weighing all that I
7 know about the issues in the derivative litigation, the fact
8 that there is so little benefit being conveyed on the company
9 or shareholders doesn't prevent me from approving the 10 settlement.

11 Let's go to the attorney's fees issue. I will start 12 with the class action. I want to start with sort of an 13 overview of some things as I see them.

14 I think there is some important policy issues at stake
15 here. It would not be good to encourage litigation when a
16 corporation is fundamentally being a good corporate citizen
17 which is, when it discovers a problem, announcing it, doing a
18 restatement and moving on it fairly quickly.

19 On the other hand, it is hard to know all of that at 20 the beginning of a lawsuit, and so I have to make a judgment as 21 to whether or not, in a sense, I think, it was fair to file
22 this litigation in the first place.

23 Another policy issue for me is to look at any award of

Final Hearing Trans..txt

24 attorney's fees here in light of the stage at which the 25 litigation was settled and the amount of work that had gone on
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

37

4AMUINTC

1 by then and would have had to go on in the future if there had
2 not been a settlement. And it seems to me that plaintiffs'
3 counsel fundamentally acted in a responsible way by engaging in 4 serious early settlement discussions, as I had asked it to do.
5 And that is to be encouraged.

6 And I have talked to Judge Gorenstein to ask his view
7 of how counsel conducted themselves in the settlement process
8 and to learn more from his point of view about what went on.
9 And he was very praising of lead plaintiffs' counsel, lead
10 counsel for the class, and that matters to me.

11 So I would not want to send a message that in any way
12 detracts from an incentive to settle a case early when it is 13 appropriate to do so. I certainly don't want counsel to be 14 motivated to run up a lodestar figure and string out a 15 litigation in order to get a larger attorney's fee award when 16 the case should be over sooner.

17 I am looking at the amount of recovery for the class.
18 As of today, it is not what people expected when it was settled
19 because of the shift in the stock price.

20 Judge Gorenstein at the October 17 conference
21 recommended 20 million in cash and 95 million in stock, and 22 that is what the parties agreed to within a week thereafter.

23 While we have lost approximately $20 million in value
24 from the settlement because of the stock market movements and 25 stock price movement, I think that the settlement terms, when
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

38

4AMUINTC

1 they were agreed to, were fair and reasonable. And there has 2 not been such a significant loss in value that it should 3 necessarily affect my analysis of the attorney's fee award
4 here.

5 There is part of the story that I don't understand,
6 though, and that is something that I raised with counsel in the 7 summer and something that continues to concern me, and that is 8 the six-month delay that is basically between reaching the 9 final settlement and getting me the papers in June. I have 10 been given three explanations for that, and I don't think two 11 of them hold up.

12 One was the need to negotiate the downside protection,
13 but the December 5 press release by IPG included the 14 announcement of the downside protection, and so that was 15 certainly wrapped up and finalized in early December.

16 Another thing has been the document review. But I
17 think, from looking at the time records, that that was 18 primarily between August and November.

19 And so we are left with the third thing, which is the 20 three depositions which occurred in the late spring and the 21 explanation that the defendants kept putting off the date
22 because the executives were busy and plaintiffs' counsel didn't
23 want to raise the issue with me because they were working in a 24 cooperative spirit with defense counsel.

25 When I look at the stock price movements and, of
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

39

Final Hearing Trans..txt

4AMUINTC

1 course, one can never know these things in advance, one does
 2 not know how the market as a whole is going to react or an
 3 individual stock or an industry stock maybe, but IPG's stock
 4 basically rose from December through some point in February.
 5 And then between February and some point in June, it was sort
 6 of erratic but moving down. And by June it had reached the 7 point that it was in December, roughly. And since that time it
 8 has been a steady decline so that, if we didn't have that 9 six-month delay, we would be pricing this settlement at a
 10 different figure. But, again, that was unknowable and I am not 11 suggesting that you were not moving promptly, understood what 12 the impact would be.

13 But that is another issue that I just raised. Should 14 I take that into account? Should I be looking at that? It is 15 a question.

16 I am a little unhappy with what I think are the 17 explanations with respect to the delay that don't hold up. I
 18 don't think that counsel should ever be less than frank with 19 the court or misrepresent the facts, to say the least.

20 Also, because of the delay, even if there had not been 21 a stock price movement as I have described, investors, the 22 class has just lost the use of the money. It has just delayed
 23 the time in which the value gets into their hands. So should I
 24 be concerned about that? Is that worth thinking about too?

25 And I think that the last thing that I just want to

(212) 805-0300

40

4AMUINTC

1 throw out there is, I am a little concerned about class counsel
 2 allowing derivative action counsel to get their fees and costs,
 3 theoretically, out of the class recovery.

4 I am raising issues here to give counsel a chance to 5 address them. I don't want my questions to mislead you. I do
 6 think that plaintiffs' counsel, fundamentally, deserves a fee
 7 award here which would be seen to encourage early, prompt
 8 settlement when fair and thorough review of the case shows that 9 that is appropriate.

10 So those are some of my thoughts that I want to give 11 counsel an opportunity to respond to.

12 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Judge, thank you for that guidance.

13 In no particular order in responding to some of the 14 things you brought up, the issue of paying the derivative
 15 costs, fees and costs was simply part of the negotiation.

16 THE COURT: Negotiation with whom?

17 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Negotiation with Mr. Clayton, who 18 insisted that the derivative case be settled along with the 19 class case and not to be paying any additional money for that 20 settlement. So I suppose that I could have negotiated 18
 21 million or 94 million in stock, 18 million in cash, 94 million
 22 in stock, and then they would have paid for the derivative
 23 settlement. But it was just part of the mix of negotiations, 24 and I agreed to it. I agreed to it up to what I considered to 25 be a relatively small level overall. It is not that I simply

1 said, I don't care what their fees are. And I believe that it
 2 was agreed that there would be a fee below $300,000. And I
 3 think 295 is what they ultimately agreed to. So I had my limit
 4 for that, but that is the answer to that question.

Final Hearing Trans..txt

5 As to the delay which seems to be your Honor's
6 greatest concern, I never claimed, Judge, that the downside
7 protection negotiations took place after December. What I said
8 is that the downside protection negotiations took place between 9 the time we met with Judge Gorenstein and the time we agreed on 10 the settlement in December. If I said it, Judge, I misspoke.
11 You may have some reference to it, but I never intended to say
12 that. I was speaking of the time after the end of October. I
13 don't remember if the Court had said, You met with Judge
14 Gorenstein the end of October, and I don't understand why it
15 took so long but, in any event, you are absolutely right.
16 There were no sessions after December.

17 THE COURT: I am referring to paragraph 39 of your
18 declaration, when read in the context of paragraphs 37 and 38
19 and 39. And in paragraph 37 you say, "Finally in December the 20 parties agreed to use a 45-day average closing price," etc.
21 And then in paragraph 39, "Soon thereafter defendants finally 22 agreed to provide downside protection."

23 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Judge, that is a matter of days. This 24 all took place in that December time frame. We never went past
25 December, I don't think.

1 Mr. Clayton can correct me if I am wrong. I could be
2 wrong. My memory is not perfect.

3 THE COURT: Then at the June 17 conference at page 27
4 when I asked about the length of time to get us from an
5 agreement in December to settle, until a June settlement
6 agreement, you described the agreement to settle and the 7 discussions regarding the downside protection as something that 8 was worked out between December and the time of final approval
9 as one of the factors.

10 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Judge, my memory is that we resolved
11 that issue in December.

12 THE COURT: I know you did, before December 5 because 13 it is in the press release.

14 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Then that is my recollection.

15 MR. CLAYTON: I guess at this point, I could go back
16 and reconstruct.

17 THE COURT: It is clear that it was decided before
18 December 5. It was announced to the public.

19 MR. SCHIFFRIN: I may have misspoken when you asked 20 that question. It was certainly no intent to mislead the 21 Court. That is not the issue that hung us up after December.
22 The issue that hung us up after December was the completion of 23 the document review which was, really, I think 30 or 45 days or 24 so and then there were the depositions.

25 THE COURT: I have looked at the time records, and I

1 am not sure that that is supportable.

2 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Judge, it was minimal. It may have
3 been a small amount of work that was left.

4 The main problem was getting these depositions. And I
5 was faced with a situation where I had counsel I had developed
6 a good relationship with who were telling me that it was 7 impossible to provide the depositions that we required in 8 January because they had some issues, in February, in March.

9 And Mr. Clayton will tell you that I had a lot of

Page 20

Final Hearing Trans..txt

10 exasperated conversations with him over this issue. I was 11 concerned about the delay.

12 The Court brought up the issue of the stock price.
13 obviously, the stock price could have gone the other way and 14 the delay could have operated to the benefit of the class, so
15 there was no way of knowing.

16 But my thought was, let's get this done. And I was 17 exasperated and I suppose that I could have, in hindsight, have 18 come to your Honor and said, Order them to do this. But I
19 really didn't think it was appropriate, since we were working
20 together, the majority of the consideration is in stock, and I
21 have representatives of the company telling me that you need to 22 talk to these people if you want this kind of information, and 23 we cannot get you those people for a variety of reasons. And 24 those reasons continued over the course of several months.

25 I said, Lew, this must end. We have to get this done.

1 I think that the Court expressed some concern through
2 your clerk, Judge, where are these papers, and I was upset
3 about it. I really was.

4 MS. RYAN: If I may just add something here, because I
5 was the attorney that was responsible for taking the 6 depositions?

7 THE COURT: Your name?

8 MS. RYAN: Katherine Ryan.

9 And it was the more senior attorneys in the firm that 10 were concentrating on the more relevant documents after the 11 December time frame, getting ready for the depositions. And I
12 personally was involved in scheduling the depositions with 13 Mr. Gordon, and we did have a lot of difficulty doing that. I
14 had them scheduled two or three times and at the last minute
15 they were cancelled. So I just wanted to add that.

16 THE COURT: Thank you.

17 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Judge, that is the explanation.

18 And perhaps, in retrospect, I could have approached
19 the Court and at least asked if you would intervene. And I
20 suppose you would have told the defendants to speed up. And I
21 think that you probably would have been more persuasive than 22 me, given our positions in this case. But that is the 23 explanation and I really don't have anything to offer beyond 24 that.

25 THE COURT: I guess the bigger issue is: Should I

45

1 care about that in deciding in any way? Should I weigh that in
2 in any way? Is there any policy reason for or against me
3 considering that in assessing the size of the attorney's fee?

4 I don't have a firm view on this. That's why I am
5 asking.

6 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Judge, I think it is really not a
7 six-month issue, maybe it is a three-month issue.

8 THE COURT: Sure. I will give you that.

9 MR. SCHIFFRIN: So three months in the context of this
10 overall litigation, I don't think should have an impact,
11 particularly when I am trying to simultaneously do what is in 12 the best interests of the company for purposes of having them
13 operate efficiently and have the stock be at as high a level as 14 it can be at, and at the same time I am trying to get done what

Final Hearing Trans..txt

15 I am bound to get done, which is to have this settlement
 16 concluded in as rapid a period of time as possible.
 17 So it is not even as if I am saying, I am sorry I
 18 should have come to you. I am simply reflecting that that 19 alternative did exist. But I would ask that the Court not hold
 20 that against me. I really was trying to get this done, and I
 21 was trying to get this done as quickly as I could. That was my 22 goal.

23 THE COURT: Mr. Clayton wants to weigh in on this.
 24 MR. CLAYTON: Just looking at it from the policy side, 25 this was not a situation where, from our side, there was an

46

 1 interest in delay. It was not a situation where we are holding
 2 somebody's money and we wanted to earn interest on it. We 3 would have liked to have this resolved as quickly as possible.
 4 What we were doing, we had selected three people we 5 thought were appropriate for this. One of them turned out at 6 the time of the deposition to be one of our former employees,
 7 which makes it more difficult.

8 At the same time, as the Court is aware, there is an 9 SEC investigation going on and there are timing issues where 10 that is concerned.

11 Some of these people also are involved in our 12 financial reporting, and we take that pretty seriously and we 13 don't want to have any future restatements. So those people
 14 were involved there.

15 It is probable that the parties could have moved 16 faster, but the policy perspective -- it is not a situation, as 17 the Court said, no one knows which way the stock was going to 18 go. No one would be happier to have had the stock shoot up
 19 through the ceiling than IPG. So this was not a situation
 20 where we were interested in delaying it.

21 THE COURT: Remind me of the SEC investigation,
 22 Mr. Clayton, and how that feeds in here.

23 MR. CLAYTON: This was a formal SEC investigation, and 24 it is still ongoing, and there has been no result. So I don't 25 know that it feeds into any other situation.

 1 THE COURT: Thank you.
 2 MR. SCHIFFRIN: Judge, as far as you made a reference
 3 to the lost value, the $95 million stock value which was 4 diminished to 75 million or so, of course, the 95 million was 5 never guaranteed as the particular date, so Mr. Clayton never 6 said to me: Do you want 95 million at the fairness hearing for 7 the stock? That was never on the table.

8 And Judge Gorenstein said, You guys are going to have 9 to figure out how to coordinate that.

10 I watched the decline in the price of the stock over
 11 the last few months. And the only thing that I can tell you,
 12 on the more optimistic side, that the stock seems to have 13 bottomed out around 10.50 and is now working its way back up.

14 And I talked to our investment bankers and I have 15 asked them about this company, and they remain optimistic that 16 the stock in this company is undervalued. And my client, Mike
 17 Berlin, said the same thing.

18 So perhaps I was thinking that this might be a 20- to 19 25-dollar stock, and now it is maybe a 15- to 20-dollar stock

Final Hearing Trans..txt

20 over the course of the next year or so. But I think if you
21 look historically, there are reasons to believe that this stock
22 is a good buy.

23 And if the Court awards fees, a substantial portion 24 will be in stock. And I can tell the Court -- I don't know if 25 this factors into your thought process or not -- but when I

1 settle cases that have stock components and get an award of 2 attorney's fee in stock, I tend to hold on to that stock.

3 THE COURT: You are getting it in the same proportion
4 as class members?

5 MR. SCHIFFRIN: That's right.

6 Just for the record, I never agree to a settlement
7 with a company in a securities class action suit that involves 8 stock where my thought processes, when I get paid attorney's
9 fee in stock, I am going to flip it. If that is my thought
10 process, then I am not sufficiently bullish on the stock to 11 enter into those negotiations.

12 I think that addresses the issues you raised.

13 You did raise this one issue, the first question that 14 you asked when we got together about whether the complaint
15 should be filed and the policy issue of the corporation acting
16 as a good corporate citizen and you don't want to discourage 17 that, it is an interesting, theoretical issue. It has 18 practical implications.

19 Your Honor did sustain the complaint. I suppose if 20 the complaint did not have enough meat on the bones, your Honor
21 would not have sustained it. So I think that that vindicates
22 our position.

23 Despite all of my concerns about the great defenses
24 available to the corporation, I was prepared to move forward
25 with this case, nonetheless. If Mr. Clayton had suggested that

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

4AMUINTC

1 this case be settled for 15 or 20 million dollars, we would not
2 be here today because that was not going to happen.

3 So we did simultaneously litigate the case according
4 to the schedule that your Honor had set which was fairly
5 aggressive and negotiate the case according to your Honor's
6 express desires, and we did that aggressively too. So we tried 7 to do both things simultaneously.

8 I don't have a lot to say about attorney's fees. I
9 know that the Court is familiar with the case law. I read a 10 transcript of a couple of cases previously before your Honor to 11 get a sense if there was an approach that your Honor favored,
12 and you have heard all of the arguments about the contingent
13 nature of this field and that sort of thing.

14 I guess that I have two or three things to add.

15 One is that there was no government investigation or 16 assistance that we received. There is an SEC investigation.
17 No charges have been brought. I have no idea where that is 18 going, but that didn't help us.

19 The fee that we agreed upon with Private Asset
20 Management was a fee negotiated with a sophisticated
21 institutional plaintiff.

22 Now, I understand that your Honor has a responsibility
23 to go beyond that, and I have heard you express that and I
24 don't disagree with that at all. But I think that there is

Final Hearing Trans..txt

25 some presumption, at least, that unlike a case, perhaps, where
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

4AMUINTC

1 you had an unsophisticated client who you told, 35 percent is
2 the fee we always get and they say, OK, I guess that I will
3 agree with that -- that wasn't the case here. And we agreed
4 not to seek a fee above 20 percent. That was in the notice,
5 and that was what people responded to. And, ultimately,
6 Mr. Berlin thought that 17 would be more appropriate.
7 I think that there were only three objections to the 8 fee out of 300,000 notices. Frankly, I don't find those sorts
9 of arguments to be particularly persuasive since most people
10 don't respond at all. But I did note that one objector thought
11 10 percent was an appropriate level. Another one, citing 12 Goldenberger, mentioned 11 to 19, and we fall within that 13 range. He didn't seem to like 20. And the third, I don't 14 believe, gave a range.

15 So apart from my previous arguments that we tried to 16 construct a settlement that was as large as possible, that gave 17 as much upside protection as we could get without giving away
18 the downside protection, and that we have a fee request that is 19 within a range of reasonableness, and that range may be pretty 20 broad, I would only add that the fee decision is within the 21 sound discretion of the Court, so it is a decision for you to 22 make.

23 If I could be allowed one personal observation at the 24 end, unless the Court has any questions of me.

25 You and I may not necessarily see eye to eye on every

1 issue, but I just wanted to say -- and I think that I speak for 2 Mr. Clayton and we have had this discussion -- I appreciate the 3 level of thoughtfulness and care that the Court gives to the 4 decisions that it makes, and this really has nothing to do with 5 the fee.

6 THE COURT: Thank you. I appreciate that.

7 MR. SCHIFFRIN: I wanted to mention that.

8 THE COURT: I know you know that I take this 9 responsibility seriously and try to think hard about these 10 issues.

11 And I do want to compliment class counsel. I think
12 that you behaved responsively here and gave very good service
13 to the class. They were well served by you.

14 I want to reflect over the weekend about where I end
15 up on these issues, but I do want any fee award here to reflect 16 appropriately the benefit that the class received here and to 17 encourage prompt and early settlement in cases where it is 18 appropriate. I think that there shouldn't be a discount, so to 19 speak. On the other hand, I do want to take all the factors
20 that I should into account in deciding exactly what the figure 21 is.

22 Let's turn to the fee for derivative class counsel.

23 MR. PASKOWITZ: Yes.

24 THE COURT: I have many problems with awarding any 25 money. I have many problems with awarding Mr. Felgoise any

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

4AMUINTC

1 money. It seems to me that this is as close to a frivolous
2 lawsuit -- it has given the shareholders very little of value.
3 The first settlement agreement that was signed, if it
4 were executed, would have substantially prejudiced the class.
5 And for that sole reason, with nothing else, I would be very
6 unlikely to give any fee award. If I had not read that 7 settlement agreement carefully -- not every judicial officer
8 may have the time to read them carefully -- this settlement
9 would have barred all derivative actions for a far longer
10 period than it should have, and that is just reprehensible, in 11 my view.
12 Any payment to you will come out of a payment to the 13 class. I should take that into consideration. I don't want to go
14 give their money away when I shouldn't.
15 And I have not seen any legal work of any significance
16 by counsel in the derivative action, nothing that would warrant
17 an award.
18 I think that there are significant policy issues at 19 stake here. I don't think frivolous litigation should be 20 encouraged, and I don't believe that you had any reason to 21 believe that this litigation would survive a motion to dismiss.
22 I don't think there is any public policy served by 23 filing the litigation. To the extent that the company needed 24 to be put on notice of a problem, it was put on notice of the 25 problem through other means.

1 Therefore, this is your opportunity to be heard.
2 MR. PASKOWITZ: Your Honor, I must respectfully
3 disagree.
4 Mr. Jacobs and I focus maybe half of our practice on 5 derivative litigation.
6 You asked before why did the other plaintiffs drop
7 their case in Delaware. I don't know that they considered
8 themselves specialists in derivative litigation.
9 But when we briefed this motion, we thought that we
10 were going to win it. In 2003 there were three cases before 11 the Delaware courts that stood to completely change the view of 12 when a plaintiff might get over a demand. Those three cases
13 are very carefully discussed in our brief. They all came out
14 in favor of demands not being excused. One of them was Biondi
15 v. Scrushy. Scrushy was the CEO of Health South Corporation.
16 Every practitioner in Delaware, every pundit said that 17 demand was not excused in that case. What happened there,
18 there was a special litigation committee appointed. And one of 19 its member, who happened to be the chairman, said Mr. Scrushy
20 had done nothing wrong. Well, we might say he hasn't heard all 21 of the evidence. He hasn't heard presentations from 22 plaintiffs' counsel. He has not even heard from his own
23 independent counsel. Who cares what he said then. Let's see 24 what he says then. Let's see what his final decision is. He 25 is only one member of the committee.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

54

1 The vice chancellor said, when a company or even a
2 member of a special litigation committee comes out with an
3 opinion on the ultimate issue that he needs to decide, the man
4 is excused because what confidence can the public have in the 5 process that is being undertaken or in the decisionmakers when the decision has already been publicly announced or prejudged.

In this case, very much like Judge Chin's case, Bank of New York derivative litigation, this company came forward with answers and in public documents saying that the litigation was frivolous, without merit, going to be vigorously defended. Under the Bank of New York derivative litigation, Judge Chin's decision, under the Biondi v. Scrushy, demand is not excused.

The other cases were Disney and Oracle, also cases where directors were seen not to be completely independent, based upon prior case law, all pending 2003 and before and awaiting decision. We awaited those decisions. They both came out in favor of demand being excused and plaintiffs being allowed to go ahead with those cases. Disney involved directors who were inattentive, not directors who were corrupt. Those directors were not on the take. They got nothing out of Michael Eisner's extraordinary compensation package. But the allegations were, they did not pay enough attention.

And under those cases the vice chancellor said, You know what, we are going to look at our case law and see if there is a real possibility if these directors, looking at all

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

of these facts, are facing real liability because that is what is going to go into a calculus of their independence. If they look at all of the facts and they say, for 18 months, two years or in a particular transaction I should have done more, I was a rubber stamper; I sort of half listened and I agreed anyway and now the company is in a terrible, awful mess; boy, had I been more attentive, had my colleagues been more attentive, asked more questions, had we read more or had we put our foot down, this wouldn't have happened.

In the Disney case, nobody would have ever predicted that the Disney board would have been held to be not independent enough to hear a demand. The vice chancellor said, It is not independent enough because, over a long period of time, they were rubber stamps -- and we are talking about a blue ribbon board that has the cream of the crop of corporate directorship, and that was the Disney board.

And another case was Oracle, another major company -- directors, professors at Stanford University, well renowned throughout the world thought the country. What happened there, they had interrelationships that involved donations to Stanford University by Lawrence Ellison. He liked Stanford University, so he gave money.

Again, the court said, Let's take a human approach to this. What is going through a director's mind when the director has to make a decision about suing the other men and

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

women around that board table? He said, You have to look at all of these factors, every factor. If the factor is that Mr. Ellison had been very generous to an institution with which I as a director am associated, perhaps I don't want to sue Mr. Ellison. Perhaps if I sue Mr. Ellison, I will never get another donation from a person of his stature because I am a person who will be viewed as disloyal, viewed as somebody who sues.

So the Delaware courts moved very significantly during 2003 away from the previous presumptions that directors,

Final Hearing Trans..txt

11 if they were not on the take, if they were not corrupt, did not 12 have personal gain from a transaction, that was tainted. That 13 was self-interest. That was conflict.

14 They moved to a more practical evaluation of it --
15 having taken a position on the matter, are they too close to 16 the other directors? Are they too embroiled in other 17 litigations? Are they afraid, because of their own actions, if 18 they were to investigate this thoroughly, something bad would 19 come out about them?

20 Based upon that trio of Biondi, of Disney, of Oracle,
21 we thought that we would win. I can't say that we would, but 22 we thought we had a great shot at it.

23 The other thing is Sarbanes-Oxley. I cannot imagine
24 that Congress enacted Sarbanes-Oxley and said that in the case
25 of wrongdoing -- but they don't define "wrongdoing."

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

4AMUINTC

1 wrongdoing can be anything. Ordinarily, gross negligence is
2 sufficient for wrongdoing. In a case of wrongdoing, the CEO
3 and CFO must forfeit their money back to the corporation
4 because they got that money based upon financials that were 5 just not true. It is like crossing the finish line in a race
6 when you took the subway instead. They didn't perform as they 7 were supposed to perform, and there was no reason for them to 8 pocket that money, and Congress decided, as a penalty, there
9 would be a forfeiture under section 304.

10 Mr. Clayton talked about implication of causes of 11 action. Implication of causes of action still occurs because 12 the statute is not silent. In the many sections where Congress
13 said there should be no private right of action, it says, under 14 this section there will be no private right of action. Under 15 Section 304(a) of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, it doesn't say that.
16 It is silent as to it.

17 Who is the beneficiary of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act under 18 304? Only the corporation. The money doesn't go to the 19 government. It doesn't go back to the shareholder. It goes
20 back into the corporate till.

21 And to say that the corporation, in the many, many 22 restatement situations we have seen lately, many involving 23 wrongdoing, have to go to the SEC at the end and say, we know
24 you are a busy governmental agency, but can't you take a look
25 at this, spend all of your resources, divert what you are doing

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

4AMUINTC

1 now and get that money for Interpublic Group -- so we did not
2 think that that argument washed at all. We thought that there
3 had to be an implication of the private right of action of 4 Sarbanes-Oxley.

5 The other thing is, these directors not only did not
6 have to hypothesize or speculate that they wouldn't bring it,
7 the one-year statute of limitations which most probably applies
8 to any claim that passed, and they didn't bring it.

9 If we had a chance to orally argue this motion to the 10 Court, which we never did because we settled instead, I think
11 that we had a great argument. I don't think this was frivolous
12 at all. I think that we would have gotten past a demand.

13 And after we got past demand, I don't know why it was 14 not the case that these directors were not grossly negligent.
15 We don't have to prove fraud under Delaware law. And it is not

Final Hearing Trans..txt

16 even clear that you have to prove fraud under Sarbanes-Oxley.
 17 why is it fair that when you have directors who are 18 not applying appropriate stewardship and attention to what they 19 are doing -- and in so many cases we see that -- that the 20 shareholders pay to settle? That's what derivative suits are 21 about. Should the shareholders get their stock price dropped,
 22 and the second, the third time around, the directors say, You
 23 know, we have B&O policies? We don't have to pay a penny. And 24 maybe this company issues some more stock and says, We can 25 dilute everyone, and maybe we don't have to pay for that

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

1 either.

2 So these derivative suits are saying to directors,
 3 wait a second. Not so quick. You have personal liability
 4 here. We know we have to get over the demand motion. We think
 5 we can do it. We think that we have enough arguments, and we 6 can hold you personally liable.

7 We also have a secondary obligation to the companies,
 8 the derivatives. I don't think it would be proper, if we felt
 9 we got a sufficient benefit here, which I think we did, to say,
 10 we are going to hold up this whole shebang. The company cannot 11 put this litigation behind it. It has to keep litigating. The 12 shareholders cannot get their money because, even though we 13 think that we have sufficient benefits, we want a little more.
 14 I thought that we had enough.

15 And nobody said to me, Here is something we plan to do
 16 anyhow, and we will give it to you for consideration for the 17 settlement, because past consideration is no consideration. We 18 wouldn't have tolerated that. Maybe someone at IPG was 19 percolating the idea somewhere, but it wasn't communicated to 20 us. So as far as we knew, this company was locking itself into 21 something that was better than the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002,
 22 bestowed upon the shareholders of Interpublic Group.

23 And I was worried about the repricing of the options
 24 because I was aware that other companies had done it and this 25 might have been a very good instance where it could have

1 occurred although, yes, it would have been a much rarer thing.

2 As far as the allocation, we have asked for, I think,
 3 also, less than what was negotiated. We were looking at 4 compensation for hours, and we made an estimate. And the 5 amount that I think nobody would have objected to coming out of 6 the whole pot was $295,000 in fees and $20,000 out-of-pocket.
 7 We just didn't have it, and we applied for $240,000 which was a
 8 little bit of multiple given the time value of money and, I
 9 think, 3,000-odd dollars in expenses, because that's what we 10 had.

11 I think Mr. Schifffrin is quite correct, when you look
 12 at it backwards, sideways, frontwards, however the defendants
 13 decide to pay derivative compensation, it is going to come out
 14 of the class compensation. They are looking at one number. So 15 if the number is 120 million this way and $200,000 that way or 16 120,200,000 and you guys divide it up, you wind up in the same
 17 place. So is it coming out of the shareholder consideration?

18 Well, that's a technicality because it always has to 19 be divided somehow. I think the question is: Do we have a 20 benefit and did we work hard to achieve it? We hung in there.

Final Hearing Trans..txt

21 We did it and I think that we got a pretty good result.
22 THE COURT: Do you want to address the other issues I
23 raised or not?
24 MR. PASKOWITZ: The release?
25 I think that the release was a result of negotiation.

1 Defendants won't settle these claims unless they have peace.
2 We knew of no other possible derivative claims. If we did,
3 someone would be here objecting that they have some possible
4 claim against this company for something to be brought in the 5 corporate name.
6 THE COURT: No, no. I raise the issue of the 7 overbreadth of the relief at the conference and it was 8 renegotiated.
9 MR. PASKOWITZ: It was.
10 THE COURT: Right. So as it was described in the 11 notice, it was described on the basis of the re-negotiated
12 release.
13 MR. PASKOWITZ: Yes. The original release was a 14 standard release. Some people say it was overbroad. This was 15 renegotiated. This was an improvement.
16 There is no doubt that the Court helped the class and 17 shareholder. It is no doubt that the Court's intervention in 18 this matter improved what we had. But we did have something
19 that we brought to the Court that we thought was beneficial. I
20 thank the Court for having done that. I am sure that the 21 shareholders are grateful for it. I got a letter from a 22 shareholder very grateful for the ombudsman position being 23 created and being in place for five years. I can submit that 24 to the Court, if the Court wishes.
25 The Court definitely helped improve what we had, but I

1 would say that we had something substantial. Many judges do
2 get involved, and sometimes a settlement is better after judges
3 get involved. I would say most cases it is. Your Honor in 4 particular is involved in these matters and in particular
5 improved this settlement. We are grateful for that and it does
6 happen, but we thought what we brought was something
7 substantial to begin with and now it is better.
8 Regardless of the Court's decision on the fee, I have 9 to thank the Court for improving the settlement.
10 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. You are gracious.
11 MR. FELGOISE: First of all, I would like the 12 opportunity to introduce myself. I am Brian Felgoise. I am
13 one of the co-counsel on the derivative case.
14 And I think that Mr. Paskowitz accidentally forgot to 15 address it, the lodestar by my firm in the derivative lawsuit
16 was $39,000. My firm was involved with Mr. Paskowitz in the 17 litigation of the case. We personally, handled from a 18 confirmatory standpoint, the three depositions with regard to 19 the derivative case because you did address that to derivative
20 counsel.
21 I wanted to get a chance to introduce myself to the 22 Court. It wasn't as though I was just of counsel in the case
23 and did nothing relative to Mr. Jacobs and Mr. Paskowitz; my 24 time was, again, the $39,000.
25 THE COURT: So you attended the three depositions?

1 MR. FELGOISE: Of counsel in my office, James Wilson
2 attended the three depositions from a confirmatory standpoint
3 in the derivative case. That is correct, and that was 4 submitted in our paperwork.
5 THE COURT: Was he an active participant at the 6 deposition?
7 MR. FELGOISE: Yes.
8 THE COURT: Did he ask questions?
9 MR. FELGOISE: I am not sure that he asked questions,
10 because the depositions were handled by Schiffirin & Barroway.
11 He was there at the depositions, yes.
12 THE COURT: Because I did not see any evidence of 13 document review or preparation that would have put him in a
14 position to be an active participant in the deposition.
15 MR. SCHIFFIRIN: Your Honor, that is included in my 16 time submission. I am sure Ms. Ryan can speak to the fact that 17 Mr. Wilson was there. She is aware of why he was there. I had 18 conversations with her as far as from a derivative counsel
19 standpoint that we want to be there and partake from a
20 derivative standpoint, confirmatory.
21 THE COURT: Thank you.
22 MS. RYAN: Your Honor, Mr. Wilson did attend the 23 deposition and I did send the documents to let him know what I
24 was going to use, but he did not ask questions.
25 THE COURT: Thank you.

2 issues?
3 MS. RYAN: If I may hand up to the Court, you had 4 asked yesterday for our time records.
5 THE COURT: Good. Thank you.
6 And counsel were kind enough last night to provide us
7 with the by attorney and support staff monthly time records
8 which we reviewed and were helpful to us in analyzing what went 9 on here.
10 I want to congratulate the company and the class on 11 this settlement. Again, I believe that it does give a benefit
12 to the class. I want to thank counsel for the defendants and 13 class counsel for being of assistance to me at a variety of 14 points in this process.
15 I disagree that you were on an aggressive schedule. I
16 think that you were on an appropriate schedule that we set
17 together. But I know that Judge Gorenstein was impressed with 18 the cooperation on both sides and I am glad that you were able 19 to reach, with relatively little cost, given what could have 20 happened here, a settlement that is appropriate for one and 21 all.

Thank you.

1 P R O C E E D I N G S

2 (AUGUST 14, 2007; IN OPEN COURT)

3 THE DEPUTY CLERK: THE COURT CALLS THE CASE OF
4 JIMMY R. WOODS VERSUS SOUTHERN COMPANY AND OTHERS, CIVIL ACTION
5 NUMBER 1:04-CV-1912.

6 THE COURT: GOOD MORNING. WE ARE HERE FOR A HEARING
7 ON THE APPROVAL OR THE MOTION FOR APPROVAL OF THE SETTLEMENT
8 THAT HAS BEEN REACHED IN THIS CASE. WE PREVIOUSLY HAD A
9 HEARING FOR THE PRELIMINARY APPROVAL THAT THE COURT GRANTED,
10 AND NOTICE HAS NOW BEEN SENT TO MEMBERS OF THE CLASS. IT'S MY 11 UNDERSTANDING THAT ONLY ONE OBJECTION WAS FILED; AND THE COURT
12 IS NOT AWARE OF ANY NOTICE HAVING BEEN FILED ON BEHALF OF THAT 13 OBJECTOR TO APPEAR AT THIS HEARING AND BE PRESENT, AND I ASSUME 14 HE IS NOT PRESENT HERE TODAY.

15 SO THE COURT HAS TAKEN THAT OBJECTION, HOWEVER, INTO 16 CONSIDERATION AND CONSIDERED THE RESPONSE THAT HAS BEEN FILED
17 TO IT BY COUNSEL, AND I AGREE WITH COUNSEL THAT THE OBJECTION
18 IS NO CAUSE FOR NOT APPROVING THE SETTLEMENT. I'M SURE EVERY 19 MEMBER OF THE CLASS WOULD LIKE TO GET MORE MONEY, WHICH IS 20 ESSENTIALLY THE NATURE OF THE OBJECTION; AND I APPRECIATE AND 21 UNDERSTAND THAT DESIRE BUT STILL FEEL AS I HAVE STATED
22 PREVIOUSLY THAT ARMS-LENGTH NEGOTIATIONS HAVE OCCURRED HERE, 23 THAT COUNSEL FOR PLAINTIFFS HAVE OBTAINED A GOOD SETTLEMENT ON 24 BEHALF OF THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS, AND IT'S A SETTLEMENT THAT 25 SHOULD BE APPROVED.

SHARON D. UPCHURCH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

Woods Fairness Hearing.txt

1 I HAVE REVIEWED ALL THE DOCUMENTS THAT YOU HAVE 2 SUBMITTED IN CONNECTION WITH YOUR MOTION, INCLUDING THE MOTION
3 FOR ATTORNEY FEES AND FOR COSTS. I FIND THAT THOSE ARE 4 APPROPRIATE AND ARE IN ORDER, AS WELL. I FIND THAT THERE HAS 5 BEEN APPROPRIATE NOTICE GIVEN TO MEMBERS OF THE CLASS SO THAT 6 THEY MAY HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY TO FILE OBJECTIONS, IF ANY, TO THE 7 SETTLEMENT. AND SO IT IS MY INCLINATION TO APPROVE THE 8 SETTLEMENT AND TO AWARD THE ATTORNEY'S FEES AS REQUESTED AT A
9 LEVEL OF 27.5 PERCENT, TO AWARD THE COSTS OF $69,155.08, AND TO 10 APPROVE THE CASE CONTRIBUTION AWARD FOR THE NAMED PLAINTIFF OF 11 $5,000.

12 HAVING SAID THAT, I WILL ALSO, IF THERE'S ANYTHING
13 FURTHER COUNSEL WISH TO MAKE AS A PART OF THE RECORD, LET ME
14 GIVE YOU THAT OPPORTUNITY. FIRST FOR THE PLAINTIFF, 15 MR. MELTZER, ANYTHING FURTHER YOU WANT TO PUT ON THE RECORD.

16 MR. MELTZER: YOUR HONOR, I CERTAINLY WON'T GO
17 THROUGH THE LENGTHY PRESENTATION THAT I HAD PREPARED FOR TODAY.
18 MAYBE INSTEAD I'LL TAKE TWO MINUTES OF THE COURT'S TIME AND 19 EXPLAIN WHERE WE'LL GO FROM HERE.

20 THE COURT: OKAY.

21 MR. MELTZER: I THINK WHAT WILL HAPPEN IS THE ORDER
22 WILL BE ENTERED. THERE WILL BE A 30-DAY PERIOD UNTIL IT
23 BECOMES EFFECTIVE TO ALLOW FOR ANY POSSIBILITY OF AN APPEAL. I
24 THINK THAT'S PROBABLY REMOTE AND LIKELY WON'T HAPPEN.

25 ASSUMING THAT IT BECOMES EFFECTIVE 30 DAYS AFTER IT'S

1 ENTERED, WE'LL THEN START THE DISTRIBUTION PROCESS. THE PLAN
2 OF ALLOCATION WHICH YOUR HONOR WILL APPROVE AS PART OF THE

Woods Fairness Hearing.txt

3 SETTLEMENT AND AS PART OF THE FINAL ORDER WILL DICTATE HOW THE 4 MONEY IS DISTRIBUTED AMONGST THE PLAINTIFF PARTICIPANTS AND THE 5 CLASS MEMBERS.

6 IT IS A WELL-REFINED PROCESS. AT THIS POINT
7 MR. LOESER AND I HAVE DONE A NUMBER OF THESE CASES. WE'VE USED
8 BASICALLY THIS EXACT FORMULA BEFORE. WE USED ALMOST PRECISELY
9 THE SAME FORMULA IN MIRANT. THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY WHERE 10 WE SORT OF GET A POSTSCRIPT AND AN OPPORTUNITY TO SORT OF GIVE 11 THE COURT SOME INSIGHT ON HOW THAT HAPPENED AND HOW EVERYTHING
12 WAS EFFECTUATED IN MIRANT.

13 AND I'M PLEASED TO REPORT THAT WE'RE VERY PROUD OF 14 HOW EVERYTHING TRANSPIRED WITH RESPECT TO ALLOCATION IN MIRANT, 15 AND I BELIEVE THAT SETTLEMENT BECAME EFFECTIVE LATE DECEMBER, I
16 BELIEVE DECEMBER 18TH OF 2006. THE ENTIRE SETTLEMENT WAS 17 DISTRIBUTED BY JANUARY 4TH OF 2007. THERE WAS A RANGE OF 18 RECOVERIES WITHIN THE MIRANT PLAN PARTICIPANT BASE FROM A FEW
19 HUNDRED DOLLARS TO MANY SEVERAL TENS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS.
20 SO SOME PEOPLE ARE GOING TO GET BACK A REAL RECOVERY.

21 THE SAME IS GOING TO BE TRUE IN THIS CASE. I CAN'T 22 GUARANTEE THAT IT'S GOING TO WORK QUITE AS SEAMLESSLY BECAUSE, 23 FRANKLY, I'VE NEVER SEEN ONE THAT'S WORKED QUITE THAT WELL.
24 WHEN YOU FACTOR IN THE INTERVENING HOLIDAYS, I'M REALLY
25 SURPRISED. BUT HOPEFULLY, IT WILL SORT OF BE AKIN TO THAT AND

1 WE'LL GET A SIMILAR EFFICIENCY AND WE'LL HAVE EVERYTHING
2 DISTRIBUTED AND WRAPPED UP IN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS.

3 THE COURT: WELL, I THINK THAT THE ALLOCATION PLAN IS

Woods Fairness Hearing.txt

4 A GOOD ONE, AND I THINK IT'S EXTREMELY FAIR AND HELPS TO ASSURE
5 EQUAL AND FAIR TREATMENT TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE CLASS AND ALSO 6 AVOIDS, I THINK, SOME NEEDLESS AND EXPENSIVE ACTIVITY BY THE 7 DESIGNATION OF CERTAIN DE MINIMIS CLASS MEMBERS SO THAT YOU
8 DON'T SPEND A LOT OF RESOURCES WITH REGARD TO CLAIMS THAT 9 ESSENTIALLY HAVE NO SUBSTANTIAL VALUE TO THEM SO THAT THERE CAN 10 BE REAL, MORE REAL RELIEF FOR OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CLASS.

11 SO I THINK THAT THE ALLOCATION FORMULA AND PLAN ARE 12 THOUGHTFUL AND ARE -- WILL ACHIEVE THE INTENDED RESULT OF 13 GETTING THE BEST POSSIBLE RELIEF TO THE GREATEST NUMBER OF 14 MEMBERS OF THE CLASS.

15 SO I WAS NOT FAMILIAR WITH HOW IT HAD GONE IN MIRANT, 16 BUT JUST IN TERMS OF REVIEWING IT FELT THAT IT WOULD ACHIEVE
17 THOSE GOALS; AND THAT'S ANOTHER REASON THAT I'M HAPPY TO 18 APPROVE THE SETTLEMENT AS PROPOSED.

19 MR. MELTZER: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

20 THE COURT: ANYTHING FROM THE DEFENDANT?

21 MR. MONDE: JUDGE, DAVID MONDE FROM JONES DAY ON 22 BEHALF OF THE DEFENDANTS. THE ONLY EVENT THAT I WOULD POINT
23 OUT THAT OCCURRED BETWEEN THE COURT'S PRELIMINARY APPROVAL AND 24 THE FINAL APPROVAL WAS THE ENGAGEMENT BY THE PLAN OF AN 25 INDEPENDENT FIDUCIARY AS REQUIRED UNDER SECTION 3.5 OF THE

1 SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT.

2 I WILL TELL YOU THAT THE PLAN TOOK THE OBLIGATION OF
3 RETAINING A TRULY INDEPENDENT FIDUCIARY VERY SERIOUSLY. THEY 4 INTERVIEWED, I BELIEVE, AT LEAST THREE CANDIDATES FOR THAT.
5 THEY CHOSE INDEPENDENT FIDUCIARY SERVICES. THAT COMPANY AND

Woods Fairness Hearing.txt

6 ORGANIZATION HAD NO PRIOR RELATIONSHIP WITH THIS LAWSUIT, WITH 7 THE MIRANT LAWSUIT, WITH THE SOUTHERN COMPANY OR WITH THE PLAN.
8 AND I CAN TELL YOU HAVING BEEN ON THE RECEIVING END OF THEIR 9 REQUESTS FOR DOCUMENTS AND INTERVIEWS, THAT THEY DID MORE THAN 10 KICK THE TIRES. THEY PUT US THROUGH OUR PACES.

11 WE PRODUCED OVER TWO BANKERS' BOXES OF MATERIALS TO 12 THEM, SPENT TIME ON THE TELEPHONE WITH THEM; AND THEY REVIEWED
13 THIS PROPOSED SETTLEMENT SOLELY FROM THE VIEWPOINT OF THE PLAN
14 AND THE PARTICIPANTS BEFORE THEY AGREED TO AUTHORIZE THE 15 RELEASE BY THE PLAN AS SET FORTH IN THE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT.

16 AND, OF COURSE, WE DID FILE WITH THE COURT THE NOTICE
17 OF THAT INDEPENDENT FIDUCIARY'S DETERMINATION THAT THE 18 SETTLEMENT IS FAIR AND REASONABLE TO THE PLAN AND THAT THEY 19 APPROVE IT ON BEHALF OF THE PLAN.

20 THE COURT: AND I WAS REMISS IN NOT MENTIONING THAT I
21 HAD REVIEWED THAT CERTIFICATE IN REVIEWING THE FILE IN 22 PREPARATION FOR TODAY'S HEARING, AS WELL. THANK YOU.

23 WITH APOLOGIES FOR NOT REQUIRING OR ALLOWING YOU TO 24 GO THROUGH YOUR PACES AS I KNOW YOU ARE PREPARED TO DO TODAY, 25 BUT IN ALL HONESTY, I JUST THINK THAT'S A NEEDLESS TASK TO PUT

1 YOU THROUGH BECAUSE I LOOKED AT THIS VERY CLOSELY WHEN YOU CAME 2 HERE BEFORE AND I WOULD NOT HAVE GIVEN YOU PRELIMINARY APPROVAL
3 IF I DIDN'T FEEL PRETTY GOOD ABOUT IT THEN. THE LAST THING I
4 WANT TO DO IS HAVE THOUSANDS OF CLASS MEMBERS OUT THERE GETTING
5 A NOTICE ABOUT SOMETHING THAT I DON'T THINK IS GOING TO PASS
6 MUSTER. I WOULD HAVE ALERTED YOU BACK THEN SO THAT WE COULD

Woods Fairness Hearing.txt

7 HAVE CORRECTED ANY PROBLEMS WE HAD BEFORE WE CREATED THAT KIND
8 OF MONSTER.

9 AND SO WHEN I GAVE PRELIMINARY APPROVAL, I WAS 10 PRETTY, PRETTY SURE THAT THIS WAS GOING TO BE FINE. THE MAIN
11 THING WAS TO GET NOTICE OUT THERE AND SEE HOW THE PLAN
12 PARTICIPANTS FELT ABOUT IT. AND AS YOU APTLY POINTED OUT IN 13 YOUR MOTION, THE FACT THAT YOU HAD THIS MANY PEOPLE RECEIVING 14 NOTICE AND HAD ONLY ONE OBJECTION AND THAT OBJECTION WAS OF THE 15 NATURE THAT IT WAS, AND I REALIZE IT WAS MORE THAN JUST WOULD 16 LIKE TO HAVE HAD MORE MONEY BUT FEELING THERE WERE SOME FOLKS
17 THAT SHOULD HAVE TAKEN RESPONSIBILITY AND SOME FEELINGS ABOUT 18 THAT, AGAIN, I APPRECIATE AND UNDERSTAND HOW MEMBERS OF THE 19 CLASS FEEL.

20 BUT IT DOES NOT TAKE AWAY FROM MY FEELING THAT THIS
21 IS AN EXCELLENT SETTLEMENT FOR THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS AND ONE 22 THAT GETS SOME MONEY TO THEM IN A MUCH QUICKER FASHION THAN 23 LITIGATING THIS CASE IS GOING TO DO AND WITH MUCH LESS COST TO 24 BOTH SIDES THAN WOULD OTHERWISE OCCUR. AND THAT'S ANOTHER
25 REASON THAT I'M WILLING TO APPROVE THE ATTORNEY'S FEES.

1 THE PERCENTAGE IS NOT INAPPROPRIATE. IT IS WITHIN
2 THE RANGE THAT ONE WOULD EXPECT. TYPICALLY THE COMPARISON
3 BETWEEN THE FEES AND THE LODESTAR IS THERE'S A LITTLE HIGHER
4 FEE THAN WHAT I MIGHT WOULD NORMALLY SEE, BUT I ALSO KNOW THAT 5 YOU STILL HAVE A TRIAL AHEAD OF YOU IF YOU DIDN'T GET THIS
6 SETTLEMENT APPROVED. YOU HAD TO STILL WIN THE APPEAL AND YOU
7 HAD TO COME BACK AND TRY THE CASE, AND THERE WAS A LOT OF 8 ATTORNEY COMMITMENT THAT WAS STILL AHEAD IN THIS CASE.

Woods Fairness Hearing.txt

9 AND SO IN TERMS OF APPROVING THIS, THIS REQUEST FOR 10 ATTORNEY'S FEES, THOSE ARE SOME OF THE FACTORS THAT WENT INTO 11 THE COURT'S DECISION THAT THIS IS AN APPROPRIATE ATTORNEY FEE
12 AMOUNT. AND AS I SAID, WE'RE WITHIN THE 20- TO 30-PERCENT
13 ANYWAY THAT ONE WOULD EXPECT TO FIND FOR A CONTINGENT-FEE-TYPE 14 CASE OF THIS NATURE; SO I HAVE NO PROBLEM WITH THAT.

15 I HAD HAD A PROPOSED ORDER SUBMITTED FROM COUNSEL, 16 AND I DIDN'T KNOW IF YOU HAD AN ORIGINAL THAT YOU WANTED ME TO 17 SIGN, OR IF YOU WANTED ME TO SIGN THE ONE YOU SUBMITTED, I'LL 18 BE HAPPY TO SIGN IT.

19 MR. MELTZER: YOUR HONOR, I HAVE A VERSION THAT HAS 20 BLANKS AND I HAVE A VERSION THAT HAS NUMBERS FILLED IN.

21 THE COURT: IF YOU HAVE ONE THAT HAS THE NUMBERS THAT 22 YOU HAD REQUESTED FILLED IN, YOU MAY SUBMIT IT AND LET ME SIGN
23 IT BECAUSE THEN IT WILL BE A CLEANER COPY FOR THE CLERK'S
24 OFFICE. I HAD TAKEN THE ONE YOU GAVE ME AND I WROTE IN, BUT MY 25 PENMANSHIP IS PROBABLY SUCH THAT THE CLERK WOULD PREFER TO HAVE

5 KNOW THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS WILL BE ANXIOUSLY WAITING TO HEAR
6 FROM YOU.

7 AND AGAIN, I THINK I EXPRESSED THIS TO YOU BEFORE,
8 BUT IF I DIDN'T, I WANT TO EXPRESS TO YOU AGAIN MY APPRECIATION
9 FOR COUNSEL WORKING TOGETHER SO WELL IN GETTING THE MATTER

Woods Fairness Hearing.txt

10 RESOLVED. I KNOW ALL OF YOU HAVE PUT A GREAT DEAL OF TIME INTO 11 THIS CASE AND CERTAINLY INTO THE NEGOTIATIONS FOR A SETTLEMENT
12 IN THE CASE. I THINK THAT BOTH SIDES HAVE ABLY REPRESENTED
13 YOUR CLIENTS AND HAVE REACHED A VERY FAIR AND REASONABLE
14 COMPROMISE OF THE CLAIMS INVOLVED, AND I APPRECIATE YOUR 15 PROFESSIONALISM AND YOUR HARD WORK IN MAKING THAT HAPPEN.
16 THANK YOU FOR DOING THAT. THAT MAKES MY JOB NOT ONLY EASIER, 17 BUT IT MAKES ME FEEL BETTER ABOUT IT BECAUSE I FEEL LIKE WE'VE 18 REACHED A RESULT THAT'S IN THE BEST INTEREST OF EVERYONE; AND I 19 APPRECIATE YOUR WORK IN MAKING THAT HAPPEN.

PROCEEDINGS

THE COURT: All right. We will call
In Re: Westar Energy, Inc. ERISA Litigation, case number 03-4032. Your appearances.

We'll begin with you, Ms. Lewis, you're on the phone.

MS. LEWIS: Yes. It's Kathryn Lewis
for Defendant Richard Terrill.

THE COURT: All right. And other appearances, please.

MR. MELTZER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Joseph Meltzer of Schiffrin &
Barroway on behalf of the plaintiffs. Joined with me is cocounsel, Ron Pope.

MS. KATZ: And Sharon Katz of Davis
Polk & Wardwell, and my colleague, Antoinette
Ellison, from Davis Polk & Wardwell, for Westar Energy. And Mr. Hans on--

MR. HANS: Jason Hans on behalf of Westar Energy.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. BURGESS: I'm Matthew Burgess
from Armstrong Teasdale on behalf of Carl Koupal.

THE COURT: All right. And we're

1 here for the fairness hearing on the
2 settlement of the class action in this case.

3 On May 15th of this year I held a
4 preliminary settlement hearing and
5 preliminarily approved the settlement,
6 ordered that notice be given, as set forth in 7 the order preliminarily approving settlement.
8 And in preliminarily approving the settlement
9 I conditionally certified the class,
10 preliminarily approved the terms of the 11 settlement, and set this date for today's
12 hearing, and, of course, approved the class
13 notice of proposed settlement.

14 You all have now submitted a
15 proposed order and final judgment. And in 16 addition we've received the motion of the 17 plaintiffs for final approval; a memorandum
18 in support of class counsel's motion for 19 award of attorneys' fees, expenses, and case
20 contribution compensation as well; a
21 declaration of Mr. Meltzer in support of the 22 motions for settlement and awarded fees,
23 compensation, and reimbursement of expenses;
24 a declaration of Mr. Pope concerning that as 25 well.

1 All right. Mr. Meltzer or Ms. Katz,
2 who is going to proceed?

3 MR. MELTZER: I will, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: All right, go ahead.

5 MR. MELTZER: Thank you. Your
6 Honor, we are pleased to be here today. And 7 as you stated, we're here to present a
8 settlement of all claims in the Westar ERISA
9 litigation. As Your Honor has alluded to, a 10 lot of papers have been filed in our 11 presentation so I won't cover everything in 12 those papers or it would drag on far too
13 long; but I think I'll hit the relevant
14 points.

15 As I stated, we have a settlement of 16 all claims in the Westar ERISA case. It
17 was-- the settlement was the product of some 18 rather strenuous and extensive negotiations
19 between the parties. We're proud to present
20 the settlement. We think in light of the 21 litigation risk and the damage analogies in 22 this case that it's an excellent result for 23 the ERISA class.

24 The settlement calls for a payment
25 of 9.25 million that will be paid by the

1 defendants into the Westar Energy 401(k)
2 savings plan. That money will then be
3 distributed to class members and plan
4 participants in accordance with the plan of 5 obligation that we've submitted in
6 conjunction with the settlement.

7 Two points I would want to make
8 quickly. First, the settlement has been 9 reviewed by an independent fiduciary. The 10 independent fiduciary was retained by Westar
11 in its corporate capacity and as a fiduciary
12 of the plan. The independent fiduciary in 13 this case is Independent Fiduciary Services,
14 Incorporated. Essentially what they do is 15 they come in to look and see that the 16 settlement meets the DOL class exemption, and 17 also that it's not a prohibited transaction
18 under Section 406 of ERISA. Essentially,
19 they need to make a determination that the 20 release given in consideration for the value
21 of the settlement is fair and that the 22 fiduciaries were not engaged in self-dealing.

23 They have authorized the settlement.
24 Your Honor has, obviously, the ultimate
25 discretion to approve. But in a case such as

1 this it's usually a good sign when the
2 independent fiduciary gives its blessing to
3 the settlement.

4 The other point I would make is that
5 there have been no objections to either the 6 motion for approval or for the application of 7 fees. That's especially telling in this case
8 because we have a -- as Mr. Pope would tell
9 you -- a very active, interested class. They 10 were very involved, very engaged in this
11 entire process. And they have unanimously
12 endorsed the settlement, and no one has 13 lodged any objections to any of the motions
14 pending today.

15 The two motions that are on calendar
16 for today, as Your Honor stated, are a motion
17 for final approval of settlement,
18 certification of the settlement class and
19 approval of the plan of allocation; and a
20 second motion for an award of attorneys'
21 fees, reimbursement of expenses and case
22 contribution compensation. And, Your Honor,
23 with your permission, I can address the 24 settlement first.

25 THE COURT: Go ahead.

1 MR. MELTZER: The-- Your Honor,
2 would it be helpful if I gave a background of 3 the claims and the history of the litigation?
4 That's set forth at length in the papers, but 5 I would be happy to do it for the record.

6 THE COURT: No. I think you can 7 summarize that.

8 MR. MELTZER: Okay. Your Honor,
9 just briefly, the first case in the Westar
10 ERISA litigation was filed in March of 2003.
11 The central claim is that the plan
12 fiduciaries breached their duties under ERISA
13 by allowing investments in the company stock
14 at a time when they knew or should have known
15 that those investments were imprudent.

16 There were many cases that were
17 filed after the Toledo case, the first case
18 filed in March. There were several cases
19 filed afterwards.

20 Your Honor consolidated those cases
21 in September of 2003. We filed a
22 consolidated pleading -- which is the 23 operative complaint for today -- in October
24 of 2003, and that touched off a flurry of 25 briefings, several motions to dismiss,

1 consolidated response, numerous replies.

2 Your Honor, we started informal
3 settlement negotiations in the summer of 4 2004. We continued those through the fall to 5 essentially pick a mediator. Our first
6 mediation -- there wound up being four total
7 -- was in December of 2004 with Gary McGowan,
8 who presided over each and every mediation in 9 this case.

10 Unable to resolve the case, we went
11 back into litigation posture in 2005. We 12 essentially engaged in a formal
13 discovery protocol at that point that was 14 presided over by Magistrate Judge O'Hara.
15 The defendants produced a large volume of 16 documents. We prepared, we analyzed, and 17 coded some of those documents. We set up an 18 electronic database for further analysis.

19 We also continued on a settlement
20 track, fortunately, as we were going through
21 formal discovery. We had another mediation
22 -- excuse me -- in the spring of 2005 that 23 was, obviously, unsuccessful. We pressed
24 forward with a lot of discovery in the case.

25 We had yet another mediation in

1 October of 2005. And while we weren't able
2 to resolve the case at that time, it did
3 break some of the log jam, frankly. There
4 was a fair amount of progress in October of 5 2005. That may partly be the result of Your 6 Honor's ruling in September of 2005 on the 7 motions to dismiss. Gave people a better
8 sense of what the claims were going to be in 9 this litigation.

10 We scheduled a final mediation for 11 January 31st of this year. We were able to 12 reach an agreement at that time. We signed 13 the term sheet on that day and began the 14 settlement process which leads us to today's 15 hearing.

16 In terms of the approval process,
17 the Tenth Circuit has established a
18 four-factor test to determine whether the 19 settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate.
20 The test is set forth in the Tenth Circuit
21 case Jones v. Nuclear Pharmacy.

22 I'll go through them briefly. The 23 first factor is whether the proposed
24 settlement was fairly and honestly
25 negotiated. Your Honor, as I just explained,

1 there were multiple mediations. There were
2 formal negotiations with an experienced
3 mediator. There were informal negotiations.
4 The negotiation process in this case was 5 arms-length, to say the least, and was
6 strenuous and was fair and honest.

7 The second factor is whether serious
8 questions of law and facts exist, placing the 9 ultimate outcome of the litigation in doubt.
10 Your Honor, as a lot of courts have noted,
11 these are difficult cases. ERISA itself is a
12 very difficult statute. There are complex
13 questions. And when you factor in the class
14 certification aspects of this case, you find
15 a way to make an ERISA case even more
16 complicated. So I think that factor also 17 militates in favor of approval.

18 The third factor is whether the 19 value of an immediate recovery outweighs the 20 mere possibility of future relief after 21 protracted and expensive litigation. Your 22 Honor, in this particular case, given what 23 our prospects were for success, even if we 24 overcame every legal hurdle by very capable
25 opposing counsel, I'm not sure that we would

1 have done any better; and we may have wound
2 up getting a little bit less for the class
3 settlement. This factor is particularly in 4 favor of approval here because we were able 5 to get a recovery which may well exceed what 6 we would have gotten even if we would have 7 won through judgment.

8 The fourth factor is the judgement
9 of the parties that the settlement is fair
10 and reasonable. I think everyone here today
11 will essentially endorse the settlement as 12 fair and reasonable. I know I do. I'm 13 fairly confident that my colleagues on the 14 defense side will as well. And I think those 15 four factors are what the Tenth Circuit views
16 in terms of assessing whether a settlement
17 should be approved. I think they're all met
18 here.

19 The only other point that I would 20 make with respect to the settlement, Your
21 Honor, again, is that there have been no
22 objections. So the reaction of the class has 23 been overwhelmingly and unanimously, frankly,
24 in support of approval.

25 The other aspect of the settlement

1 approval is for certification of the 2 settlement class. We think that Your Honor
3 mentioned that you preliminarily certified
4 the settlement class. We think that the 5 class certification in this case is very 6 appropriate. A 23(b)(1) class should be 7 certified. The class that we're seeking to 8 certify for settlement purposes is a
9 participant or beneficiary in the Westar
10 Energy employees' 401(k) savings plan from 11 July 1st, '98, through January 1st, 2003,
12 whose account included investments in Westar
13 stock.

14 Your Honor, as our papers explain in 15 some length, I think all the factors of 23(a)
16 are met, as well as the factors of 23(b)(1)
17 have also been satisfied. There have been a
18 number of these cases both in a settlement
19 context and in a litigation context, this 20 ERISA employer stock type of case. I believe
21 they have all been certified under 23(b)(1)
22 as a non opt-out class. And we think that's 23 appropriate here.

24 Your Honor, I don't-- I don't have 25 anything more on the settlement itself unless

1 Your Honor has any questions.

2 THE COURT: I don't believe so.

3 Would anyone else like to weigh in 4 on this matter?

5 MS. KATZ: If I might just for a
6 second, Your Honor, just to say on behalf of 7 Westar that we are very pleased to be here at 8 what we hope is now the conclusion of the 9 trilogy of civil cases that had originally 10 been presented to Your Honor, and we are very 11 pleased with the settlement. We do believe
12 that it is fair, reasonable, and adequate.

13 The settlement negotiations were 14 very, very hard-fought. This was a very,
15 very difficult case for us to resolve. But 16 we are very pleased with the results, and we 17 think that they will be of great benefit to 18 the members of the class, and we just urge 19 that Your Honor approve the settlement as 20 described by Mr. Meltzer and the 21 certification of the class. Thank you.

22 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

23 Anyone else?

24 All right. I'll begin with the 25 matter of the certification of the class.

1 And, yes, there have been no objections by
2 any single class member to the certification
3 of the class, to the settlement, or to the 4 related matters concerning allowance of fees
5 and expenses and compensation. I did
6 conditionally certify the class at the 7 preliminary hearing. I'll now reiterate my
8 findings that class certification is proper
9 for the class, as defined in the preliminary
10 order.

11 The requirements of Rule 23(a) are 12 met. The numerosity requirement is met.
13 This class consists of several thousand
14 potential class members. Joinder is not 15 practicable.

16 The requirement of commonality is 17 met. There are common issues of fact and 18 law, including whether the defendants
19 breached fiduciary duties owed to the plan
20 and their participants in allowing the 21 maintenance of existing, and the addition of 22 new, investments in the company stock during 23 the proposed class period; issues concerning 24 whether the defendants knew or should have 25 known of problems besieging the company that

1 negatively affected the prudence of Westar
2 stock as an investment of the plan during the
3 class period.

4 Other common issues: Whether
5 defendants were fiduciaries of the plan
6 and/or the participants; whether defendants
7 breached their fiduciary duties, if they were 8 fiduciaries; whether the plans and the 9 participants were injured by such breaches;
10 and whether the class is entitled to damages
11 and injunctive relief.

12 The requirement of typicality is met
13 in that the claims of the class
14 representatives are typical of the claims of 15 the class as a whole. The plaintiffs in this 16 case and the proposed class are all employees
17 of Westar, a participant of the plan during 18 the class period, and each had part of his or 19 her individual plan investment portfolio
20 invested in Westar stock during the class
21 period.

22 All of them-- all of the plaintiffs
23 sustained injury during the class period; and 24 all of the plaintiffs bring their claims
25 pursuant to ERISA Sections 409 and 502(a)(2)

1 for plan-wide relief, so any relief obtained
2 would inure to the plan as a whole and,
3 derivatively, to its participants during the 4 class period.

5 And the requirement for adequacy of 6 representation is also met. The named
7 plaintiffs and their counsel are adequate
8 representatives of the interests of the class
9 as a whole. I find that plaintiffs have no
10 interest antagonistic to the interests of the 11 absent class members.

12 Plaintiffs have retained attorneys
13 that are highly qualified and experienced in 14 this type of litigation, ERISA breach of 15 fiduciary class actions, specifically. And 16 based on all of the pleadings in the entire 17 record, I find that they have diligently
18 represented the class before the Court as 19 well as in negotiations with defendants'
20 counsel that resulted in this settlement. So
21 all of the requirements of 23(a) are met.

22 Also, the requirements of 23(b)(1)
23 are met in that the only remedy available to 24 the plan participants is in fact plan-wide
25 relief, including the restoration of losses

1 to the plan. Actions such as this are by law
2 representative actions which, if successful,
3 will cause defendants to be obligated to 4 provide relief applicable to all participants
5 in the plan.

6 And given the unique group based
7 relief offered under ERISA for violations of 8 the fiduciary duties owed to participants in 9 covered benefit plans, these actions are 10 appropriate for class treatment under 11 Rule 23(b)(1) to avoid the risk of 12 inconsistent outcomes and inconsistent
13 standards of conduct for defendants; as well
14 as, the prosecution of separate individual
15 actions would, as a practical matter, be 16 dispositive of the interests of other class
17 members who were not parties to the action.

18 Thus, I will certify the proposed
19 class pursuant to Rule 23 for settlement
20 purposes. The class being defined as set out
21 in the pleadings. In short: Any person who 22 was a participant in or beneficiary of the 23 Westar 401(k) employees' savings plan from 24 July 1, 1998, through January 1, 2003, and 25 whose account in the plan included

1 investments in the Westar Energy, Inc.
2 company stock fund.

3 Excluded from the settlement class
4 are all defendants named in the action, their 5 subsidiaries and affiliates, members of their
6 immediate family, the legal representatives,
7 heirs, successors or assigns of any excluded
8 person, as well as any entity in which the 9 company has or has had a controlling
10 interest.

11 All right. And then turning to the 12 proposed settlement itself, first of all,
13 I'll find that notice to prospective class
14 members was adequate. I approved the 15 proposed class notice of proposed settlement
16 at the last hearing.

17 The administrator filed an affidavit
18 on July 17, 2006, establishing that notice
19 was mailed to the class, as ordered, and it
20 was also published in accordance with the 21 terms of the preliminary order. Notice was 22 sent to 3,871 current and former participants,
23 of the plan on May 26, 2006, and the approved
24 publication notice was published nationally
25 in USA Today and locally in The Kansas City

1 Star, The Wichita Eagle, and The Topeka
2 Capital-Journal. Also, plaintiffs created a
3 dedicated settlement website, which is 4 identified in the pleadings.

5 The form and method of notice was 6 agreed to by the parties; it was approved by 7 the Court; it was effectuated by the 8 plaintiffs, consistent with the order; and it
9 satisfies all due process considerations and 10 meets the requirements of 23(e)(1)(B).

11 All right. Turning to final
12 approval of the settlement, as Mr. Meltzer
13 has indicated, under the Tenth Circuit
14 prevailing case law there are four factors
15 the Court must address and consider when 16 determining whether the proposed settlement
17 is fair, reasonable, and adequate.

18 The first such factor is that the
19 settlement was fairly and honestly
20 negotiated. As the pleadings set out in 21 detail, and as Mr. Meltzer summarized, this 22 settlement is the product of lengthy 23 litigation as well as mediation and 24 negotiation: 18 months or more of formal and 25 informal negotiations; multiple mediation

1 sessions with an experienced mediator, who
2 was also the mediator in the Westar
3 securities litigation; voluminous discovery;
4 as well as intense advocacy and litigation
5 through this stage of motions to dismiss and 6 responses to that.

7 In addition, the Court finds that
8 class counsel had an in-depth understanding
9 of the merits of plaintiffs' claims and the 10 defenses available to defendants. Plaintiffs
11 counsel had the same. The Court-- in 12 addition, of course, there was this oversight
13 or independent evaluation by a third party
14 experienced in this type of litigation. So
15 based on all of these things, the Court
16 concludes that the settlement was fairly and 17 honestly negotiated.

18 The second factor is that there be 19 existence of serious questions of law and 20 fact. This is obviously evident to the Court
21 based on having reviewed and considered and 22 ruling on a number of issues that arose in 23 the context of the motions to dismiss.

24 In addition, more generally, as 25 plaintiffs point out, ERISA is a developing

1 and esoteric area of the law. It does
2 present many difficult issues of law and fact
3 made more complex, of course, in the context
4 of a class action such as this one. Although 5 plaintiffs survived defendants' motions to 6 dismiss, by and large, defendants would 7 likely have raised serious defenses at the 8 summary judgment phase as well as at trial,
9 if the case proceeded that far. Many of 10 these issues were legally and factually
11 complex issues that militate in favor of 12 settlement.

13 Also, of course, this case had yet
14 to be certified as a class action, and 15 plaintiffs and defendants, obviously,
16 recognize that courts have not
17 uniformly certified a proposed class to all
18 claims in ERISA cases of this nature.

19 Also, the risks of establishing
20 damages are always complex and generally
21 recognized in the context of these types of 22 actions. Very complex and require the 23 completion of full discovery and evaluation
24 of the relevant time period by the Court.

25 And there were questions as to

1 whether the losses alleged by plaintiffs
2 could be compensated under ERISA. There were 3 questions as to the proper measure of 4 damages. All of which, again, militated in 5 favor of settlement.

6 Had this case gone to trial, likely
7 there would have been a battle of experts.
8 Would be difficult for the parties to 9 anticipate the outcome or the decision that 10 would be made after hearing expert testimony
11 from both sides.

12 A third factor is the value of 13 immediate recovery. The Tenth Circuit has 14 held that the value of immediate recovery is 15 simply the monetary worth of the settlement.
16 This settlement is for $9.25 million. And 17 the Court agrees that this amount may well
18 have been in excess of what the class may 19 have obtained even through trial. This 20 recovery is in addition to the payment the 21 plan will receive from the recovery garnered
22 in the securities litigation and 23 substantially increases the recovery for the 24 individual class members.

25 It is-- it is clear that continued

1 litigation would have been protracted,
2 complex, and expensive; requiring more
3 discovery; requiring the battle over class
4 certification; requiring hiring and vetting
5 and discovery of experts; and ultimately, of 6 course, the expenses and time associated if 7 this case went all the way to trial.

8 And then the final factor the Court
9 must look at is the judgment of the parties
10 that the settlement is fair and reasonable.
11 And I've heard from both parties that after 12 -- as Ms. Katz said -- protracted mediation
13 and negotiation and intense negotiation
14 advocacy, they are satisfied that the 15 settlement is fair and reasonable to all.

16 Both parties are represented by
17 nationally-known counsel with extensive
18 experience in ERISA class actions. This has 19 been vetted by a third party. It's been 20 mediated. The Court is convinced that the 21 settlement is fair and reasonable. Thus, the 22 settlement will be approved at this hearing
23 on final approval of settlement.

24 And now we'll turn to the motion for 25 award of fees, expenses, and contribution of

1 compensation to class members.

2 MR. MELTZER: Thank you, Your Honor.
3 Your Honor, we put in an application
4 for award of attorneys' fees, reimbursement
5 of expenses and case contribution
6 compensation. Our request is for 30 percent
7 of the settlement fund. That amounts to 8 2.775 million, plus reimbursement of expenses
9 of $76,715.59, and a $1,000 award for each 10 named plaintiff for their contribution to 11 this case.

12 With respect to the request for 13 fees, there is a-- again, there's a test that 14 the Tenth Circuit employs to determine
15 whether-- whether the request is reasonable.
16 That-- that test is set out, among others, in 17 Brown v. Phillips Petroleum. This test is 18 quite a bit longer than the test relating to 19 approval of the settlement so I'll try and 20 run through the factors as quickly as I can.
21 There are, I believe, 10 or so that apply
22 here.

23 First is the time and labor
24 required. As the application states, Your
25 Honor, the class counsel has spent over 4,000

1 hours in prosecuting this case. It was a
2 case that was heavily litigated both on the
3 litigation side as well as on the mediation
4 settlement front.

5 The lodestar in the case is a little
6 bit over $1.4 million. That translates into 7 a multiplier, a lodestar multiplier, of 1.88.
8 I would submit that that is a very modest
9 multiplier. In comparison, Your Honor, I
10 believe in the Westar securities case the 11 30 percent awarded by Your Honor, I believe
12 that amounted to something like a 3.9
13 multiplier. So here it is far, far less.

14 The second factor is the novelty and 15 difficulty of the questions presented by the 16 case. As we've stated in this hearing
17 before, ERISA is a difficult case-- ERISA is 18 a difficult statute to prosecute a case.
19 There are a lot of trapdoors in ERISA. The 20 legal questions that get presented in a case
21 like this are complex. They are novel and 22 they are developing. And unless you practice
23 in it, it is a very difficult area of the law
24 to navigate correctly.

25 The third factor is somewhat related

1 to that -- the skill requisite to perform the
2 legal service properly. Again, ERISA cases
3 are not easy. When you build in a class
4 action component to them, they go from 5 complicated to extremely complicated.

6 It is difficult to present the case
7 properly both in pleadings as well as in what 8 were essentially summary trials during all of 9 these mediations. Getting a damage analysis
10 that's credible and gives you a, you know,
11 hope for recovery is not easy. Navigating 12 the statute and the legal issues that are 13 compounded by difficult issues of fact,
14 again, is not an easy proposition.

15 The fourth factor, the preclusion of 16 other employment by the attorneys due to 17 acceptance of the case. As I stated
18 previously, we dedicated 4,000-- over 4,000
19 hours. That obviously has an opportunity
20 cost that prevents us or precludes us from 21 working on other matters during the two-plus
22 years or almost three years of litigation
23 that we dedicated here. I retract that.
24 Three-plus years of litigation here.

25 The-- whether the fee is fixed or

1 contingent is another factor. Here, there
2 was no guarantee that we would receive
3 payment for anything. I believe that is 4 particularly telling here because with Your 5 Honor's ruling on the motion to dismiss and 6 in a developing area of the law, there's no
7 certainty that you're going to overcome the 8 initial Rule 12 challenge. Did not come
9 until September of 2005, several years into 10 the litigation, after we had expended a lot
11 of time and a lot of money in prosecuting
12 these claims. So there was a great deal of 13 uncertainty, and there was certainly a fairly
14 large risk that we were going to get no
15 payment whatsoever.

16 The next factor is the amount
17 involved and the results obtained. Your 18 Honor, it's a settlement for $9.25 million.
19 I believe it does substantially increase
20 recovery to the class members. It is in 21 addition to the recovery that the plan will 22 make as part of the Westar securities case.
23 I believe it is an excellent result. And I
24 believe that factor also supports the 25 requested fee.

1 The next factor is the experience,
2 reputation, and ability of the attorneys. My
3 firm and-- my firm is an experienced--
4 Schiffrin & Barroway is an experienced class
5 action firm. Mr. Pope and his firm, Ralston,
6 Pope & Diehl, are very experienced
7 litigators, especially in this particular
8 court. We-- I'll leave the rest of it to the 9 papers so that I don't stand up and sort of 10 trumpet my success and abilities.

11 The next factor is the 12 undesirability of the case. Your Honor, it's 13 not a difficult leap to say that an ERISA
14 class action to many practitioners would be 15 viewed as undesirable. Sometimes my wife
16 feels the same way. The desirability is--
17 frankly, when cases are easy and not so
18 complex, they become a lot easier to jump
19 into and dedicate your time and resources to.
20 But where they are difficult and complex, as 21 here, it becomes a little more of a-- a
22 little more of a challenge. And, frankly, I
23 think that factor supports the requested fee
24 as well.

25 Awards in similar cases. When you

1 look at what the multiplier is in this case,
2 I think it compares extremely favorably to
3 both awards in the Tenth Circuit in class
4 action cases -- I think that's a very modest
5 multiplier, the 1.88 -- as well as cases
6 across the country. I think you'll see
7 multipliers that are closer to three, four,
8 and five for this type of case. So I think
9 the requested fee compares very favorably.

10 The final point, Your Honor, is we
11 have no objections to the award of the fees
12 to the class, as unanimously endorsed in our 13 application.

14 The second component is for 15 expenses. We have expended $76,715.59. We 16 submitted an application to detail the 17 categories of expense. A lot of that is 18 discovery related. Much of-- some of that is 19 travel. It's travel related. There are also 20 copying expenses and the like. I think the 21 expenses, given the length of the case and 22 the complexity of the case, were minimal,
23 fortunately, because we were able to resolve
24 the case before we got further into expert
25 discovery. So resolving the case before we

1 went into really a deposition protocol and
2 before we started submitting summary judgment
3 papers helped keep expenses to a relative
4 minimum.

5 The final component of the 6 application is for case contribution awards.
7 We've asked for $1,000 apiece. That is a low
8 amount relative to what awards have been in 9 other cases. But essentially it recognizes
10 that there are quite a few named plaintiffs.
11 In fact, more in this case than in almost any 12 other that I've seen. But the one thing I
13 will say for the named plaintiffs is they 14 were very active. They played a big role.
15 They were a large part of us being able to 16 hold the line in settlement negotiations. I
17 think they did a really excellent job and 18 served the rest of the class very well.

19 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

20 MR. MELTZER: If you have any
21 questions, I'll be happy to address them.

22 THE COURT: I don't.

23 Anyone else?

24 All right. The so-called Johnson
25 factors that have been-- come from a Fifth

1 Circuit case but have been adopted in the 2 Tenth Circuit are those as outlined by 3 Mr. Meltzer. In the Tenth Circuit the 4 percentage-of-recovery method has been
5 endorsed as an appropriate method for 6 determining an award of attorneys' fees in 7 these types of cases and in other types of 8 cases as well.

9 Based on the entire record, and 10 particularly the parties' pleadings
11 concerning these fees and expenses, I find 12 that the fees requested are reasonable. The 13 expenses are also reasonable and customary.
14 And the compensation requested for the 15 members, the named plaintiffs, is also 16 reasonable.

17 Many of these factors have already
18 been addressed in summarizing the propriety
19 of the settlement that was approved. But 20 I'll note further that there was extensive
21 time and labor involved in this case. Over
22 4,000 combined hours in prosecuting the case
23 that culminated in the settlement.

24 As already addressed, the questions
25 legally and factually were novel and

1 difficult and complex.

2 Class counsel is experienced,
3 nationally recognized in this field, and had 4 the requisite skill necessary to perform the 5 legal services required in cases as complex
6 as this.

7 Based on the number of hours spent
8 over the last three-plus years, it's clear
9 that other employment was precluded to a
10 large degree by the attorneys that 11 represented the class.

12 The 30 percent request is in keeping
13 with the range of reasonable fee awards or 14 fee awards that have been found reasonable in 15 the Tenth Circuit. And the multiplication
16 factor as well.

17 The-- as I've already addressed, the 18 $9.25 million settlement is very favorable to 19 the class. Given the complexity of the legal 20 and factual issues, the need for protracted 21 and intense advocacy, it's fair to say that 22 this case would have been viewed as 23 undesirable, perhaps, to many. And that
24 factor needs to be taken into account.

25 The nature and length of the

1 professional relationship with the client is
2 evident, given the length of time that has
3 been spent to date on this case taking it
4 through settlement.

5 Again, the 33 percent-- or, rather,
6 the 30 percent requested is in line with the 7 range of awards in similar cases in this
8 circuit, including the range of awards given
9 by this particular Court.

10 As far as the expenses, we've
11 reviewed those. They appear to be reasonable 12 and customary expenses associated with 13 discovery and litigation and mediation.

14 And finally, with respect to the 15 request for $1,000 each as a case
16 contribution award to each of the 27 named
17 plaintiffs, I'll find that that is also 18 reasonable and appropriate, given the 19 litigation support that they provided over 20 the last three-plus years to class counsel to 21 the benefit of all other members of the 22 class.

23 So the motion for award of
24 attorneys' fees, reimbursement of expenses
25 and case contribution compensation is

1 granted.

2 You all had, I think, presented a
3 proposed order. I think my law clerk talked
4 to you about some language that needed to be
5 changed. And as soon as you can get that-- I
6 suppose we could change that, if need be, and 7 we can get this order out right away.

8 I do commend all of you. I know
9 that you-- I know this was a difficult case
10 for everyone involved. And I had some sense
11 of that deciding the motion to dismiss, how 12 difficult many of these-- all of these issues
13 really were. So I do appreciate the obvious,
14 you know, commitment you all made to securing
15 a fair and reasonable settlement that, you
16 know, benefitted the members of the class and 17 benefitted the company. And I know it took a
18 lot of work and a lot of intense lawyering.
19 And you all, obviously, did a very excellent
20 job in all respects. So I commend you. And 21 it's nice to have lawyers such as yourselves
22 appear in this court. I look forward to 23 seeing you again someday in another complex
24 class action, no doubt.

25 MR. MELTZER: Thank you, Your Honor.

1 P R O C E E D I N G S

2 (NOVEMBER 16, 2006; IN OPEN COURT)

3 THE COURT: GOOD MORNING. WE ARE HERE FOR PURPOSES
4 OF A FINAL HEARING ON THE SETTLEMENT IN THIS MATTER. AND I
5 HAVE, OF COURSE, RECEIVED A MOTION AND OTHER DOCUMENTATION
6 SUBMITTED BY COUNSEL; BUT I WILL HEAR FROM PLAINTIFF AT THIS 7 TIME. MR. WELLS, IF YOU WANT TO PROCEED ON BEHALF OF THE 8 PLAINTIFF.

9 MR. WELLS: GOOD MORNING, YOUR HONOR. WE ARE VERY 10 PLEASED TO BE HERE. WE ARE HAPPY TO PRESENT TO THE COURT FOR 11 FINAL APPROVAL THIS SETTLEMENT WHICH RESOLVES ALL CLAIMS IN THE 12 MIRANT ERISA LITIGATION. THE SETTLEMENT IS A PRODUCT OF 13 INTENSE NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE PARTIES THAT INVOLVED AN 14 EXPERIENCED NEGOTIATOR AND WAS DONE OVER THE COURSE OF SEVERAL 15 MEDIATION SESSIONS AS WELL AS SUBSEQUENT TELEPHONE
16 CONVERSATIONS AND THE LIKE.

17 PLAINTIFFS BELIEVE THAT THIS SETTLEMENT IS EXCELLENT
18 BECAUSE IT RECOVERS A SUBSTANTIAL AMOUNT OF DAMAGES AND 19 PROVIDES A CASH SETTLEMENT IN THE AMOUNT OF $9.7 MILLION THAT 20 WILL BE DISTRIBUTED ON A PRO RATA SHARE TO THE PLAN
21 PARTICIPANTS; THAT IS, EACH PARTICIPANT WILL RECEIVE A PORTION
22 OF THE SETTLEMENT IN PROPORTION TO THE TOTAL LOSSES THAT THEY
23 SUSTAINED DUE TO THEIR HOLDINGS IN MIRANT STOCK AND THE MIRANT
24 401K PLANS. THE SETTLEMENT ITSELF WAS REVIEWED EXTENSIVELY BY 25 AN INDEPENDENT FIDUCIARY, FIDUCIARY COUNSELORS, INC. THAT

Mirant Final Approval.txt

1 REPORT WAS FINALIZED, AND WE SENT THAT TO YOUR HONOR FOR REVIEW
2 YESTERDAY.

3 BEFORE THE COURT IS APPROVAL OF THE SETTLEMENT ITSELF
4 AS WELL AS APPROVAL OF ATTORNEY'S FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF 5 EXPENSES AS WELL AS CASE CONTRIBUTION AWARDS TO THE NAMED
6 PLAINTIFFS. IF I MAY PROCEED, YOUR HONOR, WE WOULD LIKE TO GO
7 DIRECTLY TO THE FAIRNESS OF THE SETTLEMENT.

8 THE COURT: YES, SIR.

9 MR. WELLS: THANK YOU. WOULD YOUR HONOR LIKE A BRIEF
10 HISTORY OF THE LITIGATION ITSELF OR SHALL WE PROCEED?

11 THE COURT: YOU MAY PROCEED TO THE FAIRNESS.

12 MR. WELLS: UNDERSTOOD, YOUR HONOR.

13 THE SETTLEMENT FACTORS THAT ARE CONSIDERED, YOUR 14 HONOR, ARE THE BENNETT FACTORS THAT WERE ENUMERATED BY THE 15 ELEVENTH CIRCUIT. AND THOSE SIX FACTORS IN ORDER ARE AN 16 ASSESSMENT OF THE LIKELIHOOD THAT PLAINTIFFS WOULD PREVAIL AT 17 TRIAL. I SUBMITTED IN OUR PAPERS, YOUR HONOR, ALTHOUGH 18 PLAINTIFFS BELIEVE VERY STRONGLY IN THIS CASE AND IN THE MERITS
19 OF THIS CASE, PLAINTIFFS UNDERSTAND THAT NO PLAINTIFF HAS 20 RECOVERED WHEN A CASE HAS BEEN TAKEN THROUGH TRIAL. THAT BEING 21 SAID, PLAINTIFFS DO BELIEVE STRONGLY IN THEIR CLAIMS AND THAT 22 THEY WOULD, IN FACT, BE ABLE TO PREVAIL. HOWEVER, GIVEN THE 23 CASE LAW OUT THERE AS WELL AS THE SETTLEMENT AMOUNT ITSELF, WE 24 BELIEVE THAT THIS FACTOR MILITATES IN APPROVING THE SETTLEMENT.

25 THE SECOND FACTOR IS THE RANGE OF POSSIBLE RECOVERY.

1 HERE, YOUR HONOR, I SUBMITTED IN OUR PAPERS DAMAGES RANGE FROM 2 THE MAXIMUM POSSIBLE RECOVERY OF APPROXIMATELY $30 MILLION

Mirant Final Approval.txt

3 TO -- AND THAT IS A BREACH DATE AT THE INCEPTION OF THE CLASS
4 PERIOD -- TO A DAMAGE PERIOD OF ABOUT $11 MILLION IF YOUR HONOR
5 WOULD FIND THAT THE BREACH DATE, THAT IS, WHEN MIRANT STOCK WAS 6 IMPRUDENT, WAS NOT UNTIL SEPTEMBER OF 2002; AND DAMAGES THEN
7 RANGE IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD OF $11 MILLION. HOWEVER, IF THE 8 BREACH DATE WAS TAKEN EVEN FURTHER OUT, FOR INSTANCE, INTO MAY 9 OF '03 WHEN THE GOING CONCERN ISSUE REGARDING MIRANT WAS 10 ISSUED, DAMAGES WOULD BE SUBSTANTIALLY LOWER.

11 THAT BEING SAID, YOUR HONOR, PLAINTIFFS HAVE 12 RECOVERED ANYWHERE FROM THE MAXIMUM OF 30 PERCENT OF THE 13 RECOVERY TO UPWARDS OF 88 PERCENT OF THE RECOVERY. THAT IN 14 ITSELF, WE THINK, SPEAKS HIGHLY OF THE SETTLEMENT AND, AGAIN, 15 FACTORS STRONGLY IN APPROVING THE SETTLEMENT.

16 THE THIRD FACTOR, YOUR HONOR, IS CONSIDERATION
17 PROVIDED TO CLASS MEMBERS PURSUANT TO THE SETTLEMENT AS 18 COMPARED TO THE RANGE OF POSSIBLE RECOVERY. AGAIN, YOUR HONOR, 19 THE CONSIDERATION HERE IS BETWEEN 30 PERCENT AND 88 PERCENT OF 20 THE TOTAL DAMAGES. WE, AGAIN, BELIEVE THAT THIS FACTORS
21 STRONGLY IN APPROVING THE SETTLEMENT.

22 THE FOURTH IS THE COMPLEXITY, EXPENSE AND POSSIBLE
23 DURATION OF THE LITIGATION HAD IT PROCEEDED. AS YOUR HONOR IS 24 WELL AWARE, THE CASE WAS ADMINISTRATIVELY CLOSED AFTER BRIEFING
25 ON DEFENDANT'S MOTIONS TO DISMISS AS WELL AS MOTION ON JUDGMENT

1 OF THE PLEADINGS WAS COMPLETED. THAT BEING SAID, IF THIS 2 LITIGATION WERE TO CONTINUE, THOSE MOTIONS WOULD HAVE TO BE 3 DECIDED; DISCOVERY, WHICH WOULD BE INTENSE BECAUSE THE

Mirant Final Approval.txt

4 DISCOVERY WOULD FACTOR IN TWO SUCH THINGS AS WHETHER OR NOT
5 MIRANT WAS A PRUDENT INVESTMENT FOR PLANS FROM THE INCEPTION,
6 WHETHER OR NOT THE DEFENDANTS THAT WE ALLEGED IN OUR COMPLAINT
7 WERE, IN FACT, FIDUCIARIES OF THE PLAN AND EXERCISED CONTROL
8 AND WERE ABLE TO, IN FACT, DIVEST THE PLANS OF MIRANT STOCK;
9 THROUGH SUMMARY JUDGMENT WHICH, AGAIN, WOULD BE VERY FACT
10 INTENSIVE, AND AS WE HAVE NOTED, THERE ARE A NUMBER OF 11 DECISIONS THAT GO BOTH IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFFS AS WELL AS 12 AGAINST PLAINTIFFS IN THIS CASE; AND THROUGH TRIAL.

13 CONSERVATIVELY, YOUR HONOR, WE WOULD ESTIMATE THAT 14 TRIAL THROUGH LITIGATION WOULD ESTIMATE BETWEEN THREE OR FOUR 15 YEARS. AGAIN, THIS EARLY SETTLEMENT IN THIS STAGE OF 16 LITIGATION FACTORS IN FAVOR OF APPROVING THE SETTLEMENT.

17 THEN THE FIFTH FACTOR, YOUR HONOR, IS THE NATURE AND 18 EXTENT OF ANY OBJECTIONS TO THE SETTLEMENT. AS WE SUBMITTED, 19 THERE IS ONLY ONE OBJECTION SUBMITTED BY ARTHUR LANKFORD TO THE 20 SETTLEMENT ITSELF. NOTABLY, YOUR HONOR, THE CLASS MEMBER DOES
21 NOT OPPOSE APPROVAL OF THE ATTORNEY'S FEES WHICH THE ORIGINAL
22 REQUESTED WERE 30 PERCENT, NOR DOES HE OPPOSE REIMBURSEMENT OF 23 EXPENSES OR THE CASE CONTRIBUTION AWARDS TO NAMED PLAINTIFFS.
24 RATHER, IN HIS LETTER HE SAID THAT THE SETTLEMENT SHOULD BE 25 HIGHER BECAUSE CERTAIN DEFENDANTS RECEIVED GOLDEN PARACHUTES.

1 RESPECTFULLY, YOUR HONOR, ALL PLAINTIFFS' COUNSEL
2 AGREE THAT THE SETTLEMENT SHOULD BE HIGHER. HOWEVER, GIVEN THE 3 OTHER FACTORS HERE AS WELL AS THE CASE LAW AS IT CURRENTLY 4 STANDS, THIS IS A SETTLEMENT THAT WE SIMPLY COULD NOT TURN OUR
5 BACK ON. MOREOVER, OVER 3500 NOTICES WERE SENT OUT TO CLASS

Mirant Final Approval.txt

6 MEMBERS, AND ONLY ONE PERSON FOUND OBJECTION. WE THINK THIS 7 COUNSELS IN FAVOR OF APPROVING THE SETTLEMENT.

8 FINALLY, YOUR HONOR, THE STATE OF PROCEEDINGS IN 9 WHICH THE SETTLEMENT WAS REACHED. AS I STATED EARLIER,
10 BRIEFING ON THE MOTION TO DISMISS WAS COMPLETED. HOWEVER, THIS 11 WOULD STILL BE A VERY LONG ROW TO HOE, AS WELL AS THE FACT THAT 12 WE CLEARLY UNDERSTOOD THE POSITIONS OF THE RESPECTIVE PARTIES
13 THROUGH THE MEDIATION EFFORTS. MEDIATION SUBMISSIONS WERE 14 SUBMITTED TO THE MEDIATOR, AND MEDIATION SESSIONS TOOK OVER 15 THREE DAYS IN TWO SEPARATE SESSIONS.

16 COMBINED, YOUR HONOR, WE THINK EACH OF THE SIX
17 FACTORS ENUMERATED IN BENNETT SEPARATELY, AS WELL AS COMBINED, 18 FACTOR IN APPROVING THIS SETTLEMENT; AND WE SUBMIT THIS 19 SETTLEMENT FOR APPROVAL.

20 THE COURT: I WILL HEAR FROM YOU, AS WELL, ON THE 21 REQUEST FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES AND EXPENSES.

22 MR. WELLS: BEFORE WE TURN TO THAT, YOUR HONOR, THERE
23 IS THE ISSUE OF CERTIFICATION OF CLASS; AND WE WOULD SUBMIT TO 24 THE COURT AS WE SUBMITTED IN THE PAPERS THAT SETTLEMENT HERE IN 25 CERTIFICATION OF A (B)(1) CLASS IS APPROPRIATE GIVEN THE NATURE

1 OF THE PLAN-WIDE BREACH AND THE HARM SUBMITTED.

2 WITH RESPECT TO THE REQUEST FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES, WE 3 WOULD PUT FORTH THAT EACH OF THE 12 FACTORS, JOHNSON FACTORS, 4 FAVOR IN APPROVING THIS SETTLEMENT. THE FIRST FACTOR IS THE
5 TIME AND LABOR REQUIRED. AS PUT FORTH IN OUR PAPERS, OVER 2700
6 HOURS OF BOTH ATTORNEY AND PROFESSIONAL TIME WAS COMMITTED TO

Mirant Final Approval.txt

7 THIS CASE. THOSE ARE SUBSTANTIAL RESOURCES WITH A LODESTAR
8 THAT AT THIS POINT IS JUST OVER 1.17 MILLION.

9 THE SECOND FACTOR, YOUR HONOR, IS THE NOVELTY AND 10 DIFFICULTY OF THE QUESTIONS PRESENTED. AS STATED BY MANY 11 COURTS, ERISA CASES IN PARTICULAR AND CLASS ACTIONS IN GENERAL
12 ARE COMPLEX CASES THAT REQUIRE SPECIALIZED EXPERTISE AS WELL AS 13 A GREAT DEAL OF, FOR LACK OF A BETTER TERM, HEAVY LIFTING ON 14 BEHALF OF PLAINTIFF'S COUNSEL. WE SUBMIT THAT WE'VE DONE THAT 15 HERE AND THAT THE SETTLEMENT EXEMPLIFIES THAT.

16 THIRD IS THE SKILL REQUISITE TO PERFORM THE LEGAL 17 SERVICES. HERE, YOUR HONOR, CLASS COUNSEL, AS STATED BY 18 INDEPENDENT FIDUCIARY, ARE SOME OF THE -- ARE TWO OF THE FIRMS
19 THAT ARE AT THE FOREFRONT OF THIS TYPE OF LITIGATION AND HAVE 20 PUT FORTH TREMENDOUS EFFORT; AND IT IS THROUGH OUR EFFORT THAT 21 THE SETTLEMENT WAS ABLE TO BE ACHIEVED.

22 FOURTH, YOUR HONOR, IS THE PRECLUSION OF OTHER
23 EMPLOYMENT. RESPECTFULLY, OVER 2700 HOURS WERE EXPENDED SOLELY 24 ON THIS CASE. THOSE 2700 HOURS COULD HAVE BEEN PUT FORTH ON 25 OTHER MATTERS THAT HAD A GREATER LIKELIHOOD OF RECOVERY.

SHARON D. UPCHURCH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

1 WHAT IS UNIQUE TO THIS CASE IS, UNLIKE ANY OTHER, TO 2 MY KNOWLEDGE, FIDUCIARY BREACH CASE OUT THERE, WE HAVE ASSERTED
3 THAT THE COMPANY STOCK WAS IMPRUDENT FROM THE INCEPTION. THAT 4 IS A UNIQUE FACTOR TO THIS CASE THAT WE THINK, WHILE WE COULD
5 HAVE PROVED AT TRIAL, WOULD RAISE OTHER SUBSTANTIAL HURDLES
6 UNLIKE ANY OTHER CASE AND BECAUSE OF THESE UNIQUE FACTORS,
7 AGAIN, COUNSELS IN FAVOR OF APPROVING THE SETTLEMENT.

8 THE FIFTH FACTOR, YOUR HONOR, IS THE CUSTOMARY FEE.
Page 7

Mirant Final Approval.txt

9 AS THE ELEVENTH CIRCUIT PUT FORTH IN CAMDEN I, THE CUSTOMARY 10 FEE IN COMMON FUND CASES IS BETWEEN 20 AND 30 PERCENT OF THE 11 TOTAL SETTLEMENT RECOVERED. HERE PLAINTIFFS ARE REQUESTING 12 27-AND-A-HALF PERCENT OF THE COMMON FUND.

13 THE SIXTH FACTOR IS WHETHER THE FEE IS FIXED OR 14 CONTINGENT. PLAINTIFF'S COUNSEL TOOK THIS FEE -- TOOK THIS 15 CASE, RATHER, COMPLETELY ON A CONTINGENT-FEE BASIS; THAT IS, 16 HAD THERE BEEN NO RECOVERY OBTAINED, WE WOULD HAVE BEEN WITHOUT 17 RECOURSE. WE HAVE FURTHER PUT FORTH OVER $52,000 WORTH OF 18 EXPENSES WITH NO GUARANTEE THAT THOSE EXPENSES WOULD BE
19 REIMBURSED. AGAIN, OVER 2700 HOURS WITH A LOADSTAR OF 1.17
20 MILLION AS WELL AS OUT-OF-POCKET EXPENSES THAT COULD HAVE BEEN 21 PUT FORTH TO CASES WITH A SUBSTANTIALLY HIGHER LIKELIHOOD OF 22 RECOVERY COUNSELS IN FAVOR OF APPROVING THIS SETTLEMENT.

23 THE SEVENTH FACTOR, YOUR HONOR, IS THE TIME
24 LIMITATIONS IMPOSED BY THE CLIENT UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES.
25 RESPECTFULLY, YOUR HONOR, CLASS COUNSEL READILY ADMITS THAT

1 THIS IS A CLASS CASE; AND, THEREFORE, THE CLIENT EXPECTATIONS
2 WERE THAT THEY WOULD LIKELY RECOVER, AND THERE WAS NO FIX DATE.

3 MOVING ON, YOUR HONOR, TO THE EIGHTH FACTOR, THE 4 AMOUNT INVOLVED AND THE RESULTS OBTAINED. AS I STATED EARLIER,
5 THE TOTAL OUTWARD RECOVERY IS BETWEEN A MAXIMUM OF 30 MILLION
6 TO A MORE REALISTIC NUMBER OF 11 MILLION. HERE THE $9.7
7 MILLION RESULTS IN A SUBSTANTIAL AMOUNT OF THE RECOVERY.

8 THE NINTH FACTOR, YOUR HONOR, IS THE EXPERIENCE, 9 REPUTATION AND THE ABILITY OF THE ATTORNEYS. AS PUT FORTH AND

Mirant Final Approval.txt

10 SEEN IN OUR PAPERS, AS WELL AS THE COMMENTS MADE BY THE 11 INDEPENDENT FIDUCIARY, THESE FIRMS HERE BEFORE YOUR HONOR ARE 12 AT THE FOREFRONT OF THIS TYPE OF PRACTICE AND HAVE USED THEIR 13 KNOWLEDGE HERE TO PUT FORTH AND GO AGAINST SOME OF THE MOST 14 EMINENT DEFENSE ATTORNEYS WITH RESPECT TO THIS FIELD AND WERE 15 ABLE TO PUSH FOR AND ACHIEVE THIS MAGNIFICENT SETTLEMENT.

16 THE TENTH FACTOR, YOUR HONOR, IS THE UNDESIRABILITY
17 OF THIS CASE. YOUR HONOR, HERE CLEARLY THIS WAS A BANKRUPTCY
18 CASE; SO YOU HAD THE ISSUES INHERENT IN BANKRUPTCY WHICH 19 PLAINTIFF'S COUNSEL WENT THROUGH AND SPENT SUBSTANTIAL TIME IN 20 DEALINGS IN THE BANKRUPTCY COURT ENSURING THAT THE SETTLEMENT
21 HERE WAS PRESERVED AND THESE CLAIMS WERE PRESERVED.

22 FURTHER, YOUR HONOR, BECAUSE OF THE NATURE OF THE 23 CASE, ASSERTING THAT IMPRUDENCE WAS FROM THE INCEPTION, THIS,
24 TOO, COUNSELS IN FAVOR THAT THIS CASE WAS, IN FACT, UNDESIRABLE
25 IN THAT IT WAS NOT THE EASIEST CASE, IT WAS NOT THE EASIEST

10

1 ERISA CASE, AND IT HAD UNIQUE FACTORS.

2 THE ELEVENTH FACTOR, YOUR HONOR, IS THE NATURE AND 3 LENGTH OF THE PROFESSIONAL RELATIONSHIP WITH THE CLIENT.
4 AGAIN, RESPECTFULLY, YOUR HONOR, THIS IS A CLASS CASE; AND WE
5 SUBMIT THAT WHILE OUR CLIENTS HAVE BEEN FULLY INFORMED AND 6 ADVISED OF THE CASE THROUGHOUT THE COURSE OF THE LITIGATION, 7 THIS IS NOT AN ONGOING RELATIONSHIP.

8 MOVING, YOUR HONOR, TO THE FINAL AND TWELFTH FACTOR,
9 THE AWARDS IN SIMILAR CASES. AS PUT FORTH IN OUR PAPERS, THERE
10 ARE NUMEROUS CASES OUT THERE IN WHICH SIGNIFICANTLY HIGHER
11 PERCENTAGES WERE OBTAINED AND ACHIEVED IN SIMILAR ERISA CASES;

Mirant Final Approval.txt

12 NOTABLY, ADC AND WESTSTAR IN WHICH 30 PERCENT RECOVERY WAS 13 APPROVED. HOWEVER, YOUR HONOR, AGAIN, AS NOTED BEFORE, THE 14 ELEVENTH CIRCUIT HAS SAID BETWEEN 20 AND 30 PERCENT IS 15 APPROPRIATE. HERE WE SUBMIT THAT OUR REQUEST FOR 27-AND-A-HALF
16 PERCENT, IT FALLS WITHIN THAT NORM; AND AS DEMONSTRATED BY THE 17 AMOUNT OF WORK PUT INTO THE CASE AND THE END RESULT ACHIEVED, 18 THAT THIS FACTORS IN FAVOR OF APPROVING THE SETTLEMENT.

19 YOUR HONOR, THE ELEVENTH CIRCUIT HAS NOTED IN CAMDEN
20 THAT THERE ARE SEVERAL OTHER FACTORS THAT MAY BE UTILIZED IN 21 DETERMINING WHETHER OR NOT A SETTLEMENT IS APPROPRIATE; AND IF 22 YOUR HONOR WOULD LIKE, I CAN GO THROUGH THOSE FIVE ADDITIONAL 23 FACTORS.

24 YOUR HONOR, THE FIRST ONE IS THE TIME REQUIRED TO 25 REACH SETTLEMENT. AS I STATED EARLIER, THIS INVOLVED TWO

11

1 FORMAL MEDIATION SESSIONS, THE FIRST MEDIATION SESSION
2 OCCURRING IN APRIL OF '05. THAT WAS A TWO-DAY ALL-DAY
3 MEDIATION SESSION. PRIOR TO THAT SESSION, THERE WERE NUMEROUS
4 PHONE CALLS AND TELEPHONIC CONFERENCES WITH BOTH THE MEDIATOR
5 AS WELL AS DEFENSE COUNSEL TRYING TO SEE IF SETTLEMENT MAY BE 6 AN APPROPRIATE AVENUE. SUBSEQUENT TO THE APRIL MEDIATION, 7 THERE WAS ANOTHER ALL-DAY MEDIATION IN NOVEMBER OF 2005; AND 8 THAT WAS ABLE TO PUSH THE CASE FURTHER ALONG. HOWEVER, 9 SETTLEMENT WAS NOT OBTAINED UNTIL EARLY OF 2006. THAT 10 DEMONSTRATES THAT THERE WAS SUBSTANTIAL TIME PUT FORTH IN 11 OBTAINING THE SETTLEMENT.

12 THE SECOND ONE IS WHETHER OR NOT THERE ARE ANY

Mirant Final Approval.txt

13 SUBSTANTIAL OBJECTORS BY THE CLASS. AGAIN, THERE'S ONLY ONE
14 OBJECTOR FROM THE CLASS OF OVER 3500.

15 THE THIRD IS WHETHER OR NOT THERE'S ANY NONMONETARY
16 BENEFITS CONFERRED UPON THE SETTLEMENT CLASS. HERE, YOUR 17 HONOR, AS PUT FORTH IN THE STIPULATION OF SETTLEMENT, THERE IS 18 A SPECIFIC CARVE-OUT SAYING THAT THE RECOVERY HERE WILL IN NO
19 WAY AFFECT THE SECURITIES-RELATED -- SECURITIES LITIGATION, NOR 20 WILL IT ADVERSELY AFFECT THE RELATED SOUTHERN ERISA LITIGATION.

21 THE FOURTH FACTOR, YOUR HONOR, IS THE ECONOMICS
22 INVOLVED IN PROSECUTING THIS CASE. SIMPLY PUT, YOUR HONOR, 23 CLASS CASES SUCH AS THIS WILL REQUIRE THE EXPENDITURE OF TENS
24 OF THOUSANDS, IF NOT HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS. BECAUSE 25 WE WERE ABLE TO ACHIEVE THE SETTLEMENT RELATIVELY EARLY IN THAT

12

1 PROCESS, WE WERE ABLE TO KEEP EXPENSES TO A MINIMUM; BUT WE DID
2 PUT FORTH EXTREME AMOUNTS OF MONEY.

3 THE FIFTH IS ARE THERE ANY OTHER FACTORS UNIQUE TO 4 THIS CASE. AS I SAID EARLIER, THIS INVOLVES A BANKRUPTCY CASE
5 AS WELL AS IMPRUDENCE FROM THE INCEPTION. BOTH OF THOSE 6 FACTORS ARE UNIQUE TO THIS ERISA CASE AND STRONGLY SUPPORT THIS 7 SETTLEMENT.

8 THE COURT: THANK YOU.

9 MR. WELLS: YOUR HONOR, IN ADDITION, THERE IS ALSO 10 THE MATTER OF THE REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES, IF YOU'D LIKE ME
11 TO ADDRESS THAT.

12 AS PUT FORTH IN OUR PAPERS, WE HAVE EXPENDED OVER
13 $52,000 WORTH OF EXPENSES THAT INCLUDE THE LIKES OF TRAVEL, 14 LODGING, FILINGS AND THE LIKE. WE THINK THEY ARE REASONABLE

Mirant Final Approval.txt

15 AND APPROPRIATE, AND WE NOTE FOR YOUR HONOR THAT THERE'S BEEN 16 NO OBJECTION TO THE REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES.

17 THE OTHER MATTER BEFORE YOUR HONOR IS THE ISSUE OF 18 THE CASE CONTRIBUTION AWARD. AS PUT FORTH IN OUR PAPERS, CASE
19 CONTRIBUTION AWARDS IN THIS CASE, ON THESE TYPE OF CASES, ARE 20 EMINENTLY REASONABLE BECAUSE THESE PLAINTIFFS -- BUT FOR THESE 21 PLAINTIFFS, THIS CASE WOULD NOT BE BROUGHT. THESE PLAINTIFFS
22 WERE ABLE TO STEP FORWARD, PROVIDE PLAN DOCUMENTS TO CLASS
23 COUNSEL, PROVIDE INFORMATION TO CLASS COUNSEL AS TO THE INNER 24 WORKINGS OF BOTH THE COMPANY IN GENERAL AS WELL AS THE PLANS IN 25 PARTICULAR.

13

1 AND WITH THESE CASES, THEY HAVE HELPED FOSTER AND
2 ACHIEVE A $9.7 MILLION SETTLEMENT THAT WOULD BENEFIT OVER 3500
3 CLASS MEMBERS; AND WE THINK THEIR EFFORTS SHOULD BE RECOGNIZED
4 AND AWARDED BY THIS COURT. RESPECTFULLY, YOUR HONOR, WE ASK
5 THAT A CASE CONTRIBUTION AWARD OF $2,000 FOR EACH OF THE TWO 6 NAMED PLAINTIFFS BE APPROVED.

7 AND WITH THAT, YOUR HONOR, IF THE COURT HAS ANY 8 QUESTIONS, I WOULD BE HAPPY TO ADDRESS THOSE.

9 THE COURT: I DO NOT. THANK YOU.

10 MR. HINSON, ANYTHING FROM THE DEFENDANT?

11 MR. HINSON: YOUR HONOR, AS WE SAID IN OUR WRITTEN 12 SUBMISSION, WE ONLY WOULD ADD THAT WE BELIEVE WE WOULD PREVAIL
13 HAD THE LITIGATION MOVED FORWARD; AND WE BELIEVE THAT IN THAT 14 LIGHT, THIS DEFENSE -- I MEAN THIS SETTLEMENT IS, IN FACT, A 15 FAIR AND REASONABLE SETTLEMENT. WE TAKE NO POSITION ON THE

Mirant Final Approval.txt

16 ATTORNEY'S FEES ISSUES. AND, THEREFORE, WE HAVE VERY LITTLE TO 17 ADD.

18 THE COURT: THANK YOU. I WOULD NOTE FOR THE RECORD
19 AND AS HAS BEEN ALLUDED TO BY MR. WELLS, THERE WAS ONE
20 OBJECTION FILED TO THE SETTLEMENT BY MR. LANKFORD. AND THE 21 COURT HAS REVIEWED THAT OBJECTION; AND LIKE MR. WELLS, I
22 UNDERSTAND MR. LANKFORD'S DISSATISFACTION WITH THE TOTAL AMOUNT
23 THAT WILL BE COMING TO HIM AS A MEMBER OF THIS CLASS. I CAN
24 UNDERSTAND AND APPRECIATE HIS CONCERN, HAVING LOST A
25 SUBSTANTIAL AMOUNT OF HIS LIFE SAVINGS. HOWEVER, WHILE I

14

1 APPRECIATE HIS POSITION, I DO NOT THINK IT JUSTIFIES REJECTION
2 OF THE SETTLEMENT.

3 FOR THE REASONS THAT HAVE BEEN STATED, I DO FIND THAT
4 THE SETTLEMENT IS FAIR AND IS A GOOD SETTLEMENT FOR THE MEMBERS
5 OF THE CLASS. CERTAINLY THE QUESTION OF LIABILITY, THE RANGE
6 OF POTENTIAL RECOVERIES, PARTICULARLY THE DETERMINATION OF WHEN 7 WE WOULD FIND THEY HAD BREACHED THEIR DUTIES REALLY COULD HAVE 8 HAD A SUBSTANTIAL EFFECT. AND I KNOW PROBABLY FROM THE 9 PERSPECTIVE OF NEGOTIATION, THAT HAD TO BE A DIFFICULT MATTER
10 TO GRAPPLE WITH, AS WELL. BUT IT CERTAINLY MILITATES IN FAVOR
11 OF THE SETTLEMENT THAT HAS BEEN REACHED.

12 I WILL APPROVE THE SETTLEMENT. I WILL CERTIFY THE 13 CLASS AS A (B)(1) CLASS. I FIND THAT THE ATTORNEY'S FEES ARE 14 ALSO REASONABLE. COUNSEL, CLASS COUNSEL, ARE OBVIOUSLY 15 EMINENTLY QUALIFIED TO BRING AND PURSUE THIS LITIGATION. I 16 THINK THAT WHEN ONE VIEWS THE LODESTAR INVOLVED IN THE CASE AS 17 COMPARED TO THE AMOUNT OF RECOVERY, THIS IS A FAIR

Mirant Final Approval.txt

18 COMPENSATION, PARTICULARLY WHEN ONE CONSIDERS, AS WE DISCUSSED
19 EARLIER, THE LIKELIHOOD OF SUCCESS, THE RISK THAT WAS ACCEPTED
20 BY COUNSEL IN TAKING ON THIS LITIGATION AND TAKING IT ON 21 TOTALLY ON A CONTINGENT-FEE BASIS; SO THEY BORE THE ENTIRE
22 RISK. AND I THINK THERE IS A PUBLIC POLICY ISSUE AT STAKE HERE
23 IN THAT COUNSEL NEED TO BE ENCOURAGED TO TAKE THESE CASES WHEN 24 THEY'RE MERITORIOUS; AND IF THERE'S NOT FULL, COMPLETE AND 25 APPROPRIATE COMPENSATION, THERE WILL NOT BE THAT INCENTIVE TO

15

1 TAKE THESE CASES.
2 I DO APPRECIATE THE FACT THAT COUNSEL HAS ADJUSTED
3 ITS REQUEST TO 27.5 PERCENT OF THE COMMON FUND, AND I WILL
4 AWARD FEES OF 27.5 PERCENT OF THE COMMON FUND. I WILL ALSO 5 AWARD TO COUNSEL THE FULL AMOUNT OF EXPENSES AS REQUESTED IN 6 THE PAPERS FILED WITH THE COURT AND WILL ALSO MAKE THE CASE
7 CONTRIBUTION AWARDS TO THE NAMED PLAINTIFFS OF $2,000 EACH AS 8 REQUESTED. I THINK THAT'S EMINENTLY FAIR FOR THE PEOPLE WHO 9 CHOOSE TO ALLOW THEMSELVES TO BE PUT OUT THERE AS 10 REPRESENTATIVES OF THE CLASS. AND WHILE I REALIZE IN A CASE OF 11 THIS TYPE, THEY ARE NOT INTIMATELY INVOLVED IN THE PROCEEDINGS, 12 THEY ARE THERE TO REPRESENT THEIR COLLEAGUES AND TO BE IN TOUCH
13 WITH COUNSEL AND DO HAVE SOME RESPONSIBILITIES AND ROLES IN 14 THAT REGARD. SO I THINK THAT'S A VERY FAIR AMOUNT TO PROVIDE 15 TO THOSE TWO.
16 YOU HAD SUBMITTED PROPOSED ORDERS ON THESE MATTERS,
17 AND I FIND THEM TO BE APPROPRIATE AND AM INCLINED TO EXECUTE
18 THOSE AS SUBMITTED. THE QUESTION I WOULD HAVE IS THERE ARE

Mirant Final Approval.txt

19 BLANKS TO BE FILLED IN. I DID NOT KNOW IF YOU HAVE COMPLETED
20 ONE THAT FILLS IN THE BLANKS OR IF YOU WANTED TO GET IT TO US
21 BY E-MAIL AND WE WOULD DO IT.

22 MR. WELLS: YOUR HONOR, NOT TO BE PRESUMPTUOUS, BUT 23 WE DID HAVE ONE THAT HAS THE BLANKS FILLED IN. I WOULD BE 24 HAPPY TO SUBMIT IT TO YOUR HONOR.

25 THE COURT: I AM NOT OFFENDED BY YOUR PRESUMPTION AT

16

1 ALL. I APPRECIATE IT, AS DOES MY STAFF.

2 MR. WELLS: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

3 (PAUSE IN THE PROCEEDINGS.)

4 THE COURT: I HAVE SIGNED THE ORDER OF FINAL
5 JUDGMENT, AND THIS WILL BE -- I'LL LET COUNSEL FILE IT WITH THE 6 CLERK SINCE MY CLERK IS NOT HERE TODAY. HE'S OUT SICK. I'LL 7 LET YOU FILE IT WITH THE CLERK.

8 LET ME, HOWEVER, CONCLUDE BY EXPRESSING TO COUNSEL
9 FOR BOTH THE PLAINTIFFS AND THE DEFENDANT MY SINCERE
10 APPRECIATION FOR YOUR LABORS IN THIS CASE. YOU POINTED OUT,
11 MR. WELLS, THE LAYERS OF THIS LITIGATION AND THE FACT THAT YOU
12 HAD THE BANKRUPTCY ASPECT OF THIS TO DEAL WITH AS WELL AS THE 13 OTHER ISSUES THAT ARE INVOLVED IN THIS CASE. THIS WAS NOT A 14 SIMPLE CASE. IT HAD THE EXTRA LAYERS THAT MADE IT MORE
15 DIFFICULT.

16 BUT IT'S VERY CLEAR TO ME THAT ALL OF YOU WORKED VERY
17 HARD AT THIS. NUMBER ONE, YOU HAD WORKED VERY HARD BEFORE I
18 STAYED THE CASE IN THE MOTION PRACTICE THAT HAD ALREADY BEGUN.
19 I AM CONFIDENT THAT YOU WOULD HAVE WORKED EQUALLY AS HARD HAD 20 THE CASE BEEN REOPENED AND WE HAD GONE THROUGH THE DECIDING OF
Page 15

Mirant Final Approval.txt

21 THOSE MOTIONS AND IF THE CASE SURVIVED, THE ENTIRE ROUTE THAT 22 YOU'VE DESCRIBED, MR. WELLS, THROUGH SUMMARY JUDGMENT, TRIAL, 23 ET CETERA. AND FROM A JUDGE'S PERSPECTIVE, IT'S JUST REALLY 24 NICE TO HAVE LAWYERS WHO ARE CAPABLE, WHO ARE PROFESSIONAL, WHO 25 WORK TOGETHER, WHO SEEK TO FIND A GOOD RESOLUTION TO A

17

1 DIFFICULT CONFLICT; AND I FEEL THAT YOU HAVE IN THIS CASE.
2 I FEEL VERY GOOD ABOUT THIS SETTLEMENT IN EVERY 3 RESPECT. I THINK THE AMOUNT OF MONEY THAT'S GOING INTO THE 4 POCKETS OF THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS, WHILE, AGAIN, I WOULD LOVE
5 TO SEE, AS I KNOW YOU WOULD, MORE MONEY GOING INTO THEIR 6 POCKETS, THIS IS COMING OUT A LOT BETTER THAN WHAT COULD HAVE 7 BEEN; AND I THINK YOU FOLKS HAVE DONE A GREAT JOB.

8 AND I KNOW THAT THERE ARE OBSERVERS WHO WOULD 9 CRITICIZE THE AMOUNT OF ATTORNEY'S FEES AND THEY WOULD SAY THIS
10 IS ALL ABOUT LAWYERS MAKING MONEY. BUT THE REALITY IS IF YOU
11 HAD REPRESENTED EVERY ONE OF THESE FOLKS INDIVIDUALLY, A 27.5
12 CONTINGENT FEE WOULD HAVE BEEN A STEAL ON THEIR PARTS. THEY 13 COULD NOT HAVE RETAINED COUNSEL TO REPRESENT THEM INDIVIDUALLY
14 ON THAT KIND OF CONTINGENT FEE. NUMBER ONE, MOST OF THEIR 15 CLAIMS WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN SUFFICIENT TO JUSTIFY THAT. THEY 16 WOULD HAVE HAD TO PAY AN HOURLY FEE; AND LOOKING AT YOUR 17 LODESTAR, THE TIME THAT WOULD HAVE HAD TO GO INTO IT, THEY 18 WOULDN'T HAVE GOTTEN ANYTHING OUT OF IT. THEY WOULD HAVE HAD 19 TO PAY A HIGHER CONTINGENCY.

20 SO WHILE I RECOGNIZE MANY FOLKS OUT THERE DON'T 21 APPRECIATE THE ROLE THAT YOU HAVE PLAYED IN THIS AND THEY SEE

Mirant Final Approval.txt

22 THIS AS LAWYERS JUST GETTING RICH AT THE EXPENSE OF THE VICTIMS
23 OF WHAT HAS OCCURRED HERE, I HONESTLY SEE BEYOND THAT AND THINK
24 THAT YOU HAVE DONE A REAL SERVICE BY REPRESENTING THESE FOLKS,
25 AND I THINK THEY HAVE GOTTEN A DEAL IN IT. AND SO THANK YOU

SHARON D. UPCHURCH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

18

1 FOR YOUR WORK ON THE FILE.

2 AND I APPRECIATE THE DEFENDANTS, AS WELL, BEING 3 WILLING TO COME TO THE TABLE AND GET A RESOLUTION OF THIS.

4 I'VE SIGNED THE ORDER. I WILL LET YOU FILE IT, AND 5 THAT WILL CLOSE THE MATTER. THANK YOU, AND HAVE A GOOD DAY.
6 WE'RE ADJOURNED.

7 (PROCEEDINGS CONCLUDED.)

Colloquy

1 THE COURT: Good morning. I gather you've given your
2 appearances to Miss Giordano, so we're ready to proceed.

3 Let me ask before we start in, the gentlemen back
4 here, are you here to make any comments about the settlement?

5 VOICE: No, sir.

6 THE COURT: All right. So we have nobody appearing at 7 this point anyway to address the approval of the settlement?
8 Any other applications? All right, well, Miss Rodriguez, are 9 you presenting this?

10 MS. RODRIGUEZ: Actually, your Honor, Mr. Meltzer will 11 be presenting on behalf of the plaintiffs today.

12 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Meltzer, go ahead.

13 MR. MELTZER: Good morning, your Honor. We are very 14 pleased to be here today. We are here to present the 15 settlement in all the claims in the Honeywell ERISA litigation.
16 The settlement is a product of a rather lengthy, sometimes
17 rather intense negotiations between the parties. Your Honor, 18 to summarize what the settlement provides for, monetary and 19 structural relief. On the monetary side, it calls for 14
20 million dollars to pay into the Honeywell plans. It will be 21 distributed to the participants and further pro rata share, and 22 in accordance with how much they may have lost due to their 23 investments in Honeywell stock. Your Honor, if I could, one
24 bit of housekeeping. We had submitted a plan.

25 THE COURT: And I gather you propose not to pursue

Colloquy

1 that this morning?

2 MR. MELTZER: That's right.

3 THE COURT: We will address that question later.

4 MR. MELTAER: It's largely worked out, and I think
5 there's some details that I think we need to finalize, and the 6 parties will get together and submit something in due course.

7 With respect to the structural part of the settlement,
8 previously the Honeywell plan provided that participants cannot 9 invest their money in anything but Honeywell stock until they 10 were 55, and had accumulated 10 years of service in the plan.
11 Those restrictions have been lifted or unlocked, so to speak,
12 so now participants can move their money about in any of the 13 plans in investment alternatives.

14 The other motion before your Honor today is counsel's
15 motion for fees, expenses, and payment of case contribution
16 orders; namely, plaintiffs.

17 With respect to the motion for approval of settlement,
18 we seek the Court's finding that the settlement is fair,
19 adequate, and reasonable under Rule 23 and the Third Circuit
20 standards. We also seek final certification of settlement
21 class, and I can give you a brief background of the litigation
22 to this point.

23 THE COURT: All right.

24 MR. MELTZER: Okay. The cases were initially filed in 25 March, 2003. They allege breaches of fiduciary duty under

Colloquy

1 ERISA, specifically Section 409 and 502 of ERISA. There were
2 two cases filed. They were ultimately consolidated in May of 3 2003. There was a consolidation and organizational order
4 entered by the Court. At that time, my firm and Ms. Rodriguez
5 leads with the liaison counsel, and we secured certain
6 documents, ERISA-related documents that relate to the governing
7 of the plan. They are essentially the trust agreement and all
8 the governing instruments under which the plans are operated.

9 We then continue by our investigation of the claims,
10 and essentially to prepare the filing of the consolidated
11 complaint. The consolidated pleading was filed on July 28,
12 2003. It is fairly long, it's fairly detailed, it essentially
13 groups three sets of defendants, Honeywell International,
14 members of the retirement plan's committee, members of the 15 company's investment committee, and it sets out a variety of 16 allegations relating to why Honeywell stock, at least
17 plaintiffs allege, was imprudent during that period. Problems
18 that the company was having related to certain mergers, Allied 19 Signal mergers. Also a contemplated merger with General
20 Electric. Claims for relief based on breach of fiduciary
21 duties under ERISA; to monitor fiduciaries under ERISA; and 22 also prohibit transactions.

23 Following the filing of that consolidated pleading,
24 that touched off some motion practice. Defendants moved to 25 dismiss the complaint, and we of course opposed it.

Colloquy

1 THE COURT: You're familiar with what took place here
2 in court?

3 MR. MELTZER: That ultimately resulted in oral
4 argument before your Honor, and ultimately an order granted in 5 part, denied in part, defendant's motion.

6 At that time the parties were also engaged in class
7 certification discoveries as a result of the magistrate waiting
8 to enter an order bifurcating discovery in the matter. We were 9 engaged in propounded discovery, compounded discovery. We had 10 several meet and confer sessions, some rather lengthy, some 11 rather contentious, but we ultimately framed a couple of issues
12 for the Court. We had a couple of motions to compel pending
13 the time the settlement was reached.

14 The other aspect of the litigation that I would point
15 out is that the ERISA plaintiffs and counsel here today appear 16 before your Honor in the securities case because there was some 17 questions if they were reached in their case.

18 THE COURT: What was the settlement figure in that 19 case?

20 MR. MELTZER: In the securities litigation?

21 THE COURT: Yeah.

22 MR. MELTZER: I believe it was a hundred million
23 dollars.

24 Yeah, we appeared at the fairness hearing in the 25 securities litigation to make sure the relief was not -- could

Colloquy

1 not be read to the certain defense in this litigation.
2 Settlement discussions began sometime in the spring of '04, and
3 frankly, your Honor, I believe they were touched off by an 4 inquiry you made during the contest of a securities hearing as 5 to whether class counsel in the ERISA case has begun a
6 settlement dialogue. And we're appreciative of that fact,
7 because sometimes that's just the kind of push the parties need
8 to talk about settlement in a fruitful way. We had rather 9 protracted settlement discussions.

10 There is essentially two grounds, if you will, in 11 negotiation. We had asked your Honor to refrain from issuing 12 his opinion on the motion to dismiss, sort of insuring the 13 maximum amount of uncertainty while settlement talks were 14 proceeding. We reached an impasse at some point. We then 15 contacted your Honor and asked that you issue your opinion.
16 And after it's received, we sort of picked up on settlement
17 negotiations at that time.

18 Beyond the settlement, we went over the terms of the 19 actual agreement. We proceeded with some confirmatory
20 discovery that involved largely the production of. Corporate
21 minutes, there are two committees I mentioned before,
22 Retirement Plan Committee that deal with operations an 23 administration of the plans. We reviewed some of those 24 minutes. We talked to a large --

25 THE COURT: How far will discovery proceed in the

Colloquy

1 securities class action? Have they gotten into merits
2 discovery.

3 MR. MELTZER: My involvement was limited, your Honor.
4 But as I understand it, I think they were well into merits --

5 THE COURT: Well, the point of my question is, were 6 you able to draw on the information and discovery in that case
7 to assist you in this case?

8 MR. FRANCIS: Judge, if I may, I was the only one who 9 was in both cases. There were a limited number of depositions
10 in the securities litigation, fair amount of document
11 discovery, and very little depositions.

12 THE COURT: And the document discovery?

13 MR. FRANCIS: Yes, yes, a fair amount of that.

14 MR. MELTZER: The only thing I can say, your Honor, in 15 direct response, I didn't have access to anything that went on 16 in the securities litigation, with the exception of pleadings
17 that were filed.

18 THE COURT: And there were motions filed --

19 MR. MELTZER: Right.

20 THE COURT: -- in that case. And I assume you've 21 followed whatever was going on in the court?

22 MR. MELTZER: Yes, especially with respect to 23 settlement. You do what you have to do.

24 THE COURT: All right.

25 MR. MELTZER: Beyond that, that's sort of where our

Colloquy

8

1 involvement ended.

2 THE COURT: All right.

3 Well then, what was the data on which you relied in 4 determining the merits of your case?

5 MR. MELTZER: Your Honor, we got both the 6 ERISA-related documents, we did a lot of precomplaint sort of 7 informal discovery. Anything that we were able to obtain from 8 probable available sources, SEC filings, the DOL, anything that 9 we got from the defendants, both before the complaint was filed
10 and in the context of discussing settlement. That's the kind
11 of information we relied upon. There included information with 12 regard to the insurance that the company had taken out for 13 fiduciary claims, it included information regarding the plans,
14 purchases, and sales of Honeywell stock during the time period.
15 Again, the minutes of the committees that were assessing the 16 propriety in investing in Honeywell stock were produced the day
17 after the agreement was reached in a confirmatory capacity.
18 There was, in addition to whatever we got in the context of 19 class certification, the discovery, in the way of discovery
20 responses. Frankly speaking, I'm not sure how much that 21 dovetails to the merits of the claim. It did somewhat, but 22 that's not entire overlapping.

23 THE COURT: All right.

24 MR. MELTZER: There was a fairly substantial amount of 25 information that we were -- that we had access to, both in the

1 context of preparing for our complaint and the motion practice,
2 and in proceeding with settlement negotiations that I think
3 span settlement -- six or seven months.

4 THE COURT: Good. Okay.

5 MR. MELTZER: Your Honor, I would just like to touch
6 real briefly on the structural relief part of the settlement.
7 We are particularly pleased with that. There is a -- there is 8 a report that we would draw your Honor's attention to that 9 we've submitted with our approval papers. It's from a
10 Professor Ramaswamy. He is a professor -- he sort of is a 11 specialist in trying to quantify what value it brings. He puts 12 a broad range in terms of value, less concerned about what the 13 actual value is, and more concerned that people are going to be 14 able to kind of spread our investments out over a variety of 15 investments, especially if they see some kind of down turn in 16 any particular sector of the market. It helps to mitigate 17 against these kinds of claims going forward, otherwise I can 18 rely on the submission, and we're not seeking a fee on the 19 value that he quantifies, fairly large.

20 THE COURT: And it's pretty speculative --

21 MR. MELTZER: Yeah, it is.

22 THE COURT: -- value?

23 MR. MELTZER: Well, it's speculative in one sense
24 because obviously you're not dealing with people and their 25 investment decisions in the future. And on the other hand,

Colloquy

10

1 it's fairly empirical, and it's at least well reasoned, and
2 it's actually based on actual data.

3 With respect to settlement as a whole, both the 4 monetary and structural components of it, we would ask that the 5 Court enter a finding that it's fair, reasonable, and adequate,
6 under Rule 23E, within the Third Circuit. There is a nine
7 factor test. Frankly, preliminarily, your Honor, the 8 settlement is presumptively fair under Third Circuit case law.
9 It was negotiated at arm's length. There was sufficient
10 discovery so counsel could assess the merits, and counsel has 11 experienced a similar action, and only a small portion of the 12 class objected. And those are inadequate notice to the class
13 participants, and I'll touch on that in a second. Those are 14 the elements for sort of a presumptive finding of fairness.

15 With respect to notice, the notice in this case, and 16 it's a non-class, those standards are lower or somewhat
17 relaxed. Frankly, the notices in this case were outstanding.
18 There were individual notices mailed out to over a hundred
19 thousand participants. There was publication in the USA Today,
20 the Minneapolis Star Union. There was a web site that we made
21 available through the claims administrator which gave everybody
22 information regarding the settlement, including court
23 documents, that had twenty-thousand, two hundred hits in the 24 small amount of time since notice was effectuated.

25 Despite the notice efforts, there were roughly 18

Colloquy

11

1 objections, as I counted them. Given the size of the class,
2 that's a rather small number.

3 With respect to the Dirsh factors, I can run through 4 those fairly quickly. The first factor, and this is the 5 nine-factor test that the Third Circuit has enunciated, I think
6 it's a 1975 case, but it's been reiterated and reiterated. The 7 first factor is complexity and likely duration of the 8 litigation. Your Honor, these are fairly novel claims, and 9 these are fairly new lines of cases. The case law, as your 10 Honor probably knows from issuing the opinion, is very 11 unsettled. There is a lot of inherent complexities. Courts in 12 this district alone have noted the difficulties in trying to 13 prove one of these cases and advance it all the way to trial.
14 The expense and likely duration of the litigation, had we not 15 settled at this point, the litigation probably would have gone
16 on for at least another year. And a factor of that, the 17 expense would have been very considerable. Experts in this 18 kind of case alone are in the hundreds of thousand of dollars.
19 Document production would have cost some factor of that. So
20 that factor militates in favor of approval of the settlement.

21 The second Dirsh factor is the reaction of the class
22 to the settlement. As I say, your Honor, there were roughly 18
23 objectors. Given the size, winds up to be .01 percent of the 24 class. The other thing to note about the reaction of the 25 class, some say too little in terms of settlement, some say

Colloquy

12

1 it's far too much. We seem to obstruct that.

2 THE COURT: Well, I guess you had a few people who
3 just don't like class action or class action lawyers.

4 MR. MELTZER: Unfortunately, your Honor, the person in 5 my position is always the case. There are always people who
6 are dissatisfied with the way Rule 23 operates. By and large 7 the class is -- by not objecting is sort of affirming the 8 reasonableness of the settlement, and I think that factor also 9 militates in favor of the finding fair and reasonable. The 10 proceedings and the amount of discovery, as we discussed
11 previously, the case was settled after your Honor issued the 12 motion to dismiss. Class certification, the discovery was 13 ongoing at the time. The class, as I addressed briefly,
14 earlier, class certification and discovery was proceeding
15 because it hadn't bifurcated at that point. Merits discovery
16 has been stayed, despite our objection. We lost on that one.
17 Class certification discovery was determined first, and then
18 subsequent to a finding on class certification, we were to move
19 into merits discovery. We had discovery that was produced
20 informally] before the complaint was filed. We had a lot of 21 publicly available information. We had dozens and dozens of 22 participants who had contacted my firm, who gave us
23 information. We also ad information that was produced in the 24 context of negotiating the settlement. All of those factors
25 essentially amounts to us having clearly a considerable amount

Colloquy

13

1 of information and enough information that we can assess the
2 propriety of moving forward with this settlement today.

3 The fourth and fifth test of the Dirsh test is showing
4 liability. These are difficult cases, as I touched on briefly.
5 There is a dirth of case law with respect to whether the cases
6 are meritorious and can go forward on any number of fronts,
7 whether it's in the face of a presumption or in terms of 8 standing to bring the claims. There is a District Court
9 opinion, your Honor, in this district shortly before you issued 10 your opinion on the motion to dismiss, which dismissed all the 11 claims in analogous actions based on standing and the inability
12 to proceed in this type of action. There is a limited number 13 of circuit court decisions that guide us. And frankly, I have 14 felt we had strong claims with respect to liability, as the 15 defendants I'm sure think they have very strong offenses with 16 respect to liability.

17 In terms of damages, this particular case is not a
18 sort of fraud of the century, if you will. It's not an Enron
19 or Worldcom. It's not a case where the company spiraled into 20 bankruptcy. I think the close, the trade was somewhere up to 21 forty dollars a share. It's obviously a viable company.
22 Factor that with the sort of performance of the stock, visa-vis
23 the market during the time period, and whether it
24 underperformed or out performed certain indexes, damages would 25 be a very difficult proposition for us to prove. There was a

Colloquy

14

1 drop in the stock obviously between the beginning and end of
2 our class period. Whether we could tie that to the specific 3 fiduciary action or inaction, obviously is something that we
4 would only ote if we proceed through an entire trial. But 5 based upon our experience in other cases, this was a difficult
6 case in terms of trying to prove up the actual damages. And 7 frankly, your Honor, if you look at the memorandum that the 8 defendants filed yesterday, we would have been lucky to prove 9 any damages at all, based on the statements made in that 10 memorandum.

11 The sixth Dirsh factor is the risk of maintaining a 12 class action through trial. Frankly, your Honor, I think the 13 class would have been certified. I think these cases make for 14 perfect class actions under 23D-1. I think they said all the 15 elements of 23A pretty clearly, and the cutting against that of 16 course is that the defendants had already undertaken a very 17 aggressive class certification. And in light of that, they 18 would have attacked the accuracy of our named plaintiffs. We 19 were preparing for depositions at the time we settled. There
20 was certainly a risk that we wouldn't be able to maintain a
21 class at trial, albeit I think a small one.

22 The seventh Dirsh factor is the ability of the 23 defendants to withstand a greater judgment. Your Honor, we 24 don't challenge whether Honeywell could sustain a greater
25 judgment than what we would have secured here. This factor

Colloquy

15

1 standing alone doesn't preclude the entry of a settlement. I
2 think the waiver and anti-trust case in the Third Circuit, just 3 because the company could pay more, doesn't mean that the 4 settlement shouldn't be approved. You have to look at all the 5 other compliments and all the other factors.

6 The eighth and ninth factors within the Dirsh test are 7 the range of reasonableness of the settlement in light of the 8 best possible recovery and the range of reasonableness of the 9 settlement fund to possible recovery in light of the attendant
10 risks of litigation. Frequently they are analyzed together.
11 The Third Circuit has pointed out that this settlement, these 12 factors should be interpreted essentially as to whether the 13 settlement represents a good value for a relatively weak case.
14 In light of some of the problems, not only in terms of the law,
15 but as they apply to the facts of this particular case, clearly 16 a solvent company and very viable company. I think this is an 17 excellent result, both in terms of securing almost all the 18 fiduciary liability policies, despite the fact that there was a
19 denial of coverage and very -- essentially, when you -- base it 20 again on the risk that we wouldn't be able to get anything at 21 all, it's an excellent recovery. And when you base it against 22 the best possible recovery, and the problem we would have, I
23 think again the factor is clearly supportive of approving the 24 settlement.

25 Finally, the motion for approval seeks final

Colloquy

16

1 certification of the settlement classes. Obviously it's not
2 opposed by the defendant's settlement classes. Any person who 3 is a participant in the --

4 THE COURT: I don't think you have to read the 5 definition over.

6 MR. MELTZER: That's set forth in the papers. We 7 think it clearly meets all the Rule 23 requirements, and we 8 would seek certification of the settlement class under 23A, and 9 then 23B(1) and B(2).

10 THE COURT: All right.

11 MR. MELTZER: There's all I have with respect to 12 approval, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Then we get to the application for fees
14 and expenses.

15 MR. MELTZER: Okay.

16 Your Honor, we submitted a motion for attorney's fees,
17 reimbursement for expenses and case contribution. We requested
18 25 percent of the settlement fund that nets out to 3.5 million
19 dollars, as well as reimbursement of forty-three thousand,
20 eight hundred and eighty-seven dollars in expenses as well as 21 an award of twenty-five hundred dollars for each of the named
22 plaintiffs.

23 THE COURT: In the securities class action I awarded
24 20 percent.

25 MR. MELTZER: Yes.

Colloquy

17

1 THE COURT: Is there some reason why there should be a
2 higher percent in this case than in that case?

3 MR. MELTZER: Your Honor, the answer I guess is, given
4 the higher number, sometimes when you have higher awards,
5 courts will take the percentages down and the Third Circuit
6 called it frankly the range of settlement. The fee awards in 7 these types of cases have been between 20 and 30. I think 25
8 is reasonable. I think it is, in light of the multiplier, it
9 is certainly reasonable. I think these are a little more novel
10 in terms of whether we'd ever be able to to recover anything,
11 including our times, as opposed to security litigation --

12 THE COURT: You see a greater risk.

13 MR. MELTZER: There's somewhat of a greater risk in 14 this action. Beyond that, I think -- you know, if you look at 15 the factors, the Third Circuit sets out, I think, given the 16 complexity, and I think your Honor said the risk of not payment
17 all at all, and there was a fairly substantial risk of 18 nonpayment, particularly after that District Court opinion in 19 New Jersey that dismissed the claims, which came down before --
20 before we settled. I think that militates in favor of a 21 slightly higher percentage, especially when you couple that 22 with the fact that it's a smaller aggregate amount, which 23 doesn't require sort of a slide back. They call it a slide
24 back on a mega settlement fund. And there's also fairly --
25 again, I believe very substantial and valuable structural

Colloquy

18

1 relief that is attendant to the settlement, for which we're not
2 seeking any fee at all.

3 THE COURT: All right. And I guess that's to the --
4 to the case contribution payment to the named plaintiffs. I
5 don't see that as much of a problem. How many named plaintiffs 6 do you have?

7 MR. MELTZER: Six.

8 THE COURT: All right. I guess that's all the 9 applications you've got.

10 MR. MELTZER: I believe so.

11 THE COURT: Mr. Francis.

12 MR. FRANCIS: Your Honor, Mr. Eccles has a few brief
13 remarks to make.

14 MR. ECCLES: Thank you, your Honor. And I will be 15 brief.

16 Let me exercise the main points why we think this
17 settlement should be approved. First, it's clearly an arm's
18 length settlement. This was an adversarial process the way
19 it's supposed to be. I say not at all uncivil, but contentious 20 is not a bad word to use. We were litigating this hard and the 21 settlement stopped there. It's also that both Mr. Meltzer's
22 firm and my firm have many other cases that look a little like
23 this, and we've been through this, and have the able to assess 24 what cases are worth, and what cases should go forward. And 25 from a procedural viewpoint, I don't think that's any question

Colloquy

19

1 that all the class procedures and notice were more than 2 adequate to provide notice to the class.

3 From our point of view, and we put this in submission,
4 so I'll be very brief, from the defendant's point of view, we
5 thought we had terrific defenses. And the court defense in a
6 nutshell was the stock market went down, and the Honeywell
7 stock went down with it, and there's nothing extraordinary
8 about that. No fraud, no nothing else. And we cited that one 9 of the other funds, a gross equity fund within these plans the 10 participants could have put their money in, actually it went 11 down more than the Honeywell stock over each of the three big 12 years involved here.

13 And so we thought we had an excellent set of defenses,
14 your Honor. But like most cases, nothing certain, except that 15 they'll be a lot of expenses, I think an additional year of 16 litigation would have been an extremely optimistic viewpoint.
17 There would have been a lot of depositions and a lot more
18 document discovery. And so from our viewpoint, it made sense
19 for both sides to get together and talk, and that's exactly 20 what we did. And reached a settlement, which I think is 21 definitely an arm's length settlement, definitely a fair
22 settlement to the class.

23 The one other point we make, your Honor, is although 24 some of the objectors did focus on the fees, which is not our 25 issue, it's a separate issue from the fairness of the rest of

Colloquy

20

1 the settlement, and I think will effectively get taken care of 2 when the Court approves whatever fee is fair. And unless the 3 Court has questions with that, we ask the settlement be 4 approved.

5 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

6 Anyone else at the counsel table want to speak.

7 MR. MELTZER: Only to point out for the record, and I
8 think Mr. Eccles knows this, to the point where I was 9 contentious, to the extent I say contentious, and it was not 10 well taken on the other side, it was not my intent. It was a
11 hard fight, I should have said.

12 THE COURT: I didn't take it in any invidious sense.
13 Is there a Mr. Smith in the courtroom? I think he filed a 14 notice and wanted to be heard. All right. And there's nobody 15 else who has appeared either in favor of, or in opposition to 16 the settlement.

17 I think it's important or useful at least to resolve
18 the matter at this point, so I'm going to impose upon you to 19 read a rather lengthy opinion into the record. I'll reserve
20 the opportunity to correct any transcript which results from 21 that before it's officially made a part of the record.

22 This action was commenced on March 17th, 2003, when 23 Plaintiff Richard Ramseyer, a participant in the Honeywell
24 Savings and Ownership Plan I, filed a class action complaint
25 asserting claims under the Employee Retirement Income Security

Colloquy

21

1 Act of 1974 (ERISA). The Ramseyer action sought relief for
2 losses to the Honeywell Savings and Ownership Plans I and II,
3 (collectively the "Plan"). On May 8th, 2003, the Ramseyer
4 action was consolidated with Freund v. Honeywell International,
5 Inc., et al., 03-cv-1626 (District of New Jersey), a related
6 action involving similar allegations and claims. The order of 7 consolidation also appointed Shiffren & Borroway, LLP and 8 Trujillo Rodriguez & Richards, LLC as lead and liaison counsel
9 for plaintiffs, respectively. Plaintiffs filed a consolidated
10 complaint for breach of fiduciary duty on July 28th 2003.

11 After extensive investigation, and a motion to dismiss
12 the complaint, a hearing on the motion, class discovery and 13 settlement discussions, the parties arrived at a settlement.
14 Upon motion of the plaintiffs, the Court preliminarily approved
15 the settlement, conditionally certified a settlement class
16 pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, approved a
17 notice plan and scheduled a final fairness hearing. The case
18 is now before the Court for certification of a settlement
19 class, a ruling upon the fairness, reasonableness and adequacy
20 of the settlement, approval of the cash contribution awards for 21 named plaintiffs, and award of attorneys' fees and expenses.
22 Originally plaintiffs moved for final approval of a plan of 23 allocation, but both plaintiffs and defendants have requested
24 this motion be adjourned for a brief period to permit
25 refinement to be made in the plan.

Colloquy

22

1 First, proceedings. The consolidated complaint names
2 the defendants Honeywell, members of the Company's Retirement
3 Plans Committee, members of the Company's Pension Investment
4 Committee, and Michael R. Bonsignore, Chairman and CEO of 5 Honeywell from April 2000, through June, 2001. The 6 consolidated complaint alleges, inter alia,, that defendants
7 breached their fiduciary duties by allowing the Plan to 8 purchase and hold Honeywell common stock at a time when 9 Honeywell stock was an imprudent investment. In particular,
10 plaintiffs allege that the Plan was allowed to accumulate and 11 maintain, through company-encouraged participant investments
12 and company-matching contributions, a large position in 13 Honeywell common stock.

14 According to plaintiffs, such a heavy single-equity
15 investment, in addition to being inherently risky, was 16 particularly imprudent, given the persuasive problems that 17 beset the company stemming from the consummated Allied Signal
18 transaction, and the failed General Electra merger, the 19 ramifications of which defendants were fully aware. Further,
20 plaintiffs allege that Honeywell and certain individual
21 defendants made material misrepresentations through Securities
22 and Exchange Commission filings and other public
23 pronouncements, and withheld pertinent information, that
24 compromised participants' ability to make informed investment
25 decisions. When the company finally disclosed that the Allied

Colloquy

23

1 Signal transaction resulted in expensive operational problems
2 and substantial customer losses, and that the General Electric
3 merger would not be effectuated, the Plan's assets were 4 depleted as the value of the Honeywell stock declined.

5 The consolidated complaint further alleges that
6 defendants are liable under ERISA as a result of their: One,
7 engaging in prohibited transactions involving the Plan's assets
8 with parties-in-interest; two, failing to properly monitor and 9 provide material information to the Pension Investment
10 Committee; three, allowing or abetting fiduciary breaches of 11 their cofiduciaries; and four, failing to avoid or remedy
12 inherent conflicts of interest between their corporate
13 interests and their fiduciary responsibilities to the Plan
14 under ERISA. The consolidated complaints seeks plan-wide
15 relief under Section 409 and 502 of ERISA.

16 Plaintiffs' counsel conducted a thorough investigation
17 into these allegations. They reviewed documents produced by 18 defendants and publicly-available materials related to the 19 company and the Plan. They analyzed specific corporate 20 transactions and interviewed Plan participants. In addition,
21 counsel derived certain information from a securities class
22 action initiated in 2000 in this court and which involved many 23 factual allegations relevant to the claims in this action. In 24 re Honeywell Securities Litigation, No. 00-3605.

25 Defendants vigorously contested the litigation. On

Colloquy

24

1 September 29th, 2003, they filed a motion to dismiss. After
2 extensive briefing, oral argument was heard on January 26,
3 2004, after which there was further briefing.

4 During this period the parties engaged in a extensive
5 litigation concerning class action discovery issues. On 6 January 14th, 2004, Magistrate Judge Wigenton, over plaintiffs'
7 objections, bifurcated class and merits discovery, staying
8 merits discovery pending resolution of plaintiffs' motion for 9 class certification.

10 Also during this period the parties to the parallel
11 Securities Class Action settled. It was necessary for 12 plaintiffs' counsel in the instant case to ensure that the 13 settlement in that action and its release of claims did not
14 affect plaintiffs' ability to pursue relief in this case.

15 Beginning in the spring in 2004, the parties commenced
16 settlement negotiations and exchanged information relevant to 17 that subject, such as performance of Plan investments during 18 the relevant period, insurance available to satisfy any 19 possible judgment, including documents evidencing denial of 20 coverage under the fiduciary insurance policy, settlement in 21 analogous cases, the precise number of Honeywell shares held by 22 the Plan, and demographic information for participants as a
23 means of measuring the impact of proposed structural changes to 24 the Plan.

25 The parties requested the Court to refrain from

Colloquy

25

1 issuing its ruling on defendants motion to dismiss while
2 settlement negotiations were ongoing. In early September 2004,
3 the parties reached an impasse. Notified of this development,
4 the Court on September 16, 2004, issued its opinion and order
5 granting the motion to dismiss with respect to plaintiffs'
6 prohibited transaction claims and claims for monetary relief
7 under ERISA, Section 502(a)(3) and denying the motion in all
8 other respects. In re Honeywell International ERISA
9 litigation, 2004, U.S. District, LEXIS 21585, (District of New 10 Jersey, 2004).

11 Upon issuance of the court's opinion, the parties
12 resumed class certification discovery and resumed settlement
13 negotiations. Ultimately agreement was reached, resulting in 14 the agreement now before the Court for approval. Two, the 15 proposed settlement.

16 The settlement agreement provides the defendants shall 17 pay $14 million into an interest-bearing escrow account, (the 18 "Settlement Fund"). The principal (less amounts expended for 19 certain approved costs) will accrue interest between 20 preliminary approval and distribution. The net amount of the 21 settlement funds, including interest, and after payment of, and 22 establishment of reserves for, any taxes and Court-approved
23 costs, fees and expenses (including and Court-approved 24 compensation to be paid the named plaintiffs), will be paid to 25 the Plan. After payment of implementation expenses, the

Colloquy

26

1 remaining amount will be allocated to the Plan accounts of 2 members of the settlement class according to a Plan of 3 allocation to be approved by the Court.

4 In addition, the settlement agreement provides for 5 certain structural changes in the Plan. The operative
6 documents of each Plan will be amended to state that each Plan
7 participant who is or has become one hundred percent vested in 8 his or her Company Matching Contribution Account shall have the 9 right to direct the investment of his or her Company Matching
10 Contribution Account balance in the same manner and among the 11 same investment alternatives as are available for the 12 investment of employee contributions to the respective plans.
13 This provides participants with the ability to diversify rather 14 than being required to remain invested in Honeywell stock.
15 Plaintiffs retained Professor Krishna Ramaswamy of the Wharton
16 School at the University of Pennsylvania to analyze the 17 structural term of the settlement and estimate the value to the 18 Plan and its participants of the unlocking of Company matching
19 contributions, past and future. The expert provided a detailed 20 report of his analysis and estimated that allowing the Plan's
21 participants to diversify company-matching contributions
22 previously "locked" into Honeywell stock would provide a 23 benefit of between $34.1 million to $211.4 million, depending 24 primarily on the percentage of the Plan's Honeywell equity
25 investments originating from company-matching contributions.

Colloquy

27

1 The notice to Plan participants advised that class
2 counsel would file a motion for payment of attorneys' fees of 3 up to 30 percent of the settlement fund, plus expenses of 4 litigation, notice and settlement administration, and case
5 contribution awards for the named plaintiffs.

6 Three, class certification. Plaintiffs urge
7 certification of the following class for settlement purpose.
8 "Any person who was a participant in the Honeywell Savings and 9 Ownership Plan I and II and/or the predecessor Plan named the 10 Data Instruments, Inc. Employee Stock Ownership Plan, the 11 Honeywell DMC Savings Plan, and the Honeywell Savings and Stock
12 Ownership Plan (collectively the "Plan" or "Plan,") at any time
13 between December 20, 1999 and February 28, 2005 (the "class 14 period") and whose Plan accounts included investments in the 15 Honeywell Common Stock Fund, or a beneficiary, alternate payee
16 representative, or successor-in-interest of any such person
17 (the "settlement class")."

18 Rule 23(a) sets forth four prerequisites to class
19 certification: One, numerosity; two, commonality; three,
20 typicality; and four, adequacy of representation. Each of 21 these requirements is met.

22 The class is sufficiently numerous because the number
23 and diverse location of putative class members is such that it
24 is impractical to join all of the class members in one action.
25 There are more than 100,000 potential class members, which

Colloquy

28

1 clearly satisfies the numerosity requirement.

2 There is commonality when the proposed class
3 representatives share at least one question of law or fact with 4 the claims of the prospective class. In the present case, the 5 principal question of law and fact applicable to all
6 participants is whether the defendant breached fiduciary duties
7 owed to the Plan and its participants in allowing the 8 maintenance of existing, and addition of new, heavy investments
9 in Honeywell common stock when defendants knew or should have 10 known of its operational problems and accounting irregularities
11 which negatively affected the prudence of Honeywell stock as an 12 investment of the Plan during the class period. It is 13 unnecessary to catalogue the several other common questions of 14 law and fact that exist as to all members of the class and 15 predominant over any questions affecting solely individual
16 class members.

17 The proposed class representatives' claims arise from 18 the same event or course of conduct that gives rise to the 19 claims of the other class members and are based on the same
20 legal theories. Class plaintiffs share the incentives of the 21 absent class members to pursue this action to its conclusion.
22 Typicality can be met in class actions brought for breaches of 23 fiduciary duty under ERISA and is met here. In re Ikon Office
24 Solutions, Inc., 191 Federal Rule of Decisions, 457, 465
25 Eastern District of Pennsylvania, 2002). Each class member was

Colloquy

29

1 an employee of Honeywell, a participant in the Plan during the
2 class period, and had part of his or her individual Plan
3 investment portfolio invested in Honeywell stock during that 4 time. All Plan participants sustained injury arising out of 5 defendants' alleged wrongful conduct and plaintiffs bring their 6 claims pursuant to ERISA Sections 409 and 502(a)(2) for 7 Plan-wide relief; so any relief obtained for such claims would 8 enure to the Plan as a whole and, derivatively, its 9 participants during the class period.

10 The class representatives meet the adequacy
11 requirement of Rule 24(a)(4). They have represented and will 12 represent the members of the class so as to fairly and 13 adequately protect the interest of the class. The named 14 plaintiffs have no interest antagonistic to the class and are 15 in the same position as all all other members. Class counsel, 16 Schiffren & Barroway, LLP has had extensive experience in 17 litigating complex ERISA breach of fiduciary duty class
18 actions.

19 While it is necessary for class certification to 20 qualify under only one of the requirements of Rule 23(b),
21 plaintiffs in the instant case qualify under all three.

22 They qualify under Rule 23(b)(1)(a) and (B). The 23 relief to be accorded is Plan-wide. Failure to certify could 24 expose defendants to multiple lawsuits and risk inconsistent
25 decisions. Failure to certify would create the risk that

Colloquy

30

1 future plaintiffs would be without relief. Rankin v. Rots, 220
2 Federal Rule of Decisions 511, 523 (Eastern District of 3 Michigan,), Ikon 191 F.R.D. at 466.

4 Although the proposed class meets the requirements of 5 Rule 23(b)(2), and Rule 23(b)(3), no further discussion is 6 warranted, as the Court will rely on Rule 23(b)(1) alone.

7 In sum, the action will be certified as a class action
8 under Rule 23(a) and (b) on behalf of the plaintiffs' proposed
9 class.

10 Four, Objections to Settlement. Eighteen persons have 11 lodged specific objections to the settlement terms and/or to 12 plaintiffs' request for attorneys' fees and expenses, and case
13 contribution awards for the named plaintiffs. One person, Mr.
14 Steven K. Smith, wished to be heard at the hearing to express
15 his objections. He did not appear at the hearing. These 18
16 objectors represent .016 percent of the more than one hundred 17 and fifteen thousand settlement class members to whom 18 individual notice of the settlement was sent. The Court has 19 read and considered each objection with care.

20 A few are from persons who object to this class action
21 proceedings per se, either because they do not believe in class
22 actions as a matter of principle, or because the concept of 23 awarding substantial attorneys' fees to attorneys who take on 24 class action cases offends them, or because they believe 25 Honeywell voluntarily turned over shares of its stock to the

Colloquy

31

1 Plan, and employees who benefited from these contributions
2 should not sue their benefactor Honeywell. While these views
3 are entitled to respectful consideration, they have in effect
4 been rejected when the Court did not grant defendants' motion
5 to dismiss and proceeded with the case. They cannot be 6 advanced again at this time.

7 There are objections either to the settlement or to 8 the payment of attorneys fees. The objections must be treated 9 with utmost sympathy, because they are submitted by persons who 10 believe that they have been grievously injured by the conduct 11 of the defendants as charged in the complaint. Some are by 12 employees who had worked loyally for the company for many years
13 and had counted on their interests in the Plan to provide 14 comfortable old age, an expectation that in some cases has not 15 been fulfilled. A few others assert that they had been close
16 to the management of the Plan and had expressed doubts about 17 the way they were being handled during the class period,
18 warnings that had been ignored.

19 The objections generally address three aspects of the 20 settlement. A number of them attack the adequacy of the 21 settlement award, others challenge the 30 percent potential
22 attorneys' fee request; a few challenge payment of a cash
23 contribution award to the named plaintiffs. In their 24 submissions, plaintiffs have discussed each objector's
25 contentions, explaining why they believe they are not a basis

Colloquy

32

1 for rejection of the proposed settlement. Each of these 2 objections will be addressed generally in the context of the 3 discussions of these subjects in the sections of the opinion
4 that follow.

5 Five, Fairness, Reasonableness and Adequacy. The 6 fairness reasonableness and the adequacy of the settlement
7 agreement is supported by the prevailing circumstances.
8 Settlement of disputed claims, especially those advanced in 9 complex class action litigation, are favored by the courts.
10 The Court of Appeals affords an initial procedural presumption
11 of fairness of a settlement if adequate notice was given to 12 affected members of the proposed settlement class and "if the 13 Court finds that (1) the negotiations occurred at arm's length;
14 (2) there was sufficient discovery; (3) the proponents of the 15 settlement are experienced in similar litigation; and (4) only 16 a small fraction of the class objected."

17 In re Cendant Corporation Litigation, 264 F. 3d 201, 18 223, Note 18 (3rd Circuit 2001). As described above, each of 19 these four factors was fully met in this case.

20 Beyond these procedural criteria, courts in this
21 Circuit apply the nine-factor test enumerated in Girsh v.
22 Jepson, 521 F. 2d 153, 157 (3rd Circuit 1975). Applying these 23 factors, the Court concludes that the settlement for $14
24 million in cash, plus significant structural changes in the 25 Plan, is fair, reasonable and adequate.

Colloquy

33

1 A. Complexity, expense and likely duration. All
2 defendants have denied wrongdoing and liability. They 3 vigorously through able counsel, defended the action up to the 4 point of settlement and would no doubt continue to do so,
5 absent a settlement, defending through continued class action
6 and merits discovery, class certification, objections, trial,
7 and, if unsuccessful at trial, on appeal. This action is 8 complex and raises novel issues in the ERISA context, issues
9 that have not been decided definitively by the Supreme Court
10 and Courts of Appeals. If successful, plaintiffs' ultimate 11 recovery would be delayed for years during which enormous
12 attorneys' fees and expenses would be incurred. Settlement
13 ensures prompt payment and enjoyment of the restructured
14 provisions of the Plan.

15 B. Reaction of the Class to the Settlement. As noted 16 above, only .016 percent of the more than one hundred fifteen
17 thousand class members submitted objections to the settlement
18 agreement, which reinforces the fairness and adequacy of its 19 provisions.

20 C. Stage of Proceedings and Discovery. The extensive
21 investigation of the circumstances of this case was described
22 above. It is apparent the plaintiffs' counsel had full 23 information relating to the merits of the case and were in a 24 position to negotiate and evaluate the terms of the settlement.

25 D. Risk of Establishing Liability and Damages.

Colloquy

34

1 Plaintiffs' counsel who have thoroughly familiarized themselves
2 with the facts of this case and the applicable law have 3 concluded that the terms of the settlement represent an 4 appropriate balance of the amount that might ultimately be 5 recovered if successful and the risks of not recovering at all.
6 There are novel and complex issues, some of which the Court
7 recognized when it addressed defendants' motion to dismiss.
8 ERISA law is in the process of development. In re Xcel Energy,
9 Inc. Securities, Derivative & ERISA Litigation, 364 F. Supp.
10 2d, 980, (District of Minnesota, 2005). In re Global Crossing
11 Securities and ERISA litigation, 225 F.R.D., 436, 459 Note 13
12 (Southern District of New York 2004). Computing damages raises
13 distinct problems. Unlike securities law claims, ERISA
14 provides relief for the imprudent purchase and holding of stock
15 by a Plan during the class period. In re Ikon Office 16 Solutions, Inc., 191 F.R.D. 457, 464 (Eastern District of 17 Pennsylvania, 2000), but there is little law explaining the 18 basic principle's application to the type of defined
19 contribution Plan at issue here. Damages calculations in ERISA
20 cases such as this one require a sophisticated computer model
21 of the Plan involved and require consideration of a number of 22 complex interrelated factors. The legal and factual
23 complexities and uncertainties of calculating and proving ERISA
24 damages point strongly towards approving the settlement.

25 E. Risk of Maintaining Class Action Through Trial.

Colloquy

35

1 There is always a risk that class action status might not be
2 maintained through trial. If it could not be maintained, the 3 value of the action would decline precipitously. The Court
4 does not consider this to be a very serious risk and by itself
5 it would not be a compelling reason to approve a settlement.

6 F. Ability of Defendants to Withstand a Greater
7 Judgment. Undoubtedly Honeywell could withstand a greater 8 judgment, but the other factors weigh sufficiently in favor of 9 approving the settlement. The risks entailed in seeking a 10 larger recovery through trial militate against rejecting the 11 opportunity to receive prompt payment of a lesser sum.

12 G. Reasonableness of the Settlement Fund. One of the 13 principal grounds of those who filed objections is that the 14 case is being settled for an inadequate amount, specifically 15 that plaintiffs should hold out for more than $14 million in 16 cash and the changes in the Plan that will allow for greater 17 diversification among the participant accounts. This is "in 18 plaintiffs' counsel's estimation, an outstanding result."
19 Considering the skill and extensive experience of counsel and 20 the vigor with which this case has been pursued; this 21 estimation is entitled to considerable deference.

22 The persons who object to the settlement are well
23 aware of the losses incurred and the hurt that the losses have 24 caused to Plan participants. They cannot be expected to be 25 aware of the legal uncertainties in computing damages for

Colloquy

36

1 recovery purposes and of the legal hurdles to be faced to
2 secure any recovery at all. One objector urged that plaintiffs
3 should have calculated how many additional shares of Honeywell
4 stock the Plan should have been able to purchase if the 5 company's equity was not inflated in the settlement class
6 period and compare that to what the Plan held at the end of 7 that period as an approach to estimating damages. It is 8 relevant to note that the decline in value of the Honeywell
9 Common Stock Fund was less in each of the three years of the 10 2000 through 2002 bear market than the decline in value of a 11 diversified stock fund that was also an investment option under 12 the Plan.

13 One objector noted that the Plan held about 10 percent
14 of Honeywell's outstanding shares. Of significance, $14
15 million represents 14 percent of the monetary settlement
16 reached in the related securities case which this Court
17 approved some months ago. Further, the $14 million represents 18 93 percent of the company's fiduciary liability policy, an 19 obligation which the insurance company originally disclaimed.
20 Although no precise value could be placed upon the negotiated
21 structural relief, the opinion of Professor Ramaswamy
22 establishes that it is substantial, far more than the $14
23 million cash payment.

24 Weighing the various factors, the Court concludes that 25 the settlement is fair, reasonable and adequate.

Colloquy

37

1 Six, attorneys' Fees and Expenses. Plaintiffs'
2 attorneys seek fees in the amount of 25 percent of the total
3 recovery and out-of-pocket expenses of $43,887.09 incurred
4 since this lawsuit began. Several of the objectors filed
5 objections to the maximum amount of 30 percent that the class
6 Notice advised might be requested, but the Court will assume 7 that the objections would be advanced to the 25 percent
8 request. One objector contended simply that the case does not 9 require extensive legal work or a complicated determination.
10 Another would limit fees to what real estate brokers typically 11 earn, namely 6 percent. Others objected on principle to fees
12 being paid to attorneys who appear in class actions. Some 13 simply objected to 30 percent as being too high a percentage.

14 It is understandable that lay persons cannot 15 appreciate both the amount of work and the risk of receiving no
16 fee that enter into representation in a class action case. In 17 the present case, the work which the attorneys performed is 18 described above. In accomplishing this work, the three law
19 firms representing plaintiffs devoted 2223.6 hours of attorney
20 and paralegal time (Schiffrin & Barroway LLP - 2212.6 hours;
21 Brodsky & Smith, LLC - 28.3 hours; Trujillo Rodriguez &
22 Richards, LLC - 82.70 hours).

23 It is universally recognized in the courts that
24 attorneys who generate a fund of recovery for the benefit of a
25 class should be fairly compensated. Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert

Colloquy

38

1 444 U.S. 472, 478 (1980). Application of a portion of the 2 collected funds to the payment of attorneys' fees spreads the 3 payment proportionately among those who benefited from the 4 suit. It encourages attorneys to undertake these kinds of 5 difficult cases.

6 The Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit as well as 7 the courts of many other circuits have expressed a preference
8 for awarding attorneys' fees from a common fund pursuant to the 9 percentage of the fund method of calculation. In re Prudential
10 Insurance Company Am. Sales Practices Litigation Agent Actions, 11 148 F. 3d 288, 333, (3rd Circuit 1998). This method is an 12 alternative to the lodestar method in which a fee is computed
13 by multiplying the reasonable number of hours the attorneys
14 expended on the case by the rates charged by comparable
15 attorneys in the area in which the services were rendered. To 16 arrive at the ultimate fee, this lodestar figure is usually 17 multiplied by a factor to reflect the degree of success, the 18 risk of nonpayment the attorneys faced and perhaps the delay in 19 payment that they encountered. But, as noted, the preference
20 is for computing the award on the basis of a percentage of 21 recovery, perhaps checking the result against a lodestar
22 computation to ensure that it is not grievously out of line.

23 The amount of the percentage varies case to case, 15
24 percent, 20 percent, 25 percent, 30 percent, 33 1/3 percent, 38
25 percent having been awarded. Thirty percent or 33 1/3 percent

Colloquy

39

1 is quite common. The Court has reviewed the various factors
2 that govern the determination of an appropriate percentage and
3 concludes that the requested 25 percent of the class recovery
4 is reasonable, particularly in light of the fact that the value
5 of the structural changes in the Plan is not included in the 6 amount to which the percentage is applied. Gunter v. Ridgewood
7 Energy Corporation, 223 F. 3d 195 (3rd Circuit 2000).

8 The proposed settlement appears to be favorable to the 9 class, conferring the immediate benefit of $14 million plus
10 accrued interest less attorneys' fees and expenses and the 11 named plaintiffs case contributions. In addition, in the 12 future each Plan participant who is or has become 100 percent
13 vested in his or her Company Matching Contribution Account
14 shall have the right to direct the investment of his or her
15 Company Matching Contribution Account balance in the same
16 manner and among the same investment alternatives as are 17 available for the investment of employee contributions.

18 As described above, very few members of the class
19 voiced objections to attorneys' fees with an upper limit of 30
20 percent. Eighteen out of the 115,000 to whom notices were sent 21 filed objections, and not all of the objections were to 22 attorney's fees. Understandably these few objectors were 23 unaware of the principles that the courts have developed over
24 the years for awarding attorneys' fees. The Court recognizes
25 that very few class members are likely to analyze the notices

Colloquy

40

1 which are sent to them. Despite every effort to make them
2 readily understandable to lay people, they cannot help but be
3 technical in nature, lengthy and complex. The vast majority of 4 class members rely upon the good faith of the class
5 representatives and their attorneys and upon the oversight role
6 of the Court. Thus in the case where the class members do not 7 include institutional investors an absence of a large number of 8 objections to the Plan itself and to the requested attorney's
9 fees is of limited significance. However, in the present case
10 where the few objections filed did not raise substantial 11 grounds to reject the requested attorney's fees, the absence of 12 a significant number of objections and the lack of merit of the 13 few objections that were filed are factors pointing towards 14 approving the fee application.

15 Plaintiffs' counsel undoubtedly possess great skill
16 and experience in this kind of case and have exhibited that 17 experience during the course of these proceedings.

18 Unlike the typical securities fraud case, a field in 19 which the law has well developed during the prior decades,
20 ERISA class actions are a relatively new phenomenon, presenting 21 complex issues as the courts deal with the complicated ERISA
22 statute. Faced with this statute, counsel had to engage in 23 extensive factual explorations and address legal problems both 24 in the context of seeking class certification and during the 25 course of the motion to dismiss. In this context both the

Colloquy

41

1 merits and class litigation, and the settlement negotiations
2 were conducted with experienced lawyers and powerful law firms
3 on the opposing side. The Ramseyer lawsuit was commenced on 4 March 17, 2003, and was consolidated on May 8, 2003. The 5 consolidated complaint was filed on July 28, 2003. Intense
6 investigative and litigation activity, described above,
7 proceeded thereafter and continued until October, 2004 when a
8 settlement was agreed upon. Had the case proceeded to 9 additional class action and merits discovery its duration would 10 have been greater, but one of the objections of the percentage
11 of recovery method of computing attorneys' fees is to encourage 12 early resolution of cases and to bring to an end continued
13 litigation that would generate extensive efforts and increasing
14 attorneys' fees.

15 The risk of not succeeding on the merits (which would 16 result in no recovery by the class members and, of course, no
17 attorneys' fees) was far greater in this case than in a typical 18 securities fraud case. Apart from the usual difficulties in 19 developing the factual predicates underlying the legal theory
20 on the basis of which recovery is sought, in this, an ERISA
21 case, the legal theories themselves are still subject to 22 challenge. In particular, the application of long-standing
23 fiduciary principles in the ERISA context has yet to be 24 authoritatively developed. As the Court stated in In re Global 25 Securities and ERISA Litigation 225 F.R.D 436, 456 (Southern

Colloquy

42

1 District of New York, 2004).

2 "The ERISA cases would pose additional factual and 3 legal issues. Fiduciary status, the scope of fiduciary
4 responsibility, the appropriate fiduciary response to the 5 Plan's concentration in company stock and defendant's business
6 practice could be issues for proof, and numerous legal issues
7 concerning fiduciary liability in connection with company stock
8 in 401(k) Plan remained unresolved. These uncertainties would 9 substantially increase the ERISA cases' complexity, duration,
10 and expense - and thus militate in favor of settlement
11 approval."

12 The legal and factual contentions of the class members
13 would be challenged vigorously by defendants' able counsel.
14 The risks inherent in this case support approval of the 15 settlement and approval of the attorneys' fees application.

16 Class counsel have described the work they have
17 performed and the hours expended performing that work -
18 specifically 2223.6 hours - see the foregoing sections of this
19 opinion. They will have to continue expending time finalizing 20 the settlement, overseeing claims administration and dealing 21 with any appellate issues, should they arise. Without 22 consideration of the additional legal work that will have to be 23 performed the lodestar in this case is $937,160, and the 24 requested fee represents a multiplier of 3.8. In fund in court
25 cases multipliers have ranged from 1.7 to 2.66 to 3.15 to 6 and

Colloquy

43

1 even higher. Prompt resolution of a case is often reflected in
2 a higher multiplier, rewarding prompt recovery for the members
3 of the class and discouraging unnecessary protracted
4 litigation. If I were to compute the lodestar in this case for
5 the purpose of actually computing the fee, I might have arrived
6 at a somewhat lesser figure, finding that the rates the
7 attorneys project to be somewhat high. However, I might well
8 apply a somewhat higher multiplier, and the end result would be
9 substantially the same.

10 Considering all these factors, I find that the 11 attorneys' fees being requested are reasonable and they will be 12 allowed. No objection has been raised to reimbursement of the 13 attorneys' expenses totaling at least $43,887.09 as of the date
14 of this application. They appear to have been reasonably
15 incurred and will be allowed.

16 Seven, Named Plaintiffs' Case Contribution Awards.
17 Class counsel seek approval of case contribution awards to the 18 named plaintiffs in the amount of $2500 each. A few class
19 members objected to the payment of these sums. However, the 20 persons who agreed to be named as class plaintiffs undertook
21 responsibilities in connection with the litigation. They had
22 to provide information and subjected themselves to depositions
23 to a greater degree than the other members of the class.
24 Courts frequently allow modest compensation for the role on the 25 occasion of the settlement of a class action. The modest

Colloquy

43

1 cases multipliers have ranged from 1.7 to 2.66 to 3.15 to 6 and
2 even higher. Prompt resolution of a case is often reflected in
3 a higher multiplier, rewarding prompt recovery for the members
4 of the class and discouraging unnecessary protracted
5 litigation. If I were to compute the lodestar in this case for
6 the purpose of actually computing the fee, I might have arrived
7 at a somewhat lesser figure, finding that the rates the
8 attorneys project to be somewhat high. However, I might well
9 apply a somewhat higher multiplier, and the end result would be
10 substantially the same.

11 Considering all these factors, I find that the 12 attorneys' fees being requested are reasonable and they well be 13 allowed. No objection has been raised to reimbursement of the 14 attorneys' expenses totaling at least $43,887.09 as of the date
15 of this application. They appear to have been reasonably
16 occurred and will be allowed.

17 Seven, Named Plaintiffs' Case Contribution Awards.
18 Class counsel seek approval of case contribution awards to the 19 name plaintiffs in the amount of $2500 each. A few class
20 members objected to the payment of these sums. However, the 21 persons who agreed to be named as class plaintiffs undertook
22 responsibilities in connection with the litigation. They had
23 to provide information and subjected themselves to depositions
24 to a greater degree than the other members of the class.
25 Courts frequently allow modest compensation for the role on the

Colloquy

44

1 occasion of the settlement of a class action. The modest
2 amounts suggested for this purpose are reasonable and will be 3 allowed.

4 Eight, Plan of Allocation. A ruling on a plan of 5 allocation will be deferred for a brief period.

6 Nine, Conclusion. For the reasons set forth above, an 7 order will be entered: One, certifying the class; two,
8 approving the settlement as fair, reasonable and adequate;
9 three, approving class plaintiffs' attorneys' petition for 10 payment of attorneys' fees and reimbursement of expenses; and 11 four, approving the requested payment of a case contribution
12 award for the the named plaintiffs.

13 Now, I have one problem here, what is the amount of 14 the expenses which are being requested for reimbursement? I
15 have two figures, one would seem rather enormous, four hundred
16 thousand dollars, which I don't think is correct.

17 MR. MELTZER: No, your Honor. Forty-three thousand, 18 eight hundred and eighty-seven dollars and nine cents.

19 THE COURT: All right. I must have had a typo here.
20 That will be contradicted, and the figure which I now have will 21 be inserted. Forty-three thousand, eight hundred and 22 eighty-seven dollars and nine cents.

23 MR. MELTZER: Correct.

24 THE COURT: All right. That figure will be 25 substituted for the four hundred odd thousand, which I stated

Colloquy

45

1 previously.

2 THE COURT: We have orders and what not to be signed.

3 MR. ECCLES: Your Honor, assuming that the parties
4 reach agreement on the allocation, is it agreeable to file
5 consent orders rather than file a formal motion for approval?

6 THE COURT: I went over the plan of allocation as 7 submitted, I saw nothing wrong with it. Does anyone have any 8 comments on the plan, which I assume is a subject of what will 9 be coming next?

10 MR. ECCLES: I think there are some expenses that were 11 not considered at our end that need to be plugged in there.
12 That's the only --

13 THE COURT: They seem to be fairly trivial. Well,
14 maybe not to you.

15 MR. ECCLES: Well --

16 THE COURT: Maybe not to you.

17 MR. ECCLES: It's not going to change drastically.

18 THE COURT: Do we need a separate hearing?

19 MR. ECCLES: I don't think we need a separate hearing.

20 THE COURT: Could we just submit a consent order?

21 MR. ECCLES: Yes, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: I'll look at it and see if there's any 23 other changes in my mind. I doubt that they would, what you
24 hve given me.

25 MS. RODRIGUEZ: They're the proposed orders, both with

Colloquy

46

1 regard to the settlement and the attorneys' fees.

2 THE COURT: All right. WeLL, let me see what you have
3 here.

4 In the first paragraph, I'm going to add: For the 5 reasons stated in the bench opinion. I'm going to add that 6 after duly reached.

M

William J. Dealy, Esq. is the founding partner of Dealy & Silberstein, LLP, formerly, Dealy & Trachtman, LLP.

Dealy & Silberstein, LLP is a boutique law firm that handles labor relations, employment law and legal issues concerning multi-employer benefit funds and ERISA. The firm has been involved in complex litigations in state and federal court concerning labor relations and employee benefit fund issues. William J. Dealy, Esq. was previously a partner in the firm of Manning, Raab, Dealy & Sturm, which was a union side labor relations firm in New York City that, at one point, represented numerous unions in New York City, including Local 32BJ, Local 74, Local 2, Local 54, SEIU International, Local 531, the District Council of Carpenters, Local 608 and a wide variety of other union side clients. Also that firm represented a number of health & welfare, pension and annuity funds.

Some of the relevant litigations that Mr. Dealy and Mr. Silberstein have been directly involved in are as follows:

1) Equal Employment Opportunity Commission v. Bloomberg, LP - Case No. 07 CV 08383 - this is a major Title VII case, which has been brought by the EEOC and is currently pending in the Southern District of New York before Judge Loretta Preska. The case involves claims by our firm's clients that they were subjected to pregnancy discrimination at Bloomberg. The EEOC found probable cause that our clients were discriminated against, and filed this case on behalf of our clients and on behalf of a class similarly situated female executives against Bloomberg in September 2007. Our firm's motion to intervene into the case was granted by Judge Preska in October 2007.

2) Oak Beverages, Inc. v. Tomra, et al. - Case No. 99 Civ. 3102 - this was a RICO case before Judge Colleen McMahon in the Southern District of New York. Mr. Dealy represented three members of the Empire State Beer Distributors Association, which is also a client of the firm. The case was dismissed based upon our firm's motion to dismiss brought together with a large number of other defendants.

3) Ericson, et al. v. Syracuse University, et al. - Case No. 98 CV. - 03435 - this was a major Title IX case before Judge Jed Rakoff in the Southern District of New York that was settled with a Confidential Settlement Agreement on the eve of trial.

4) Amsterdam Tobacco, et al. v. Philip Morris - Case No. 98 CV 03934 - this was a case against Philip Morris concerning the sale of cigarettes in southern states that were being illegally transported to the state of New York without the proper tax stamps which was causing competitive problems for the cigarette tax dealers in New York State.

5) Selas Enterprises, Ltd. v. Local 813, International Brotherhood, et al. - Case No. 97 CV 07448 - this was a Boys' Markets Injunction case in the Eastern District of New York which Judge Platt issued the injunction on behalf of the firm's client, Selas Enterprises, Ltd.

6) Sage Realty Corporation v. ISS Cleaning Services Group, Inc., et al. - Case No. 96 CV 0581 - this was a major anti-trust case brought against companies in the real estate business in New York City by a realty company and Local 32B-32J concerning alleged anti-competitive practices by the real estate companies during a strike by the service employees against the commercial building owners in New York City. Mr. Dealy represented Local 32B-32J, SEIU, AFL-CIO in that case.

7) Associated Brick Mason Contractors, et al. v. Local Union No. 1 - Case No. 96 CV 03275 - this is a Boys' Market Injunction case brought in the Eastern District of New York before Judge Platt and Magistrate Boyle in which Mr. Dealy represented the Associated Brick Mason Contractors of Greater New York, Inc. The Boys' Markets Injunction was granted by Judge Platt after a fact finding hearing and recommendation by Magistrate Boyle.

8) Biofeedtrac, Inc. v. Kolinor Optical, et al. - Case No. 90-CV-01169 - this was a RICO case against a foreign corporation before Judge Nickerson in the Eastern District of New York in which Mr. Dealy represented the Plaintiff and the case was settled after Plaintiff prevailed on very significant jurisdictional issues.

9) Galbreath Ruffin v. Local 32BJ Pension Fund - This was one of the earliest cases involving an interpretation of MPPAA by Judge John Sprizzo.

Mr. Dealy has also advised a number of clients on substantial assets purchase agreements and the issues concerning multi-employer withdrawal liability related to those transactions. Additionally, Mr. Dealy has handled mergers of multi-employer Taft Hartley Pension, Health & Welfare Funds.
